NEW TERROR GRIPS REDS

Dumping Protest Creates Panic

Russian Slaughter of Men of Brains Spreading Horror in Baltics

Orgies of Blood Believed Effort to Bolster Soviet Machine

[Copyright, 1930, by Chicago Tribune.]

RIGA, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—The world-wide wave of indignation against the soviet dumping abroad of food products and other articles desperately required by the starving Russians at home has caused a curious backfire in Russia, where a fresh wave of terror is causing a panic.

The official newspaper of the Communist party, the Moscow Pravda, openly admits that the soviet government is dumping goods abroad, and threatens its ally, Germany, with severe reprisals should Berlin join with the enemies of Moscow and act against the Russian exports.

HUNDREDS ARRESTED

But the same paper, with the remainder of the soviet press, continues to publish lists of persons executed without trial on charges of sabotaging food deliveries to the hungry population of cities and industrial centers. The Communists assert there is plenty of food in Russia, but that traitors in the pay of foreign capitalist groups, and their governments, are preventing its delivery to the consumers.

This fantastic prevarication to hoodwink the Russians is being substantiated by the Ogpu, or secret political police, which is arresting hundreds among the group of workers which the soviet government cannot afford to lose. This is the class of so-called specialists, who have been compelled to accept employment in various government enterprises, but who are not permitted to have any authority. The authority is held by untrained, often uneducated Reds, who sit beside them in their offices issuing orders and directing the work.

When the production of the factories decreases, when shipments of food spoil en route, or when ambitious plans such as the failure to net all the fish spawning in the Volga River, or the five-year plan to industrialize Russia fail to materialize, then the Communist executive passes the buck to the luckless specialist.

SPECIALISTS FORFEIT LIVES

The specialists for four years have been paying with their lives for the mistakes of their Red coworkers. Meanwhile the class of educated Russians upon whom the dictatorship depends to keep the enormous, complicated Red machine functioning is growing fewer in numbers yearly, and the soviet educational system is failing to produce new brains for replacement.

The recent execution of forty-eight specialists, all of whom were

New York Inquiry May Broaden

Grand Jury Asks Power to Investigate All City Appointments

Mayor Walker to Threaten Discharge of Officials Who Stay Mum

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) The investigation of scandals in this city's government was headed tonight toward an all-embracing inquiry into every department of its municipal machinery and a harassed Tammany tiger was searching frantically for cover.

The grand jury investigating the barter of judicial offices sent a secret message to Gov. Roosevelt at the Democratic State convention at Syracuse demanding permission to broaden its inquiry so that all city appointments might be sifted.

Meanwhile the Tammany Hall chiefs, who took their cue from John F. Curry and were "insulted" when they were asked to waive immunity and testify before the grand jury Gov. Roosevelt appointed to look into the matter of corruption in the magistrates' courts, are facing removal from the comfortable, affluent city pay roll unless they waive immunity.

WALKER TO THREATEN

Mayor Walker, at the request of Gov. Roosevelt, who is in a hot spot right now with a campaign for reelection just ahead, and the Republicans dumping all Tammany's misdeeds at his feet, will call the leaders one by one and tell them to answer questions or quit. Mayor Walker, it was revealed, would like to begin his roll call right now but he will have to wait until the leaders—among them Mr. Curry, the big boss—return from the Democratic pow-wow at Syracuse.

Mayor Walker this afternoon refused to be quoted directly on his plan to make the Tammany chiefs talk, but he made it plain that Gov. Roosevelt's wishes would be carried out. It is not at all certain, however, that the grand jury desires to take time to question all of the leaders. There are many Tammany chiefs and those who have talked so far have not been very helpful.

Opinion here is that Gov. Roosevelt immediately will order the grand jury's power broadened to permit a general investigation. A hint that the Governor may do otherwise, however, is contained in his letter to Justice McCook concerning an anonymous charge of office buying in the Bronx. The Governor administered a rebuke to Special Prosecutor Todd of the Attorney-General's office, whom he accused of giving out the report as "an obvious scheme to embarrass me," indicating a political plot. The Attorney-General and most of his aides are Republicans.

The basis of the proposed sweeping investigation was the ruling to-

BROMLEY PLANNING NEW HOP

Plane Taken to Tokio for Overhaul as Flyers Hint Pacific Flight in October

TOKIO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Lieut. Harold L. Bromley and his navigator, Harold Gatty, flew their plane City of Tacoma from Shamishiro to Tachikawa Air Field, near here, early today and announced they are preparing for another attempt to fly across the Pacific before the middle of October, weather permitting.

The plane will be thoroughly overhauled and a new exhaust collector ring installed, replacing the defective part which caused them to turn back the 13th inst., after having flown 1200 miles eastward over the Pacific in an attempted nonstop flight to Tacoma, Wash.

A study of weather history over the North Pacific will determine whether they will make another start. If conditions are deemed favorable they will fly back to Shamishiro for the take-off, and will follow a more southerly course than before, in order to avoid, if possible, the formation of ice on the wings.

Action Delayed Against Spanish Rebel Leaders

MADRID, Sept. 29. (AP)—Minister of the Interior Arzo today said he will await a report from the prosecuting attorney before taking action against the leaders of the 20,000 persons who last night held a mass meeting in furtherance of their crusade for a Spanish republic.

"I have had no opportunity thus far to study fully the speeches delivered," the Minister said today. "I cannot give an official opinion now as to what action will be taken."

Fiery denunciations of the monarchy were a feature of the meeting.

HARKNESS TRUST CREATED

American Capitalist Gives $10,000,000 Fund for Welfare Work in England

LONDON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Edward S. Harkness, American capitalist and philanthropist, noted for his generosity to American educational institutions, has established a trust fund of $10,000,000 for social and educational work in England. It is to be known as the Pilgrim Trust, and will be administered by a small group of eminent Englishmen, including Stanley Baldwin, former Conservative Prime Minister.

The amount of the gift was revealed today by Lord MacMillan, a celebrated jurist and another of the trustees. The gift itself was announced last July.

The spirit in which was made this extraordinary donation by a private citizen of one nation to the entire populace of another is disclosed in the interesting preamble drawn up by Mr. Harkness for the trust deed.

MOTIVES DEFINED

In this he lets it be known that his chief motives were admiration for Britain's war-time effort "in the common cause," and for the fortitude with which she has borne the burdens of peace-time reconstruction.

Contrasting with this the prosperity of America, and explaining that he feels himself "bound by many ties of affection with the land from which he draws his descent," Mr. Harkness states his belief that "it is right for a private American citizen to show his admiration for what Great Britain has done by a gift to be used for some of her more urgent needs."

PREAMBLE

The preamble to the deed follows:

"Whereas, it is acknowledged by all that Great Britain in the war spent her resources freely in the common cause, and in the years that have elapsed since peace, has sustained honorably and without complaint a burden which has greatly increased the difficulties of life for her people, and

"Whereas, by the bounty of Providence, America has of late enjoyed an ample measure of prosperity and the donor himself has been blessed with world means, and

"Whereas, the donor feels himself bound by many ties of affection with the land from which he draws his descent, and

"Whereas, it seems to him that it is right for a private American citizen to show his admiration for what Britain has done by a gift to be used for some of her more urgent needs, and

"Whereas, he is in hopes that such a gift, wisely applied, may assist not only in tiding over the present time of difficulty but in promoting her future well being."

Salt Lake City Man Among Those Named as Mexican Envoy Prepares to Retire

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—J. Reuben Clark of Salt Lake City came to the forefront tonight among those mentioned as the probable successor of Dwight W. Morrow as American Ambassador to Mexico.

The retiring Ambassador conferred two hours this afternoon with Secretary Stimson and Undersecretary of State Cotton, laying before them a complete picture of Mexican-American relations gained from his three years as Ambassador at Mexico City. He discussed with the two State Department officials the question of his successor.

While there was no announcement regarding Ambassador Morrow's successor the general belief was President Hoover is considering Clark, former Undersecretary of State, and more recently assigned to special work for Ambassador Morrow in Mexico, for the Mexico City post.

Morrow took lunch at the White House and laid before the President his views on questions pending in Mexico City.

BLAST RIPS OIL FIELD

Lightning Fires Three Wells

Gas from Blowout Pipes in Kettleman Hills Area Ignited in Storm

Three Workers Injured in Explosion of Trap Due to Added Pressure

COALINGA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Lightning struck three blowout pipes in the Kettleman Hills oil field near here late today, seriously injuring one man and causing damage estimated at $10,000.

The lightning fired the gas escaping from the pipes, and when the gas was turned off to extinguish the flames, the added pressure on the Associated Oil Company's gasoline trap caused it to explode.

CRITICALLY HURT

E. J. Lange, 38 years of age, chief chemist of the company, was hurled from the building housing the trap. Physicians at a Coalinga hospital said Lange's condition is critical. He was severely cut.

All the damage was caused by the explosion of the Associated Company's trap. Two other men were slightly injured, but they refused hospital attention.

The blow-out pipes hit were those of the Standard Oil Company, the Felix Company and the Whipley Company wells. The latter two are operated by the Associated Oil Company.

CLOUDBURST FALLS

The pipes are located several hundred yards from the oil companies' refining plants, and these were not endangered. The bolts were accompanied by a cloudburst said by local residents to be the heaviest in this vicinity within their memory.

Lange was formerly connected with the Wilmington (Cal.) plant of the Associated Company.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Sept. 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Been reading a lot lately about that guy Hitler in Germany that's getting quite a following. He advocates forgetting everything connected with the peace treaty and starting all over new, and that is about what will happen in a few years. They will all get tired paying debts to each other and say: "Our generation had nothing to do with it. If those old-timers wanted to have war why didn't they pay for it?" And boy, that will discourage war. The minute nations find nobody is going to pay 'em anything after it's over they will say what's the use going in? Fighting wars on credit can put you in the ash can just like buying everything on credit has put us there.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

GAS BOMBS HURLED AT LYNCH MOB

Alabama Guardsmen Also Advance With Bayonets on Crowd Seeking Negro

HUNTSVILLE (Ala.) Sept. 29. (AP) National Guardsmen attacked a crowd around the Madison County Jail here tonight with tear-gas bombs. They then advanced against the crowd with drawn bayonets when the group attempted to advance on the jail where G. E. Henderson, Negro, is being held in connection with the slaying Saturday night of H. E. Ross, Huntsville business man.

The troops were called after several hundred men had gathered about the jail this afternoon. The crowd was dispersed when the troops fired a volley into the air. Order was soon restored. But the crowd gathered again tonight.

The first troops mobilized were reinforced this afternoon by a company from Athens, Ala., by order of Gov. Graves.

The Guardsmen were requested by Probate Speake and Solicitor Pride who said they feared the crowd might overpower Madison county officers.

Henderson was arrested on a train at Decatur yesterday and returned here as a suspect. Officers so far have not positively identified him as the man who killed Ross and wounded Mrs. Ross as he fled through the kitchen. A hat dropped by the intruder fits Henderson and his shoes fit the tracks outside the Ross home.

OIL ACCUSER SUSPENDED

Wilbur Demands Full Inquiry

Kelley Resignation Refused but He's Laid Off Until Report Can Be Made

Accusation of Favoritism in Oil Concessions Branded by Secretary as False

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Secretary of the Interior Wilbur announced today that he has refused to accept the resignation of Ralph S. Kelley, for many years chief of the field service of the General Land Office at Denver, and has called on Kelley to submit proof of his charges that oil concessions in Colorado worth many millions have been illegally awarded to favored oil companies.

"Secretary Wilbur," said a formal statement issued from his office, "has declined to accept the resignation in view of the seriousness of the charges made, and has directed Mr. Kelley to file immediately the names of the companies referred to in his letter with the dates and nature of the transactions mentioned."

Pending the showdown demanded by the Secretary, Kelley has been suspended.

SENATE MOVE HINTED

The antiadministration press immediately seized on the Kelley charges today as the opening gun in another oil scandal such as Teapot Dome, and Senator Nye of North Dakota, chairman of the Senate Public Lands Committee, was quoted as saying that Kelley will "be heard by the Senate."

Kelley asserted yesterday that for the past five years large oil companies, "because of great political and other pressure brought to bear on the Secretary," have received favorable consideration in attempts to gain possession of valuable oil lands.

Under the circumstances it was deemed advisable in administration quarters for Secretary Wilbur to issue a statement giving a comprehensive review of the entire oil-leasing situation. This Mr. Wilbur did. One thing revealed in his statement is that Mr. Kelley on July 7, last, was directed to report at Washington to take charge of the very work he criticised but that he had not yet reported to the Secretary of the Interior.

Another disclosure was that under the present administration not a single new lease for oil shale land has been issued.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The statement from Secretary Wilbur's office follows:

"Secretary Wilbur stated today that the resignation of Mr. Ralph Kelley from the General Land Office, accompanied by a general letter criticising the department's administration of oil-shale lands, had come as a surprise in view of the fact that Mr. Kelley on July 7 was ordered by the Secretary to Washington from Denver to take charge of this very work, and has not yet reported to the Secretary.

"His offer of resignation first reached Secretary Wilbur through the newspapers. He reported for duty at the General Land Office about August 5 and worked approximately a month, during the Secretary's absence.

"Secretary Wilbur has declined to accept the resignation in view of the seriousness of the charges made and has directed Mr. Kelley to immediately file the names of the companies referred to in his letter with the dates and nature of the transactions mentioned. Mr. Kelley has been suspended.

NO LEASES ISSUED

"It was stated at the department that no leases for oil shale have been issued under this administration. The President's conservation policy was carried into effect by order of the department on March

TRAUNG DEFIES GRAND JURY

Boxing Commissioner Defends His Official Acts; Inquiry by Gov. Young Requested

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Challenging the action of the grand jury, which last week recommended that he be ousted following an investigation of the Frank Campbell-Max Baer fight here that resulted in the death of Campbell, Charles F. Traung, State Boxing Commissioner, declared here today, "it is evident that the men who drew this report knew little of the facts and did not take the trouble to get them."

Commissioner Traung expressed the opinion "the general public does not accept the report in a serious light" but nevertheless he wants a thorough investigation of his conduct in office by Gov. Young.

TEXT OF STATMENT

His statement follows:

"In reference to grand jury's report in connection with boxing in San Francisco it is evident that the men who drew this report knew little of the facts and did not take the trouble to get them.

"When the grand jury investigation first started Mr. John Clute, my secretary, at my request called upon the assistant District Attorney in charge of the investigation, assured him that he should have the full co-operation of the commission and that all its records were at the disposal of the grand jury. At that time Mr. Clute was informed that the investigation was to be regarding the fight game and particularly the Baer-Campbell fight. As a matter of fact, the grand jury asked for no co-operation from the office of the commission nor for any of its records.

DEFENDS DECISIONS

"All decisions and acts of mine during my term as commissioner have been strictly in accordance with the law as it stands upon the statute books. The records of the commission will verify this statement. Consequently, I do not propose to take any cognizance of the report of the grand jury, which, upon its face, does not contain any actual facts or bit of evidence.

"As the head of an institution that gives employment to several hundred people, I have acquired a reputation for integrity and square dealing and I do not propose to allow the report to go unchallenged. I am, therefore, asking the Governor in the spirit of fair play to order a full and complete investigation of my acts as commissioner.

"I know the general public does not accept the report in a serious light; however, I would like the Governor to make the investigation requested by myself."

RED GRAIN PLOT IDEA SCOUTED

Chicago Trade Board Heads Testify at Inquiry

Short-Selling Transactions Termed "Hedging"

Wheat Hits New Low Marks in Two Markets

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Testimony that the short-selling of 7,500,000 bushels of wheat by the Union of Soviet Socialistic Republics was not done to depress wheat prices was heard today by the special Congressional committee investigating Communist propaganda in the United States.

President John A. Bunnell of the Chicago Board of Trade and Joseph W. Badenoch, chairman of the board's business conduct committee, were examined.

President Bunnell testified the transactions constituted a hedging operation, "not a particularly heavy one."

HEDGING PERMISSIBLE

They had some tendency to depress prices, he said, because they came on a sinking market. The president also declared he could give no reason why the soviet union should not hedge on the Chicago market.

The latter opinion was given without reference to the action of the board's directors last week in resolving to exclude foreign governments from selling in the local pit.

Badenoch gave similar testimony and said the members of his committee were satisfied an attempt was not being made to depress prices. In such an event, he said, the soviet agents would have sold at any price. The sales were made at fixed prices.

PRICES TAKE DROP

Wheat prices made new low records on the Chicago market and at Winnipeg where prices were the lowest ever recorded. In the face of the uncertain threat of soviet exports and a large increase in the domestic visible supply wheat dropped 1¼ cents under Saturday's finish with September quotations finding bottom at 72 7-8 cents.

Representative Nelson of Maine asked Bunnell "why, on a matter that had so little effect on trade, should the exchange show such activity?"

The president replied that rumors of the soviet transactions indicated an unusual situation but not necessarily one inimical to American interests. He explained how the soviets could hedge on the Chicago market to protect cash wheat they intended to sell in other markets without actually delivering wheat to the United States.

REPORTS NOT REQUIRED

L. A. Fitz, Chicago supervisor of the grain futures administration, testified brokers are not required to make daily reports of their transactions to his office, but reports can be demanded of them in unusual situations.

Badenoch furnished the names of brokerage houses involved, saying that six Chicago houses had no way of knowing they were selling wheat for the soviets. Their orders, he said, came from Wachsmann and Wassall and Norden & Co., both New York concerns. The Chicago concerns handling the trade were J. S. Bache & Co., Jackson Brothers, Logan & Bryan, James E. Bennett & Co., Stein, Alstrin Company and Bartlett, Frazier Company.

SOVIET CIRCLES DENY DUMPING GRAIN ABROAD

MOSCOW, Sept. 29. (AP)—Official circles today denied soviet Russia is "dumping grain abroad." It was declared Russia is able to sell grain and other products at low prices due to the planned system of soviet economy which [illegible] enormous advantages over com[illegible]tor countries.

RUSSIA GRIPPED BY NEW TERROR

between the ages of 50 and 70, the majority in the employ of foodstuffs industries, was followed by the arrest yesterday of 200 specialists employed by the soviet chemical trust because the trust completely failed to fulfill its program of mushroom development scheduled by the soviet plan commission. Those in the net were also threatened with death by the Ogpu, which received orders to comb all governmental undertakings for the so-called traitors responsible for the breakdown in the industrial program. Members of Ogpu who "discovered the plot" of the specialists to destroy the food supply of urban Russia, according to the Pravda, will be rewarded with the highest Bolshevik honor—the Order of Lenin.

NEW WAVE OF HORROR

The latest murders have caused another wave of horror in the Baltic press, which predicts more executions to alibi the Communist party's failure to keep its promises to improve the living standards of the workers and industrialize Russia.

The Riga Severy Dynia, the largest Russian daily published outside Russia, believes the Reds need more blood, which they are using to cement their tottering regime, and urges the civilized world not to forget previous mass executions and the persecutions of religion and completely isolate Bolshevism and the Bolsheviks, saying this would mean an early end of the Red dictatorship.

The Letts, Estonianis and Baltic Germans, hundreds of whom were intimately acquainted with the forty-eight former Russian merchants who Saturday were buried together in a trench in the rapidly growing Ogpu cemetery outside Moscow, decided to hold requiems in more than a dozen churches in Latvia and Estonia, and the movement to boycott all Russian exports is rapidly extending through all Baltic states.

BOLSHEVISM'S MISTAKE

Bolshevism in Russia made its greatest mistake in failing to conciliate the members of the intelligent classes who survived the first Red massacres which began in 1918 and ended in 1921, and have been sporadically appearing since that time.

First hounded by the Ogpu into remote villages, the trained brains of Russia were then sought out by the Ogpu, which turned them over to the soviet supreme council of national economy, which appointed them to posts, promising them a cessation of the persecution provided they would help build the new Russia. But the Communists refused to trust these survivors and appointed trusted but incompetent Reds to control and direct their actions. Despite Ogpu watchfulness and Communist hindrances, the specialists succeeded in building new factories and organizing a few new enterprises, but under Communist management they refused to function with efficiency and the Ogpu executioners stepped in.

Russian brains today is nearly exterminated and the soviets are obliged to import thousands of Americans and Germans, both engineers and merchants. These are dissatisfied and are leaving Russia because of, first, Communist interference; second, poor food; third, impossible living conditions; fourth, the prevalence of dangerous diseases and the lack of sanitary facilities.

WHEN "window strolling" these nights (and great nights they are for it, too) don't miss Flower Street between 7th and 8th.

Amble down to Parmelee-Dohrmann's near 8th St. It's the ace, the king and queen of GIFT stores of the West. Its big windows are full of gift ideas which you really ought to have tucked away in the back of your brain for those gift emergencies which arise for even the best of us.

These windows are especially lovely just now, for this is the second week of the Home Furnishings Style Show.

Park your car—easily—on Flower St., and park your gift problems —easily—with Parmelee-Dohrmann.

SUPERIOR RACE HITLER'S DREAM

Book Tells Why Germany Lacks World Rule

Defeat Attributed to Loss of Racial Purity

Fascist Unsheaths Sword to Push Back Boundaries

BERLIN, Sept. 29. (AP)—Such concepts as a "super race," a "higher civilization" or "kultur," and the necessity for Germany to become "either a world power or nothing," are part of the philosophy of Adolf Hitler, German Fascist leader, as explained in his book, "My Fight."

While the immediate aims and intentions of Hitler have been occupying much attention here and abroad of late, the ultimate aims of his German Fascist movement are little known even in this country. They are explained at great length, however, in the book which, he says in the preface, was written "not for strangers, but for those adherents of the movement who belong to it heart and soul."

EXPLAINS WAR LOSS

The reason Germany lost the war, asserts the Fascist leader, was the fact that the nation's racial homogeneity had been impaired by the tragic "thirty years' war" in the seventeenth century, after which the nation had not grasped the necessity of restoring racial purity. The result was that the Germans crumpled under the strain of conflict.

"Had the German people," he says, "possessed its historical development, that herd unity which has been so advantageous to other nations, then the German Reich might really today be mistress of the globe.

"History would have taken a different course and no man can say that in this way might not have been achieved what so many blinded pacifists today hope to wheedle with their whining and blubbering —a peace supported not by the palm-waving; lachrymose, pacifist old women, but established by the victorious sword of a master race taking possession of the world in the interest of a higher civilization (kultur.)"

German Fascism, as explained by its leader, is more than a political party, more than a national movement—it is a new philosophy of life. Hitler sees the national Socialist mission as nothing less than working for the building up of a superior human race—"a master race" capable of accomplishments at present far beyond the mental capacity of man.

Such a superior race can be developed, according to Hitler, only by determined furthering of the best racial elements, likewise liberal encouragement of the fittest individuals and the ruthless limitation of "inferiors."

The pathway to the development to a superior race, explains Hitler, "demands above all, that the state shall not leave the settlement of newly won lands to chance, but shall regulate it with definite standards."

EXPANSION OF SWORD

As to the winning of new lands, the Fascists must make up their minds that expansion is to be achieved principally by the sword.

"I must disagree most decidedly with those popular ink-slingers who see in such acquisition of territory an 'offense against the sacred rights of humanity' and consequently aim their scribbling against it," he says. "For no nation on this earth occupies even a square yard by request from above or, according to a higher right. . . . National boundaries are made by humans and altered by humans. . . . The right to land and territory can become a duty when a great nation faces downfall through lack of opportunity to expand. . . . Germany will become either a world power or nothing, and for a world power it must have size suiting modern importance and giving its people the possibility to exist."

REICHSWEHR PLOT REVEALED AT TRIAL

LEIPSIC (Germany,) Sept. 29. (AP) A plan to induce the Reichswehr not to attack the Fascists in the event of a conflict between the latter and the government was revealed by today's testimony of Lieut. Fuerson in the high-treason trial of two officers.

A great commotion was caused when Fuerson admitted a group of officers had planned a drive for officers of the Nationalistic or Fascist pursuasion to imbue the rank and file of the Reichswehr with the "national spirit" so they would know at whom they were supposed to shoot and would refrain against the Fascists.

TWENTY-NINE FASCISTS INJURED IN PARADE RIOT

UNTERBERMSGRUEN (Germany,) Sept. 29. (AP)—A procession of 150 Fascists was attacked by Communists today and after a hot fight was routed leaving twenty-nine Fascists injured.

The Communist casualties were not learned.

HAVANA BANKING BACK TO NORMAL

HAVANA, Sept. 29. (AP)—E. R. Black, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, Ga., announced today that banking conditions are normal in Havana and that the panic which followed the closing of two of Havana's banks Saturday had failed to last through the second day. Black hurried here yesterday with $16,000,000 in cash to take care of any demands which might be made of members of the Havana Clearinghouse. Late today Black said none of the $16,000,000 brought here yesterday will be needed.

Headwinds delayed Buck from Newark to Columbus. He ran out of gasoline and was forced to land at Martins Ferry, O., at noon. Unable to obtain the fuel there immediately, he did not get away for Columbus until 2:05.

From here Buck planned to fly to St. Louis Witcha, Albuquerque and thence to Los Angeles. To equal Schneider's record he must complete the trip in 29h. 40m.

HUNTERS OF WILD FOWL CAUTIONED

Biological Survey Cites Regulations for Killing of Ducks and Geese

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—With the opening of the water fowl hunting season in California on Wednesday, the biological survey of the Department of Agriculture called attention today to the fact that a person may legally kill no more than fifteen in the aggregate of all species of wild ducks a day, nor more than four wild geese a day, under regulations of the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty Act.

The Federal regulations also provide for a maximum possession limit of two days' bag. In California, however, the maximum number that may be possessed legally at one time without violating either Federal or State law is twenty-five wild ducks and eight wild geese. This is by reason of the fact that the State law limits possession to one day's bag and the daily bag limit under State law is twenty-five wild ducks and eight wild geese. In other words the Federal limit prevails as to the number of water fowl that may be killed in a day while the State limit prevails as to the number that may be held in possession at one time.

Fifteen lines will be affected in the area extending from Oxnard to San Diego and from Los Angeles to San Diego via Riverside and Colton. Lines on the Coast route also are included.

BOURBONS CLIP CLAWS OF TIGER

New York Democrats Mix Up Dose for Tammany

Plank for Judiciary Reform Hits Dodging Leaders

Liquor Stand to Be Wetter Than Republicans'

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—With a sullen and resentful Tammany supplying the overshadowing issue, the Democratic State convention went into session here today, taking its orders from Gov. Roosevelt and striving to keep under cover the bad scare and ill-feeling dominant in the conferences of leaders.

The platform carries a plank calling for cleansing of the judiciary of New York City and reflecting by inference on those Tammany leaders who have claimed immunity when called before the grand jury to testify in the judiciary scandal investigation and that is a bitter dose for Tammany. But Tammany is taking the pills that Dr. Roosevelt concocts, making wry faces, but, nevertheless, swallowing everything.

Gov. Roosevelt is undisputed boss, but he has strong support from Alfred E. Smith, still an unquestioned power. Mr. Smith carries greater influence in the conferences than does Tammany and its leaders, although that organization "forgot" to send him here as a delegate.

Gov. Roosevelt's letter sent to Mayor Walker yesterday demanding that New York City officials return to the grand juries and voluntarily tell without immunity all about official acts had not added to good-will in the party. Tammany sees it as a slap in the face.

There is talk of Roosevelt and Smith setting the stage for a reorganized Tammany. The Governor, backed by Smith, is trying to show that the Democrats have no sympathy with asserted wrongdoing in the New York government, and are capable of cleaning their own house and setting it in order.

Badly scared, the Democrats are banking on the third ticket to offset their losses.

OUTWARD HARMONY

In the formal sessions of the convention, however, an appearance of harmony was maintained.

The convention adopted by unanimous vote the platform dictated by Gov. Roosevelt and cleared its decks for the renomination tomorrow of the Governor, Lieut.-Gov. Lehman and State Controller Tremaine, and nomination of John J. Bennett of Brooklyn for Attorney-General.

Both Senator Wagner, temporary chairman, and keynote orator of the convention, and John W. Davis, as permanent chairman, stressed national issues.

Senator Wagner, speaking of the various moves that have been made to meet emergencies growing out of the economic depression that followed the crash on the Stock Exchange a year ago condemned as inadequate what the Hoover administration has done to alleviate conditions. He declared that prudence and precaution, if exercised by the Republican administration at Washington before the collapse occurred, could have averted the period of distress under which the country has been suffering.

WARMS TO THEME

Mr. Davis, in an address bristling with sarcasm, elaborated on the identical theme and stopped just short of charging that wild speculation, which he said was responsible for the crash, had been encouraged from Washington.

"How far the wild speculation of last year was due to constant whipping up from Washington no one will ever know," Mr. Davis said.

He arraigned the administration for giving the public statistics and optimistic statements which he said did not reflect the true situation and the outlook.

"Let political orators or stock promoters or business executives paint the future as bright or as gloomy as they choose, but let heads of the government confine themselves to the less spectacular but far-more legitimate task of publishing reliable facts," he declared.

Both orators denounced the tariff as one that did not provide for the farmers the aid it was intended it should bring them, but which through its omnibus revision and increase of rates had boosted prices to domestic consumers and closed foreign markets to American products.

CALLS FOR REPEAL

The prohibition plank in the platform which was promulgated tonight and adopted by the convention calls for straight repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and restoration of State rights in dealing with prohibition. It pledges the party in this State to the enactment of measures making for a broader home rule and local option for the promotion of temperance and for the effective banishment of the saloon.

The plank dealing with official corruption recommends legislation or a Constitutional amendment providing that acceptance of public office constitutes a waiver of immunity from giving self-incriminating testimony, and is regarded as a direct slap at Tammany leaders and office-holders who have refused to testify in the current judiciary investigation.

HOMEBREW NECK NEW MALADY

Missourian Tries to Stop "Fizzing" and Bottle Cap Lodges in Throat

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29. (AP) Physicians at the General Hospital have learned of a new danger in the use of homemade intoxicants.

A patient suffering a throat malady, Ross Duncan of Richards, Mo., furnished the data.

When a bottle of his neighbor's wine "fizzed," Duncan told the hospital staff, he put the neck in his mouth to prevent leakage.

An imediate explosion transferred the cap from the bottle's neck to Duncan's, where it lodged, he said, defying all efforts to retrieve it.

day of Justice McCook that "under the law and irrespective of the wishes or intention of Gov. Roosevelt who empowered Atty.-Gen. Hamilton Ward to conduct the initial inquiry, the Attorney-General could gather and present evidence and the grand jury could return indictments on any violation of the elective franchise statutes of the country, especially those dealing with appointments and nominations to judicial and other offices."

The question of finance, however, enters into the investigation vitally. The Attorney-General has funds only to investigate George F. Ewald, who is accused of having bought his job as magistrate. Gov. Roosevelt can extend the powers of the Attorney-General and increase the funds.

The case of Supreme Court Justice Crater, who has been missing under mysterious circumstances for fifty-four days, continued to be one of the lesser embarrassments of Tammany and this afternoon another effort to convince everyone, including another special grand jury, that the absent justice was dead and buried was under way.

SCIENCE FILMS HEART THROBS

X-Ray Motion Picture Used in Cardiac Study

Record of Electric Impulse Made Simultaneously

Combined Knowledge Forms Diagnostic Method

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—A new field for research work in diseases of the heart has been opened up by the Robinette Foundation of the University of Pennsylvania through the development there of a method by which the electro-cardograph can be used successfully to record the electrical disturbances in the heart simultaneously with X-ray photographs of the heart's movement.

Application of the same technique to the study of the aorta, the great artery leading from the heart, also has made it possible for the first time to obtain accurate photographic records of human pulse waves thus enabling study of the very beginnings of arterio-sclerosis in the highly important but inaccessible aorta.

RESULT OF STUDY

According to Dr. C. C. Wolferth, assistant professor of medicine and director of the Robinette Foundation, which was endowed two years ago by Edward B. Robinette for the study, treatment and prevention of diseases of the heart and circulatory system, the new technique was developed in the course of a study being made of the nature of contraction of the heart muscle.

It is revealed that the foundation has been carrying on special studies of various social and economic groups in order to determine the normal heart and that one of the groups being studied at the present time consists of 150 executives of a great corporation, all of whom carry heavy responsibilities.

Discussing these studies, together with other activities of the foundation, Dr. Wolferth declared, "It is curious that although degenerative diseases of the heart and blood vessels comprise what is probably the most important problem facing the white race, no dependable information is available as to what percentage of people going about their daily work show evidence of these diseases. It, therefore, seemed of the utmost important to study cross-sections of various social and economic groups by the most searching methods available.

TOO SOON TO TALK

"It is too soon to speak of results, since thus far we do not have comparable groups of men occupying minor clerical positions, manual workers, men of leisure and others. We have been amazed, however, in the study of the group of executives to find how many highly intelligent men who regarded themselves as perfectly well exhibited clear-cut disease of the heart or blood vessels, or both.

"The possibilities for improvement in handling the problems of cardio-vascular diseases by diagnostic methods already at our disposal are almost incalculable. To accomplish this, however, it will be necessary to bring the rank and file of the population into contact with their physicians and also to provide facilities so that the physicians can have their own examinations supplemented by the special electro-cardiographs and X-ray tests."

BUILDING OF HOMES NOW ADVOCATED

Secretary Lamont Thinks $50,000,000,000 Will Be Spent in Twenty Years

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Secretary Lamont estimated today $50,000,000,000 will be spent on new residential construction in the United States in the next twenty years, and in addition, about $500,000,000 a year on maintenance and repairs of houses. He was discussing plans for a national conference on home building and home ownership which President Hoover has called.

"With recent drops in prices of building material, an ample number of highly skilled building workers available, contractors anxious to obtain work and mortgage money available at reasonable terms," the Commerce Secretary continued, "conditions now are favorable for home builders who have the resources and intend to build to go ahead. In general, conditions also are good for going ahead with repairs, alterations and improvements."

With the hope of improving the beauty of America's small homes, Secretary Wilbur, president of "Better Homes in America," announced today three gold medals will be awarded each year to architects designing the best one and two-story residences.

Doorbell Fires Fatal Explosion

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—A gas explosion simultaneous with the ringing of a doorbell caused the death today of Mrs. Nancy Perry, 44 years of age, and the serious burning of Miss Gertrude Penzin, 38, in a North Side apartment today.

Miss Penzin smelled gas and went to the Perry apartment. The spark caused by the ringing of the bell is believed to have ignited the gas.

SCHALL'S CAMPAIGN TO BE INVESTIGATED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The Senate Campaign Funds Committee intends to investigate the conduct of Senator Schall's campaign in Minnesota. He is the Republican nominee. "So many complaints have been made against the conduct of Senator Schall's campaign," said Chairman Nye, "that we must investigate it."

PARIS, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—An American woman has conquered again. This time it is Miss Elaine Kennell, formerly of Spokane, Wash., who has been awarded the decoration "Palms Academiques," an honor said never to have been bestowed upon anyone not a native of France. The award was made as the result of Miss Kennell's work among the French and Allied soldiers.

Miss Kennell also has another claim to fame in this country—that of being a member of the French bar. She is, it is understood, the only American woman to have attained this distinction. She took up residence here some years ago for the purpose of furthering her studies in music. In addition, she also studied law here.

PLAGUE SERUM SOURCE WIDENS

Stanford Hospital Discovers Paralysis Antidote

Convalescents Not Alone as Remedy Donors

One Individual in Four Has Requisite Properties

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—With infantile paralysis increasing in San Francisco according to city health officers, physicians at Stanford University Hospital today reported discovery of a wider range of sources for blood serum to combat the disease.

The serum for treating the disease has heretofore been obtained from persons convalescing from infantile paralysis or from very young persons. Ordinary transfusion donors were added to the list by their experiments, Stanford Hospital authorities said.

The blood of one out of four transfusion donors contains the "antibodies" necessary in combating the disease, the test showed.

CASES OF PARALYSIS FOUND NATION-WIDE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Mid-September, found by the United States Public Health Service to be the season of maximum incidence of infantile paralysis, this year saw schools closed in Kansas because of the disease and other outbreaks scattered from Maine to California. The last weekly summary showed eighteen cases in Maine, sixty-one in New York, forty-two in Ohio, twenty-seven in Illinois, eighteen in Minnesota, eighteen in Iowa, sixty-five in Kansas and sixty-six in California.

BANKERS SIGHT BETTER TIMES

Business on Sounder Basis, Convention Holds

Recession Gives Opportunity to Clear Shelves

Minnesota Speaker Attacks Tariff Legislation

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29. (AP)—The opinion that business and industry in the United States is on a more sound basis than at the first of the year was expressed by many of the nation's leading bankers today as 6000 members of the American Bankers' Association gathered for their annual convention. They said credit of manufacturers is better.

The textile industry of the South was given as an example. Textile manufacturers, the delegates from that region said, are not making money, but they have smaller supplies on their shelves and a diminished inventory load.

USES OF ADVERSITY

Some bankers expressed the feeling that the depression has taught more conservative buying and has increased the saving of money.

Strong criticism of State taxation officials was expressed at the conference on taxation. In the opinion of several speakers taxation officials are appointed through political influence and not for their ability to administer tax laws.

George Lord, head of the Detroit Clearinghouse Association, recommended full valuation of property for taxation in States where rates are assessed on an ad valorem basis.

TARIFF ATTACKED

An attack on the tariff and immigration laws of the United States was delivered by John W. Barton, vice-president of the Metropolitan National Bank of Minneapolis, and president of the association's national bank division.

He said creating a tariff and raising the wall against the immigrant is an inconsistent policy.

"If the tariff wall tends to reduce our foreign trade, as I think it will, then we need more people to consume our surplus," Barton said. "Yet we further restrict immigration and at the same time continue to reclaim arid lands at an enormous expenditure of capital annually."

CAUSE AND EFFECT

"If we are limited by the tariff in buying from foreign countries," he said, "we cannot expect to sell our large supplies of products."

Barton advised that the government stay out of industry, adding that "subsidies of any kind are absolutely unsound."

Neither should there be any necessity, he said, for business to lobby in legislative bodies, but bankers and business men should not be backward or timid in attacking detrimental legislation.

The general condition of banking in the United States is undoubtedly better than it has been since 1921, Dan V. Stephens of Fremont, Neb., outgoing president of the State bank division, told that division. In fact, he said, "one might conservatively state that banking is on a sounder basis than it ever has been in all its history."

OPTIMISTIC NOTE

An optimistic note came from the farm region of Minnesota in an address by Charles F. Collison, farm editor of the Minneapolis Tribune.

"They tell us that the farmer's dollar is worth less than the industrial dollar," he said; "that our best customer has lost his buying power. That's less than half the truth. The fact is, the products of the right kind of diversified livestock farming are all above or right in line with the general average of retail prices of the commodities the farmers buy, even in 1930."

MORE LIBERTY ASKED

Recommendation that national banks be allowed greater participation in the earnings of the Federal Reserve Bank, that more liberal laws be enacted as to investment and loaning powers, and that restrictions upon branch banking privileges be liberalized was made to the association by its committee on national bank research.

The committee, named at the San Francisco convention last year to investigate causes for the diminishing influence of national banks and to make recommendations for strengthening the national banking system, found these three points and uncertainty over succession of trust powers and appointments in mergers of trust companies with nationally chartered banks as the major causes for withdrawal of national banks from the Federal system.

FURTHER SUGGESTIONS

In addition to suggesting that Federal Reserve System members be allowed more generous partition from the earnings, the committee recommended that in computing the amount of reserves required to be carried members be permitted to deduct from total demand deposits the amount of cash on hand and in vaults; that a national bank with capital less than $50,000 be permitted to withdraw from reserve membership while retaining the right to rediscount its eligible paper through its member bank correspondents under Federal Reserve Board regulations; and that affiliated companies directly or indirectly associated with national banks and organizations owning or controlling 25 per cent or more of a national bank's capital stock be subject to examination by the Comptroller of the Currency.

FOR MERGER CASES

The committee recommended that national banks co-operate with State Legislature committees to secure enactment of State laws where necessary to permit national banks to succeed to the trust business in State banks and trust companies where a merger is consummated under a national bank charter. It also urged that a national bank member be permitted to own two-thirds or more of the capital stock of a State trust company with such an affiliated company under the examination of the comptroller's office.

With regard to investment and loaning powers the committee proposed that a national bank be permitted to own not less than two-thirds of the stock of a securities company or an investment company, with adequate restrictions as to value of such stock in ratio to the owning bank's capital and surplus.

BANK WILL USE LOOKOUT BEHIND ITS LOCKED DOORS

DES MOINES, Sept. 29. (AP) Gangland's pet trick, lookout men at locked doors to its speakeasies and gambling quarters, has found its way into Iowa banking circles.

Taking a tip from the gangster's own method of protecting himself from the law, at lease one Iowa banker will maintain the same sort of vigilance against bank robbers.

"I am placing a special lock on our front door, operating by pushbuttons behind the bank counters and desks, so our front door will always be locked and no one will be allowed in the bank until we have a chance to look them over when a push of the button will allow them to enter," he says.

The bank's customers have been consulted and have agreed to the plan. The locked door, the banker believes, will give employees an opportunity to "spot" anyone who doesn't "look good" and call on the vigilance to prepare themselves before the door is opened.

"I am convinced if a gang finds a front door of a bank locked, it will think the job has been tipped off and will leave town as fast as it can," the banker added.

The plan was proposed by a banker in Northwestern Iowa as a means of halting the wave of robberies which has netted bandits nearly $100,000 since January 1.

NEW TARIFF COMMISSION FIXES RULES

Burden of Proof for Rate Change Will Be Placed on Applicant in Future

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The new Federal Tariff Commission today revised its rules of procedure for handling applications for revision of the tariffs under the Smoot-Hawley bill.

Chairman Fletcher said the new rules are expected to expedite action on all applications. Under the new rules the burden of proof of needed changes in rates will fall on the applicants.

The commission also announced the appointment of Leland Harrison, recently resigned Minister to Uruguay, as chief of the international relations division of the commission.

Thomas Walker Page of Virginia today was designated by President Hoover as vice-chairman of the commission.

WILBUR ORDERS KELLEY INQUIRY

Resignation Refused Due to Serious Charges

Coloradoan Suspended and Report Demanded

13, 1929, as to both oil and oil shale, although oil shale has only a potential value until some economical process for extracting the oil is discovered.

"However, the Secretary's discretion to refuse to issue leases does not, under the law, extend to claims located under the old mining laws before the Mineral Leasing Act came into effect in 1920. The Mineral Leasing Act left intact such claims so long as they were maintained in accordance with the former law.

"Prior to 1920 several thousands of these claims have been located in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming covering in excess of 3,000,000 acres. The department, under Secretary Work and Secretary Wilbur, followed the policy of insisting on performance by these locators of $100 assessment work per year on penalty of defaulting their claims.

CONTEST IN COURT

"It was the department's construction of the Mineral Leasing Act that such assessment work, prescribed by the old mining laws, was required in order to keep the claims in good standing under the new law.

"This position was contested by the various oil-shale claimants, who carried the case of Krushnic vs. Wilbur, Secretary, to the United States Supreme Court, which, in deciding the case, reversed a decision by the department.

"The department has held that an oil-shale location was forfeited to the government for failure to do assessment work, even though work had been resumed before the forfeiture was claimed. This Supreme Court decision required the withdrawal of the department's adverse action against a considerable number of applications for patent, and, since then, fifty-seven applications, involving approximately 9100 acres, have gone through to patent, in consequence of the Supreme Court decision.

"However, because the adverse Krushnic decision left open the question of whether the department had the right to declare the claims forfeited if such forfeiture was demanded before the locator had resumed his assessment work, Secretary Wilbur, immediately after the decision came down, directed that action be taken against all claims then in default upon which work had not yet been resumed.

"Accordingly, practically every available man in the General Land Office field force was assigned to the duty of posting notices on oil-shale claims that the government claimed the land for default. Approximately 5700 notices were posted during the current season and these claims now await adjudication. In addition, adverse proceedings were directed against 3081 other oil-shale placer locations. Of this number 2078 have been adjudicated as null and void by the department after notices were served on the claimants of default in assessment and failure to assume work.

LARGE AMOUNT OF LAND

"Of the 5700 oil-shale claims that have been posted, there are included about 912,000 acres, and in the 3081 additional claims against which proceedings have been instituted, approximately 492,960, making a total of 1,404,960 involved in such claims against which challenge has been issued on the orders of Secretary Wilbur.

"Claims have been allowed to go to patent only in cases where the Krushnic decision declared the rights of the claimants still in good standing and then only after careful field examination as to compliance to the law's requirements of $500 worth of development work.

"The department has instituted charges of default in assessment work against sixty applications for patent and charges of insufficient patent expenditures against 137 claims. One hundred and seventy-four claims now up for patent have been rejected by the department on the basis of lack of good faith on the part of the locators. These challenged patent applications have not yet been adjudicated.

TEST CASES PENDING

"The right of the department to challenge locations, as well as patent applications, for failure to do assessment work, has been vigorously denied by oil-shale claimants. Secretary Wilbur, however, has declined to recede from the requirement that such work be done and there are now pending in the department test cases which the locators asserted they planned to take into court.

"Bills were introduced in the House at the last session to compel modification of the conservation policy respecting oil shale. Secretary Wilbur appeared in opposition to the legislation and in favor of conservation. Hearings on all three bills have been published. None of these bills was enacted.

"The majority of oil-shale claims stand in the name of individuals or associations of individuals, made up largely of local people in the immediate vicinity. Whether so-called large oil companies purchase these claims after patent is another question over which the department has no information or control.

PUBLIC INFORMATION

"The names of all applicants for patent and the status of other cases are a matter of public records. Such information can be obtained from the General Land Office.

"As to the names of the locators the law does not require that the locator make any formal application to the department until ready to apply for patent. The only requirement of the law is that the land be staked and posted and the claims recorded in the county records. The County Recorder's office is necessarily the source of information as to the names of locators.

"The department has, however, taken the initiative in sending field agents to the county records and securing the names and locations of all claims as part of its policy of challenging defaulted claims by posting notices.

"Secretary Wilbur's policy of declining to issue leases, in accordance with the general oil-conservation policy, and insisting on strict compliance with the old mining laws by locators claiming the benefit of those laws will continue. So much of the field work of posting as is not completed this summer will be carried on during the next open season until all defaulted claims have been posted.

"Statutory rights must necessarily be recognized whenever they are shown. Applicants for patent dissatisfied with the department's action will be afforded every opportunity to prove their cases in court.

"Secretary Wilbur stated that he would welcome the fullest investigation of the whole shale question."

KELLEY COMMENTS ON WILBUR STATEMENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Ralph S. Kelley, who last night announced his resignation from the Interior Department, tonight issued the following comment on Secretary Wilbur's statement, given out at Washington today:

"I have read the statement issued by Secretary Wilbur in reply to my letter of resignation. Much of what Mr. Wilbur says is correct, much of it is immaterial and in no way applies to the public oil shale domain in Colorado. Much of it requires clarification.

"If Congress desires to investigate this issue as Senator Nye tonight suggests, I will naturally place myself at the disposition of the Senate, and later will amplify any charges I made in complete detail.

"I do not regard myself as an employee of the Interior Department any longer and I wish here and now to repeat in specific terms the charges outlined in my letter."

HOOVER LEAVES TOMORROW

Plans Completed for Speaking Trip to Cleveland; Will See Opening of World Series

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Plans were completed today for the trip of President Hoover to Cleveland Thursday for the first of the four addresses during the next eight days in which he will discuss problems of his administration.

Traveling by special train, the Chief Executive plans to leave the capital Wednesday in time to reach Philadelphia for the opening game of the world series. Secretaries Hurley, Hyde, Wilbur and Davis will be among those composing a party of more than fifty which will attend the game with the President.

Mr. Hoover plans to leave Philadelphia immediately after the game and arrive in Cleveland before noon for his address before the American Bankers' Association Thursday night.

The principal demonstration of his entire swing into four States of the Midwest, East and South has been arranged in Cleveland. Led by a military escort and band he will parade over a four-mile route from the station down Euclid avenue to his headquarters at the Hotel Cleveland.

At luncheon he will be the guest of the bankers and business men but will make no speech.

The special train will depart soon after the address so Mr. Hoover will reach the capital early Friday with three days to rest before he sets out for Boston Sunday night to speak the next day before the American Legion in the forenoon and the American Federation of Labor in the afternoon.

Again boarding his special train, he will make a rapid run to King's Mountain, North Carolina, to speak Tuesday at the sesquicentennial celebration of the Revolutionary battle which was fought across the line in South Carolina.

The Chief Executive will begin his trip without the company of Mrs. Hoover, she having left today to attend the convention in Indianapolis of the National Girl Scouts, of which she is honorary president. She will join Mr. Hoover at the station in Cleveland for the parade and will go with him on the other trips.

DOLLAR SLATED FOR VALUE GAIN

Increased Purchasing Power Predicted at Session

Chain-Store Association Meeting in Chicago

Strawn Declares Baiting Now Popular Sport

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Lower commodity prices and a rise in the purchasing power of the dollar were forecast by officers today as the National Chain-Store Association met for its annual convention.

R. W. Lyons, executive vice-president, said the end of financial depression can be brought about only through the co-operation of retail interests in restoring public confidence.

"It is generally conceded by industry as a whole that the present economic situation was brought about by the policy of many manufacturing and distributing organizations in attempting to maintain commodity prices at fictitiously high levels."

Normalcy will be the result of the inevitable reaction to facts and values, he declared.

Silas A. Strawn, Chicago attorney, told the committee that baiting of chain stores has now become the public hobby.

"Having exhausted their ingenuity in nagging the railroads, the public utilities, the boards of trade and a few other factors in our social progress, that ever busy trio commonly known as 'Tom, Dick and Harry' are now devoting their attention to baiting chain stores," he said.

AMERICANS HUNT ELEPHANTS

The law establishes specified safety requirements of institutions for savings. Where the law ends, true conservatism begins . . . in the added factors of liquidity and strength the institution voluntarily maintains.

For many years Pacific States Savings has consistently maintained a liquidity far beyond legal requirements . . . far beyond ordinary needs . . . and amply sufficient for the protection of its savers' funds during the severest National financial crises.

Today, our 65 million dollar financial structure, the largest of its kind in America, is distinguished by such outstanding safeguards as these: the largest non-withdrawable invested capital and the largest voluntary cash and bond reserves of any building and loan association in the West; a statement free from real estate, furniture, fixtures, and bank indebtedness; and a loan rate of 7%, purposely made low to bring us the choicest first lien security offered to any California building and loan association.

DEMOCRATS REASSURE HITCHCOCK

Tydings Says National Committee Will Support Nebraska Candidate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Chairman Tydings of the Democratic Senatorial campaign committee, today assured Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Democratic Senatorial nominee in Nebraska, of "full support," after Hitchcock had demanded an explanation of reports that his opponent, Senator Norris, was satisfactory to the Democrats.

Hitchcock informed Chairman Tydings that newspaper accounts quoted Tydings to the effect that Norris was satisfactory to the Democrats.

"You may count on the committee's full support," Senator Tydings wired Hitchcock.

Tydings sent the message after he had indicated earlier a "hands-off" policy would be pursued in Nebraska where Senator Norris, who supported the Presidential candidacy of Alfred E. Smith two years ago, is the Republican nominee.

BISHOP CANNON BACK FOR FIGHT

Churchman Returns to Face Enemies in Ranks

Admires Morrow for Stand on Law, He Says

Declares Roman Church Foe of Prohibition

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP) Besieged by reporters as he stepped off a train from New York late tonight, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, refused to reply to persistent questioning but had to step between a newspaper man and one of his sons to avert an exchange of blows when the son became incensed as the questioning continued.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, returned to the United States today to face charges filed against him by four clergymen of his denomination.

He arrived with his bride of three months and former secretary, Mrs. Helen McCallum Cannon, on the liner American Legion from Brazil, and left the pier in a taxicab, presumably to entrain for Washington.

At first he declined to see newspaper men, but later granted an interview on prohibition, refusing, however, to discuss the charges against him.

The bishop declined to pose for photographers, and Mrs. Cannon kept to her stateroom while the bishop was clearing their baggage through the customs. She then attempted to leave the ship by a freight gangway, but was greeted by a bombardment of flashlights. She took refuge behind the backs of ship's officers and workers on the pier and waited until the bishop drove up in a taxicab. She entered the cab, pulled down the curtains and it drove away.

Bishop Cannon had been in Brazil for several weeks. He said there is a considerable movement in Brazil for restriction of the privilege of the saloons.

ADMIRES MORROW

Among other comments on prohibition the bishop made were these: That he admired Dwight W. Morrow, who urged repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, for his sincere stand, which he believes consistent in that Mr. Morrow declares for enforcement of the prohibition laws so long as they are in force; that he believes the United States, except for the great cities containing a large foreign population, is more temperate than it was before the Eighteenth Amendment; that no doubt there is a great deal of bootlegging and he believes the breweries of the country probably are disposing of much illegal beer, and that he opposed Alfred E. Smith for the Presidency, not because of his religion, but because of his views on prohibition.

In speaking of the sentiment against prohibition in the cities, Bishop Cannon said:

"Where you find the Roman Catholic element you find opposition to the prohibition amendment because the cardinals, the archbishops and the Pope are against prohibition. Romanism, as a body, . . . hates prohibition."

NEW YORK DRYS BACK PROFESSOR

Secret Session Decides to Support R. P. Carroll for Gubernatorial Seat

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—The conference of dry organizations of New York State held a three-hour secret meeting today at which plans were formulated for the support of Prof. Robert P. Carroll of Syracuse University as independent candidate for Governor.

The petition for Prof. Carroll already has been circulated and probably will be filed next Monday, naming him as gubernatorial candidate of the "law preservation party."

After the meeting, which was presided over by Fred E. Victor, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, State president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, said that in backing an independent candidate, the Republican drys do not feel that they are splitting from the Republican party.

"We feel," she said, "that we are the real Republicans."

Representatives of dry organizations who attended the secret meeting said afterward that there had been entire harmony and that a spirit of optimism prevailed. Some of them even predicted a Carroll vote of 500,000.

Mrs. Colvin said the drys will not put a full ticket in the field, but in a few instances probably will run dry candidates against wet Republicans.

ILLINOIS DRYS URGED TO VOTE

Methodist Board Censures Referendum as Unfair

Clipsheet Says Expression at Polls Necessary

Victory Over Capone Group Declared at Stake

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals noted today in its weekly clipsheet that the Illinois conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church has "formally decided to urge all prohibitionists to participate in the Illinois referendum on prohibition."

"Vote, of course!" was the heading.

"It is an absurd referendum," the editorial said. "When the votes are in, no one will know just exactly what they mean.

CALLED UNFAIR

"It is an unfair referendum, as all such referenda are, for it does not go to the root of the matter and many drys will pass it by in contempt.

"It gives an advantage to the corruptionist, the gunman, the gangster, the beer runner, because he will vote more than once to legalize his trade.

VICTORY AT STAKE

"It must not be forgotten the drys have a little advantage also. The great majority of Illinois citizens are honest. They have a natural loathing for Al Capone and the journals which boost his business.

"They are more intelligent, more courageous and have more at stake than the wets and they ought to fight."

OND BIDS PROMISE TO BE SPIRITED

City Treasurer Will Sell Issue of $1,051,844 for Third-Street Project

Spirited bidding for $1,051,844 improvement bonds for the opening widening of Third street between Figueroa street and Vermont avenue is expected by City Treasurer Powell, he said yesterday. Offers on the bonds will be received at his office at the City Hall October 7 at 11 a.m.

The bonds will be sold in whole or in part to the highest bidders, Powell said. They bear 7 per cent. The validity of the bonds was established a short time ago in the courts after attack by opponents of the project.

As the bonds were issued January 4, 1929, nearly two years accrued interest adds to their value. Proceedings for paving the new street are now before the City Council.

New Time Fixed on Border Hops

Inasmuch as the United States government has not yet established its beacon lights as planned for the airway from Los Angeles southward, the T.A.T.-Maddux Air Lines will change schedules starting tomorrow for flights between Los Angeles and Agua Caliente. The new departures and arrivals are all so timed that all flying will be within the legal daylight limit of not more than one-half hour after sunset. The schedules will operate during the winter, only, according to H. W. Beck, traffic manager.

Airplanes in both directions will leave at 4:15 p.m.. The northbound ship from Agua Caliente will make a ten-minute stop in San Diego and arrive at the Grand Central Air Terminal at 5:50 p.m. The southbound plane will stop in San Diego only five minutes, and arrive at Agua Caliente at 5:45 p.m.

WRIT DENIED IN ROW OF WATER COMPANY

Superior Judge Archbald yesterday denied a writ of mandate sought by a group of stockholders of the Rock Creek Water Corporation to compel W. A. Phillips, secretary, to turn over the concern's books to Banks Guthrie. The petitioners asserted Guthrie was elected secretary at a stockholders' meeting on August 4 last, and sought to oust Phillips. Judge Archbald held that the Guthrie faction had not registered sufficient protest at the meeting when the Phillips supporters refused to recognize the authority of proxy for the casting of a vote representing 29,557 shares by the faction supporting Guthrie.

Bottle Theft Charge Dropped

A charge of petty theft of two milk bottles—valued at 6 cents—against Mrs. Lucille Fisher of 713 Stepney avenue, Inglewood, was ordered dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Eagan when Deputy City Prosecutor Wells disclosed that the sole witness for the prosecution, W. C. Hutton, a dairy company employee, was absent.

The dismissal was granted at the request of Charles Porep, defense attorney, who pointed out that the trial had been delayed once before on account of Hutton's absence. Mrs. Fisher declared she was arrested on a "spite" complaint by a neighbor and is not guilty.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED BY SINGER

Helen Kane Avoids Court Contempt Summons at Bankruptcy Hearing

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Helen Kane, baby-talk singer, avoided a threatened citation for contempt today by answering questions at a hearing into the bankruptcy of the Bond Dress Company.

Replying to questions by Simon U. Spiro, attorney for the Bank of United States, Miss Kane denied she had told Michael Kletz, vice-president of the bank, she intended to divorce her husband to marry Murray Posner, head of the defunct firm.

Posner, on the stand, also denied he had told Kletz he intended to marry Miss Kane after she should get a divorce.

Miss Kane's attorney objected to Spiro's questioning of his client on the ground the bank intended to use the information gained in a suit planned against her. He was overruled by Referee Olney, who warned the singer to answer or be cited for contempt.

Posner is asserted to have turned over $50,000 to Miss Kane, before the company went into bankruptcy. The singer has asserted the $50,000 was repayment of money she had given Posner to invest for her in Liberty bonds.

Miss Kane answered the questions to the satisfaction of Spiro and the hearing was adjourned until October 7.

Fox Requests Radio Channels for Studio Use

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The value of radio communication in filming motion pictures was described to the Federal Radio Commission today by representatives of the Fox Film Corporation, which has requested two channels for communication between central studios and companies on location in remote places.

Saul Rodgers, general counsel for the Fox company, said much time could thus be saved. He explained that in making a recent picture the undeveloped negatives were rushed to Los Angeles by airplane and when defects appeared after they had been developed, much time was necessary in getting a message to the company.

The commission took the case under advisement.

RETIRED ARMY MAJOR LEAPS FROM STEAMER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Maj. Albert Kalb, 61 years of age, U.S.A., retired, of San Diego, leaped from the coastwise steamer Harvard off Monterey Bay today. Maj. Kalb was en route to the Letterman General Hospital at the San Francisco Presidio to be treated for an illness from which he has been suffering since a major operation several months ago. He was accompanied by Mrs. Kalb and Dr. O. Dodson, a San Diego interne. Dr. Dodson said the major left his cabin, saying he was going to walk around the deck. Instead he leaped over the rail.

Cries of patients and the wails of newborn babes create a bedlam day and night long, making sleep in the vicinity impossible, residents of an apartment-house adjoining the hospital testified.

CHINESE HEALTH STAND OPPOSED

Ship Quarantine Policy Gets Rebuff From Powers

View Held Now Nation Has No Adequate System

American State Department Wants More Data

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—New quarantine regulations of the Chinese Nationalist government which complete change the old system of inspection of foreign ships have met with a polite but firm rebuff from the principal powers.

Diplomatic conversations have been opened, State Department officials said today, between American consular officers in Shanghai and Chinese officials with a view to furnishing the department with sufficient information to shape a policy to be followed by the United States.

FOREIGN CONTROL

Under the original system of quarantine, ships entering Chinese ports were inspected by officers acting under the customs largely controlled by foreigners. With the system in force the foreign powers were able to exert a measure of control designed to follow the most modern concepts of disease prevention and methods of preventing its spreading when found in incoming ships.

Recently promulgated regulations of the Chinese government, however, placed the quarantine of ships under the Chinese Ministry of Health. The attitude of the powers has been that without a thoroughly developed organization the ministry will be unable to deal with so important a task, and further, that the new regulations violate the spirit of a long-established custom. So far as can be determined, however, no treaty rights of the powers are violated.

PROOF OF ABILITY

At present, the Chinese have only contemplated making their inspections in the Port of Shanghai, most important foreign center in China.

While the measures of quarantine provided in the new regulations are admitted to be wide in scope, it is doubted by Washington officials that the Chinese can immediately provide a sufficient organization to place them in effect in a manner which would guarantee complete safety from spread of disease. The attitude of the State Department is that the United States should not acquiesce to the regulations until the Chinese have been able to prove that they can adequately operate the system.

TOADS SURVIVE AGES IN TOMB

Dug Up Alive After Being Buried Three or Four Centuries

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Three small toads, estimated by J. B. Thoburn, curator of the State Historical Society, to have been buried in an Indian mound for from 300 to 400 years, have been excavated alive near Gate, in Northwestern Oklahoma.

Thoburn, making temporary excavations at the Indian mound near the edge of a dry lake two miles northeast of Gate, found the toads at depths varying from three to four feet. They were brought to the State Historical Society Museum at the capital and placed on display. Later, Thoburn said, they may be turned over to biologists of the University of Oklahoma for observation and further examination.

SPOUSE OBEYS ADVICE TO "GO JUMP IN LAKE"

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) "Go jump in the lake," Thomas Loach told Louise, his bride of two months, as they sat in their parked car on the lake front early this morning. Loach was scolding his wife because he did not approve of her conduct at a party they attended last night. Mrs. Loach obeyed her husband's command and did jump into the lake and Loach, with the aid of two strangers, pulled her out. Loach drove his wife to a nearby hospital where she was revived.

POLITICAL FOES HURL INK POTS

Campaign Handbooks Issued by Dominant Parties

Republicans Say Democrats Have Blocked Relief

Bourbons Assert G.O.P. Has Failed to Keep Pledges

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The political campaign reached the handbook stage today at Washington with both the Republican and Democratic National committees issuing textbooks for 1930.

The Republican National Committee published two pamphlets, one by Senator Hebert of Rhode Island, entitled "Democrats Deliberately Obstruct Relief Plans" and the other by Senator Hatfield of West Virginia, headed "Prices Decrease Under Republican Tariff."

The Democratic National Committee handbook is of sixty pages and is entitled "Democratic Summary of Campaign Issues, 1930." It declares in the opening sentence: "The dominant issue in the Congressional campaign of 1930 is the failure of the Republican administration, now well on in its second year, to fulfill the promises on which it based its claim for election in 1928."

Senator Hebert's article charges "the Democratic high command undertook five definite maneuvers to keep pessimism alive and prevent full recovery of the nation before the November elections.

"(1.) Delay of the enactment of the tariff;

"(2.) Systematic propaganda to make it appear that the government was helpless;

"(3.) Holding up legislation to assist in relief program;

"(4.) Instilling fear into minds of the people as to the unemployment extent and

"(5.) Claims that foreign trade would be destroyed and factories closed."

The Democratic committee also made public a statement from R. Earl Peters, chairman of the Democratic State Committee of Indiana, expressing the opinion that Indiana will elect this year "a practically solid Democratic Congressional delegation."

"SMEARING HOOVER" DENIED AS PURPOSE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Charles Michelson, director of publicity for the Democratic National Committee, denied in a radio speech tonight he had been employed to "smear Hoover."

Michelson said he had been employed by Chairman Raskob of the Democratic National Committee and Chairman Shouse of the Democratic executive committee because he was presumed to know "more about publicity methods and how to make them effective than they."

"Having put me on the job," he explained, "they naturally left it to me to perform the not-at-all-mysterious task of getting before the people the Democratic side of things."

WOOD ANSWERS CHARGES OF GARNER

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Replying to the charges by Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic floor leader in the House, that the Treasury has favored contributors to the Republican campaign fund with large tax refunds, Representative Will Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, pointed out today that Garner is a member of the joint Congressional committee which passes upon all tax refunds before they are paid.

He also chided Garner for not including John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and other wealthy Democratic business men in the list of those who have received refunds from the Treasury.

DRY AGENTS DEFIED BY SPEAKEASY

Prohibition Chief Asserts Bay City Unit Powerless Against Many Resorts

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—George L. Seaver, chief prohibition enforcement agent for Northern California, said today there are many "speakeasies" in San Francisco that cannot be put out of business by the Federal prohibition unit.

He made the statement in reply to a question as to whether San Francisco has the same problem as Sacramento, where L. L. Phillips, chief agent, said legal technicalities and barred doors restrain the prohibition officers from closing 100 bars.

"The constitutional rights of the bootleggers are amazing," Col. Seaver said. "Federal officers have no police power. Unless the place is open to the public, they cannot enter without a search warrant.

"They cannot get a search warrant without first making a buy. The Sacramento agents have met barricaded doors when they arrived with search warrants. By the time the doors were broken, the proprietors had destroyed the evidence."

Oregon Railroad Case Submitted

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Direct arguments completed, three Federal judges tonight took under advisement the question of whether the Interstate Commerce Commission can force the Union Pacific Railroad to build a 185-mile railroad from Crane to Crescent Lake, Or. The court will receive supplementary briefs before making its decision.

The commission ordered the Union Pacific, through the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navagation Company, which it owns, to build the line. The Union Pacific challenged the commission's authority to force construction of the line.

Great Northern Sued for Refund

ST. PAUL, Sept. 29. (AP)—Suit for $1,329,785.98 was filed here today by the United States government against the Great Northern Railway, charging the railroad company had been overpaid that amount during government control of the railroads during and after the World War.

AVIATOR-GEOLOGIST, LONG MISSING, SAFE

PRINIICE ALBERT (Sask.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Mike Finland, aviator-geologist lost with an Indian guide since they took off from Lac La Rouge on the 16th inst. for Wollaston Lake, 400 miles north of here, was found safe today. A wireless message said the Indian had been found yesterday, making his way out of the north to get gasoline for the plane.

Marine Officer's Death Cleared

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Police announced today they had obtained evidence definitely establishing that Lieut.-Col. Richard B. Creecy of the Marine Corps had attacked his wife with a hatchet in the Mayflower Hotel yesterday and then killed himself.

William S. Shelby, captain of detectives, said police had learned Creecy had purchased the hatchet used in attacking his wife and the revolver with which he killed himself Saturday. He pronounced the case "cleared up."

Mrs. Creecy remains in a serious condition.

LEAGUE LABORS NEARING CLOSE

Adjournment of Assembly Expected by Friday

World Disarmament Plan Due in November

Council Straddles Fence on Economic Program

GENEVA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Its hardest forensic battles over disarmament and economic relief schemes concluded, the eleventh assembly of the League of Nations tonight entered its closing phase.

In the evening session the Assembly ratified the work of its six committees by adopting reports dealing with the League's manifold activities.

Among the reports was that of the disarmament committee, which recommended the preparatory commission complete in November the drafting of a plan for general disarmament so the Council may call a world conference for reduction and limitation of arms "as soon as possible."

ADJOURNMENT NEAR

Routine work will require two or three days more with final adjournment expected Thursday or Friday.

A final scrimmage occurred in the economic committee between European and overseas delegates interested in world markets for farm products. The Europeans wished to obtain the blessing of the League for their plan to set up preferential tariff rates in Europe for their goods.

Canadians, South Africans and Australians insisted the League can not actively approve of any limited group action which may operate against the interests of another state or group.

FENCE STRADDLED

Pierre Etienne Flanning, French Commerce Minister, declared overseas countries were, by their attitude, obstructing the League's work. This controversy was settled by permitting the minutes of the meetings to record the sentiments of both parties to the argument without indorsement or condemnation in the committee's resolutions.

Two major questions still remain before committees. One of these, proposals for amending the League covenant in harmony with the Kellogg pact, developed strong divergence of opinion and was sent to a subcommittee.

Another question concerns reform of the secretariat. There is much difference of opinion on this and it is unlikely any plan will be adopted before adjournment.

CLARK ASKED TO RUN FOR MAYOR IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Friends of Sheldon Clark, high official of the Sinclair Oil Company, circulated petitions today calling for his nomination as Republican candidate for Mayor in 1931. At the same time a petition was sent to Col. A. A. Sprague, head of the Association of Commerce Crime Prevention Committee, asking that he be a Democratic candidate. The latter move was made by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

ANNUAL SAFETY MEETING OPENS

Australian Governor Talks to Assembly Via Radio

Speeches at Pittsburgh Also Relayed to Antipodes

Commendation from Hoover Read to Delegates

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 29. (AP)—Gov. Lord Somer of Sydney, Australia, opened the nineteenth annual safety congress and exposition in Pittsburgh this morning with an address delivered from the studios of radio station VK2ME at Sydney and relayed to Pittsburgh, where it was broadcast by station KDKA. A few minutes later Miller McClintock of Harvard University and Maj. Harry Steereclark of Vancouver, B. C., delivered addresses here that were relayed to Australia by the short-wave station of KDKA.

More than 3000 delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada had arrived in time for the international broadcast, which took place between 7 and 7:30 o'clock, eastern standard time. An attendance of 7000 was expected for the sessions tonight.

PRESIDENT'S PLEA

Retiring President C. E. Pettibone urged safety men to endeavor to impress upon the people that "accidents have definite causes—that they don't just happen."

"All social progress is slow," he said, "but the significant fact about the accident prevention movement is that it is becoming better understood. The interpretation of it by many agencies is developing a deeper interest and stability, and the already known principles and technique need only be persistently and continuously expanded to have safety become an integral part of every-day living."

The James A. Holmes award for outstanding safety accomplishments over a period of six years was presented to the Lehigh Portland Cement Company of Allentown, Pa., at the meeting.

HOOVER MESSAGE

A message from President Hoover was read by the safety council president.

"I deeply appreciate the value of the work of the National Safety Council in efforts to prevent frightful loss of human life due to preventable accidents in industry and elsewhere," President Hoover said. "The death by accidents of almost 100,000 persons in one year in the United States is a challenge to the resourcefulness of the nation to devise measures to eliminate this disastrous loss both of economic assets and of precious human values. Most of it is preventable and your educational campaigns to teach the methods of such prevention are worthy of all praise."

AIR RACES UNDER FIRE

The Chicago air races of the past summer were declared by John Temple Graves II, publisher of the Age-Herald, Birmingham, Ala., to have advertised the dangers of flying. He said the aviation industry is supported by "safety and propaganda," and advised the industry to abandon stunt flying with its accidents if it does not want aviation news to contain long lists of air accidents.

Louis I. Dublin, statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, New York, outlined to the congress the statistics of accidents in the United States during 1929, showing that among males accidents accounted for more deaths than anything else except heart disease. He said the increase of the accident death toll to 97,000 can be attributed largely to increased motor traffic, since the automobile death toll alone increased 3000 over that of 1928.

Baltimore was awarded the "safest city" emblem.

Nervous Bandits Rob Rich Couple

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Two nervous robbers, their faces masked with handkerchiefs, robbed William V. Kelley, 70-year-old multimillionaire, and Mrs. Kelley in their Lake Bluff mansion last night.

All they got was about $200, for they became alarmed when an automobile turned into the private driveway, and left in a hurry.

EX-KING AMANULLAH TO RECEIVE NOTHING

TEHERAN (Persia) Sept. 29. (AP) It was reported today the Afghan National Council has voted against the request of former King Amanullah for the return of his property, and has adopted a resolution demanding return of state jewels which he is asserted to have retained in his possession.

The Council approved resolutions for constitution of a National Assembly and assemblies of municipalities, towns and provinces, and decided to reinstate the decorations, titles and the tricolored flag abolished by Amanullah.

TIDAL WAVE IN RIVER ENDANGERS ITALIANS

LEGHORN, Sept. 29. (AP)—A hurricane piled up a tidal wave in the Cecina River near here today, flooding the town of Cecina to a depth of seven feet. Thousands of citizens took refuge in the second stories of houses or on roofs. The railroad line to Rome was washed out for half a mile. Soldiers rescued inhabitants with the use of skiffs. There are no dead or injured.

KINGSFORD-SMITH, ILL, HAS TO PUT OFF HOP

LONDON, Sept. 29. (AP) — Maj. Charles Kingsford-Smith, trans-Atlantic flyer, will not be able to start his proposed flight to Australia for several days, as he is ill with influenza. The Australian airman returned from the continent recently after an appendicitis operation and removal of his tonsils.

DIXIE LEE WEDS BING CROSBY

James Rennie Signs Contract With First National; Charles King Returns to M.-G.-M. from Trip Abroad; Mary Eaton Going Back to London Stage

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

DIXIE LEE

Another romance in Hollywood culminated in marriage yesterday when Dixie Lee, under contract to Fox, was wed to Bing Crosby, member of Gus Arnheim's orchestra and one of the original Rhythm Boys.

Although the two have been going together ever since last January, they were able to keep their plans to wed secret, and even Mrs. M. M. Wyatt, Dixie's mother, did not know of the projected marriage until yesterday morning.

The wedding took place at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Hollywood, with Father Stack performing the ceremony. Betty Zimmerman, an old school friend of Miss Lee's, was bridesmaid, while Edward Crosby, the bridegroom's brother, stood up as best man.

It was through her chum, Marjorie White, that Miss Lee met Crosby. They were introduced at a party given by Miss White last January. Miss Lee's real name, it was revealed, was Wilma Wyatt, and thus it was possible for she and her fiance to apply for a wedding license without being discovered.

There isn't to be any honeymoon trip, since both young people are too busy in their professions at this time to be able to spare time to go away.

POPULAR ACTOR AT FIRST NATIONAL

JAMES RENNIE

As was to be expected, First National officials have decided not to let James Rennie get away from them, and have signed the actor on a long-term contract. By this contract the organization will have Rennie's services during the next five years.

"Broad-minded" is slated to be Rennie's first vehicle under the agreement. In it he will be co-featured with Fred Kohler. The screen play is an original which three writers had a hand in building. The story is credited to Humphrey Pearson, Henry McCarty and Edgar Allen Woolf. Clarence Badger will direct.

After that it is probable that Rennie will start alone in "Captain Blood," the Sabatini story.

The actor is well known to the New York stage, where he appeared in a number of successes, including "Young Love," in which Dorothy Gish, his wife, played opposite; "Madelaine of the Movies," "The Love Habit," "The Best People" and others. He has lately appeared in leading roles in a number of First National pictures.

Before beginning work in the talkers under his new contract, Rennie will visit New York and will quite likely take a trip abroad.

Charles King Returns

Following a tour of Europe, Charles King, "Broadway Melody" star, is back at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio to resume his film work.

The actor, who went abroad for three months in response to demands for personal appearances in connection with the showings of "The Hollywood Revue of 1929" and "Chasing Rainbows," played a three weeks' engagement in London, later making appearances in Amsterdam, Holland; Dublin, Ireland; Paris and Berlin.

"They are wild about American talkies all over Europe," King said yesterday. "The English language seems to be understood everywhere."

King's last picture was "Remote Control," in which he played the role of a radio singer.

Mary Eaton to Stage

Mary Eaton, in private life Mrs. Millard Webb, is returning to the stage.

She will go to London to join the new Paul Murray show, which will star two others besides Miss Eaton.

The actress before her marriage was well known to Broadway as leading lady and star of many New York musical successes.

Marjorie Rambeau With M.-G.-M.

Marjorie Rambeau's genius is being discovered in the movies. She has just signed with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to appear in three pictures.

Miss Rambeau is noted from one end of the country to the other because of her capable acting in a variety of roles. She has starred in New York in several productions.

Liberty Is Busy

JUDITH BARRIE

Having finished "Ex-Flame," which is box-office for "East Lynne," Liberty Productions is planning a fresh onslaught.

The next picture to go into production, according to Victor Halperin, will be "Davy Jones's Locker," which will be a story of the sea's buried treasure. It is to be made on the wide film, as was also "Ex-Flame," and will have some unusual photography, the producers promise. Special apparatus for under-sea photography has been devised.

Victor Halperin, who directed "Ex-Flame," also will direct "Davy Jones's Locker." It is likely that Norman Kerry will play the leading male role, while Judith Barrie probably will play the feminine lead.

Molly McIntyre Here

If you chance to remember that quaint stage play, "Bunty Pulls the Strings," you will probably also remember the charming and very youthful Molly McIntyre, who played Bunty.

Miss McIntyre has been busy on the stage ever since, but has now come to Hollywood, and is likely to enter pictures at any moment.

Lillian West Chosen

Graduates of the Mack Sennett School continue to pour into the so-called spoken drama of the movies.

Now it is Lillian West, who began her picture career in the pie-throwing era, who has been cast in a Paramount film. Miss West is to play the role of Martha in Ruth Chatterton's vehicle, "The Right to Love."

Ground Broken for Fraternity House at U.C.

Ground-breaking exercises yesterday marked the beginning of construction at Landfair and Strathmore streets, Westwood, on the new $50,000 fraternity house of Upsilon Chapter of Sigma Pi at U.C.L.A. The new structure, which will be of California colonial style, will be built by Earl W. Chester Company. John Landon is the architect.

Paul Grow, chairman of the board of directors of Upsilon Chapter Building Association, officiated at the ceremonies, attended by several hundred members of Sigma Pi Fraternity from all over Southern California.

Members of the board of directors of the building association who have underwritten the new structure are Wendell Hubbard, Walter D. Kephart, John J. Landon and John Worley, all of whom are members of the Southern California Alumni Association of Sigma Pi.

The new house will have accommodations for more than twenty-five resident members.

MEMORIAL RITES FOR PERSIAN PHILOSOPHER

Memorial services for Dr. Mirza Assad Ullah Fareed, 104-year-old Persian philosopher, who died the 17th inst., will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. next Sunday in Persian Garden, 1550 Hillside Drive, Glendale. Dr. E. H. Lewis of Chicago University will deliver the memorial address. The rites will adhere to Persian custom.

ADVERTISER FOR MODELS RAID VICTIM

Detectives Hold ex-Actor and Seize List of Names; Young Women Complain

Stafford C. Campbell, 32 years of age, was interviewing two young women concerning their qualifications to be models for a sculptor soon to arrive from the East when detectives arrested him yesterday in an office at 845 South Broadway.

A list of names of other young women whom Campbell supposedly already had interviewed was appropriated by the detectives. He was locked up on a charge of false advertising. Federal authorities have been asked to join the local police in investigating his activities.

According to Captain of Detectives Hawtrey and detective lieutenants who made the arrest Campbell had induced the girls to go to the South Broadway office by advertising in a morning newspaper for girls desiring to become models. They failed to find the sculptor for whom the girls were to work. The detectives assert Campbell caused some of the girls to disrobe.

Campbell gave his home address as 2967 Sunset Boulevard. He is said to be an actor, and the divorced husband of Dulcie Cooper, an actress now in the East. The complaint against him was signed by Joan Girard of 1736 1-2 North Wilcox avenue, and Hazel Orr of 6100 De Longpre avenue.

Doors of New S.C. Gymnasium Thrown Open

With the issuing of equipment to students enrolled in the physical-education department the new gymnasium building of the University of Southern California was opened yesterday. Formal classwork will begin next Monday, it was announced by Miss Germaine Guoit, director of women's division of physical education, and William Ralph La Porte, who is the head of the men's activities.

The building has clubrooms, newest types of locker and dressing-rooms, and two swimming pools.

The program of the co-eds for the year's work includes tap, clog, folk and natural dancing and volleyball, basketball, fencing, tennis, golf, archery and swimming.

MISS FREDERICK GOES TO COURT

As Lady Lawyer, Talented Star Pleads Case

"Crimson Hour" Melodrama of Familiar Cut

Belasco Host to Audience of Admirers

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Retaining more than a hint of the sanguinary in its title, a play by Samuel Shipman and John B. Hymer came to Los Angeles last evening as "The Crimson Hour." A rechristened drama of Broadway's last season, the Belasco's latest piece here has Pauline Frederick in the role of the lawyer who learns that the Colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are not, as Mr. Kipling suspected, sisters under the skin at all, but mother and daughter.

All this—and a deal more—is brought into the pitiless white light of publicity during the Messrs. Shipman and Hymer's second act, which takes place in a courtroom. Opportunity is provided therein not only for the lady lawyer to see her past bound out before a staggered judge and jury in the shape of a daughter grown as tall as that, but also for the usual assortment of witnesses—from Carlotta Cordes, comic chorine, to Officer Callahan—to display their idiosyncrasies for the amusement of judge, jury and everybody. This is the big act of the show, and it is its own best excuse.

Like most of the creations of this playwriting duo, "The Crimson Hour" might supply an engaging pastime for inveterate playgoers who paused long enough to figure out how many other creations it managed to resemble in a single evening—but for one thing. Old connivers at this stage business, Messrs. Shipman and Hymer never allow the headlong thrust of events in any given one of their co-ordinated masterpieces to hush up quite that long.

So however much me may try to hark back to "Common Clay," "The Trial of Mary Dugan" or even—somewhat affrightedly, to be sure—to a suggestion of "Oedipus Rex" while we are watching "The Crimson Hour," the next moment we are off on still another tangent; and so it goes until we discover the clock hands point to 11 and the play—exciting, wasn't it?—is over.

It is this very quality of excitement, generously touched with pathos, mother love, sweetheart love and plain comedy, which automatically turns every critic of "The Crimson Hour" into a defeated and broken man. For the play is made of the stuff of the theater, and it has Miss Frederick to carry it higher than it ever thought of being.

Miss Frederick succeeds very well in impersonating Laura Hutchinson, the lady attorney who undertakes to pit her wisdom against that of hard-bitten Dist.-Atty. John Remington. This is only the beginning; John Remington loves her, and she likes him very, very much. Huntly Gordon, in the part of the District Attorney, rises commendably to meet his requirements, especially in the trial scene. But then all the players do their acting in the trial scene.

I would not say, however, that this trial of justice permits fully all of that to its principals. I half-expected the authors to make a little more of their love of the sensational; here, if anywhere, they might have dipped their pens a bit deeper into crimson. Their writing isn't fiery enough; it doesn't offer Miss Frederick all she deserves for joining up with the show.

But what she does is intense and always with heartfelt appreciation, and that must suffice.

Her most worthy supporters are Mr. Gordon, Ethel Jackson as the girl accused of murder, Sanford McCauley as the girl's fiance, and John Arledge as Thomas Britton, a witness. The others include George S. Spencer, Jack Thomas, Archie Hall, Elizabeth Ross, Wilbur Higby and A. S. Byron.

Comedienne of Keystone Days in 'Office Wife'

Another comedienne of the old Keystone comedy days is creating a name for herself in the talkies. She is Dale Fuller, who appears with Dorothy Mackaill and Lewis Stone in the Warner production, "The Office Wife," at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater.

Suffering an accident while appearing in a scene, Miss Fuller was kept off the screen for two years. Von Stroheim's "Foolish Wives" brought her return and she again established herself as a character actress of ability. She then played prominent character roles in "The Merry-Go-Round," "Greed," "The Wedding March," "Ben Hur," "The Argyle Case" and many others.

"Manslaughter" Next at Bard's

"Manslaughter," Paramount's picturization of Alice Duer Miller's novel, will open at Bard's Eighth and Broadway Theater Thursday, with Claudette Colbert and Fredric March in leading roles.

George Abbott, noted playwright and director, adapted the story and directed the picture. Jack Oakie in "The Sap From Syracuse," which is the current attraction at Bard's, will close tomorrow night.

EXPORTER OF FILMS HERE ON BUSINESS

Arthur Lee, extensive exporter of motion pictures, arrived here last night. In his capacity of foreign distributor for many film concerns he exports millions of feet of Hollywood's product every year and is considered an authority on the distribution of motion pictures abroad. While here he will go over details of a Spanish production being made by his own organization, the Amer-Anglo Corporation, at the Larry Darmour studios.

Romance Plays Part in "Big Trail"

John Wayne and Marguerite Churchill

In a scene from the outdoor picture, which has its world premiere at Grauman's Chinese Theater Thursday night. The production was filmed entirely in Fox Grandeur.

'All Quiet' to Be Screened at Fox Boulevard

Lewis Milestone's film version of Erich Maria Remarque's noval, "All Quiet on the Western Front," is scheduled for a week's run at the Boulevard Theater, starting Thursday.

Adhering closely to the vividness and reality of the novel, Milestone has made a screen epic, depicting the lives of seven youthful German school boys who go off to war in a frenzy of patriotism only to find sorrow and death.

Lewis Ayers has the leading male role, as the youthful German school boy, who is swept from his classroom into a mad war, and Louis Wolheim, as the hard-boiled but understanding sergeant, furnishes the comedy relief.

Human Nature Study Provides Career Basis

The study of human nature in a police court provided a large part of the foundation for the success of Anne Caldwell, well-known librettist, now under contract to R.-K.-O. studios.

In addition to furnishing the story, lyrics and dialogue for a number of talkie successes, including "Dixiana," she has also scored in the theater field. Miss Caldwell is the author of "Uncle Sam," which starred John Barrymore, her second effort for the stage. Her first play was "The Nest Egg."

Miss Caldwell is responsible for the lyrics of "Half Shot at Sunrise," featuring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, which is now playing at the Orpheum Theater.

French Colony Invited to See 'Madam Satan'

The French colony of Los Angeles has been invited to attend "Madam Satan" at the Criterion Theater tonight.

De Mille's new society comedy has been described as "a funny French farce" and the theater believes the situations will appeal to the Gallic sense of humor, which delights in domestic tangles, surrounded with humor.

Although "Madam Satan" relates the adventures, marital and otherwise, of the American smart set at play, the Parisian influence brought into the picture by Elsie Janis is particularly noticeable, it is said.

"Clockers" have reported to the theater management that "Madam Satan" boasts 239 laughs.

Loew's State Books Laurel, Hardy Comedy

Loew's State Theater announced Laurel and Hardy's newest comedy, "The L. & H. Murder Case," which finds the noted funsters in the roles of sleuths, as a special added attraction to the new show opening Thursday.

The comedy, which will accompany the Zane Grey drama, "Last of the Duanes," on the screen portion of the coming bill, is one reel longer than their usual farces, it is said.

By means of a large electrical scoreboard on the stage, Loew's State patrons will be offered a play-by-play view of the world series encounters between St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Athletics, starting tomorrow.

FORUM CHANGES BILL

Starting tomorrow, "Three Faces East," costarring Constance Bennett and Eric Von Stroheim, comes to Warner Brothers' Forum Theater for four days. Included in the cast are William Courteney and Antony Bushell.

ART WORK AT MAYAN PRAISED

Lobby Displays for Revue Work of Dacotah Carlisle of New York

Praise is being given by artists and illustrators to lobby displays and posters heralding "The Temptations of 1930," Broadway revue now attracting attention to the Mayan Theater.

The art work is the creation of Dacotah Carlisle, of New York, graduate of the Cooper Union School. She has been identified as an artist with several Broadway productions, notably "Floretta," for which she prepared costume plates. She was also selected from a large number of candidates to draw the official poster and program cover for the American Ballet Guild of New York this year.

"The Temptations of 1930" presents ensembles of 100 girls, trained by LeRoy Prinz, and more than a score of principals in sprightly sketches, musical divertissements and novelties, including such players as Solly Ward and Robert Emmett Keane.

Majestic Books "Old English"

"Old English," the Galsworthy play which proved popular when enacted on the stage by George Arliss and which has been made into a Warner picture, opens at the Majestic Theater Friday.

"Old English" can be compared best, it is said, to the "Disraeli" of last season, which introduced George Arliss to the talking screen. It is also the first Galsworthy drama to reach the talking screen.

A distinguished cast supports the star, including Ivan Simpson, Doris Lloyd, Betty Lawford, Leon Janney, Harrington Reynolds, Reginald Sheffield, Murray Kinnell, Ethel Priffies and Henrietta Goodman.

Paramount Film to Be Screened

Presenting an imposing list of Hollywood's comedy and musical players, "Let's Go Native," merry melange of humor and tuneful numbers, comes to the new Fox Wilshire Theater Thursday.

Jeanette MacDonald and James Hall play the romantic leads and sing two songs, "My Mad Moment" and "It Seems to Be Spring." Jack Oakie and Skeets Gallagher provide the comedy touches. Kay Francis, David Newell, William Austin, Eugene Pallette and Charles Sellon complete the cast.

Roles Given Three Players

Three players of action story roles in Hollywood have been added to the cast of "The Utah Kid," Rex Lease's first western vehicle at Tiffany, which Richard Thorpe will direct.

Thomas Santschi, Walter Miller and Boris Karloff, all well known for their leading and character roles in dramatic types of outdoor pictures, are the trio.

MRS. IRISH WILL TALK TO BREAKFAST CLUB

"What I Learned in Europe" is to be the subject of a talk tomorrow morning by Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, member of the Los Angeles Traffic Commission and leader in club and musical life of the city, before members of the Breakfast Club. Mrs. Irish recently returned from a six-months' trip abroad, during which she made observations of traffic-control methods employed by large cities. Margot Fischer, soprano; Arnold Tolli, baritone; James Goss, basso, and David Rubinoff, violinist, will entertain. C. C. Tanner and Joseph Zoellner, Jr., are to be hosts, with Charles S. Hutson presiding.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

IRENE RICH will shortly shine as a star of the stage.

Long a favorite of the screen, Miss Rich has been chosen by William Le Baron of the R.-K.-O. studio for an important role in "Women Who Take," by Jane Murfin, the first play at the Mason Theater under Metropolitan Productions.

Rehearsals will be launched this morning. The first curtain will rise in four weeks, or about October 27.

IRENE RICH

Miss Rich, who read the play some time ago, is reported to be enthusiastic about her role. It is that of a smart young widow who finds herself involved in a triangular situation.

And, incidentally, this is the first time that the picture star has been seen on the Los Angeles stage. She had a couple of chances to appear for A. H. Woods in New York last season, but at the moment was tied up with her vaudeville contract.

If the play is a success here, it will go on to New York. And, of course, there is always the chance that Miss Rich may play her selfsame role in pictures.

Bert Lytell in New Play

When Bert Lytell and Mrs. Lytell (Grace Mencken) return from San Francisco, where they are appearing in "Brothers" for Henry Duffy, they will appear in a new play, "The Ship Sails Away," by Peter Dunne, it was told yesterday. Details of production haven't been set yet.

More of "Kongo" Cast

Here are several cast additions to "Kongo," the tropical drama which is to be seen at the Vine-street Theater next. They are Ted Adams, William Lawrence, George Barry, Buddy Clark, Phillip Rider, Curtis Nero and Aimee Torriani. As previously announced, Charles B. Middleton, Nita Cavalier and Leora Spellman have the leads.

"Kongo," as many playgoers may recall, is that hair-raising thriller in which "Dead Legs" Flint is the principal character.

Hollywood Playhouse Dark

The Hollywood Playhouse will be dark after tonight's performance of "Thin Ice," until the arrival of "Little Orchid Annie." The "Thin Ice" company, with Francis X. Bushman and Aileen Pringle, goes to Oakland tomorrow for an engagement.

"Little Orchid Annie" with Betty Bronson in the title role is now playing at the Geary Theater in San Francisco.

New York Notes

John Henry Mears is returning to theatrical production with "The Queen at Home" a comedy by Shirley Warde and Vivian Cosby, which was announced for production late last season by Paul Moss. The play will go into rehearsal next Monday and open in Great Neck on October 25.

"The Man, Holland," is now the title of the play in which Paul Muni will be starred. It was tried out as "The Man Saul" and then announced as "Twice Born." The Broadway opening date is October 22.

Lionel Pape has been engaged for the Thompson Buchanan play, "As Good as New," which Charles Dillingham is producing. Other members of the cast wil be Otto Kruger, Vivienne Osborne and Marjorie Gateson.

Marion Harris will enter the cast of "The Second Little Show" at the Royale Theater tomorrow night. She will sing a group of new songs.

Hugh Dobbs May Be Held Over at R.-K.-O. Theater

There is a probability that the engagement of Hugh Barrett Dobbs at the R.-K.-O. Theater will be extended for an additional three days, or until Saturday, according to an announcement. "Capt. Dobbsie," as he is known to his radio fans, is the conductor of the daily "Happy Time" broadcast, and is making the local stage appearance with his company of fifteen entertainers.

Dobbs's act at the R.-K.-O. is being presented as a special attraction in addition to the regular film and vaudeville show. Currently on the screen is "Outside the Law," an underworld drama. The cast includes Owen Moore, Edward G. Robinson and Mary Nolan. Delmar Watson, 4-year-old "find," also has an important part.

The vaudeville is headed by the Berkoffs, dancers.

Epic Picture to Close Run at President

The sound version of D. W. Griffith's classic motion-picture, "The Birth of a Nation," concludes a successful two-weeks' engagement at the President Theater today.

Tomorrow ushers in "Our Blushing Brides," starring Joan Crawford, the opening feature of the new policy. Anita Page and Dorothy Sebastian are again seen with Miss Crawford in roles similar to those they portrayed in "Our Dancing Daughters" and "Our Modern Maidens." Harry Beaumont directed.

In response to the requests for news reel programs received since the theater abandoned the news reel name and policy, it is announced that a modified form of the news reel idea is to be incorporated into each program.

NEW KERR LINE CRAFT TO CALL

Fourth and Fifth in Fleet of Seven Due Shortly

Group to Give Regular Globe Girdling Service

Fortnightly Departures for Orient on Docket

BY WALDO DRAKE

Operation of Kerr Line's new fleet of seven British express motorships out of Los Angeles Harbor in regular around-the-world freight service was indicated in announcement yesterday that the Kerr liners Silverpalm and Silverteak will call here for cargo on October 4 and 19, respectively. These new motor liners will be the fourth and fifth of the new fleet to load here for the Orient at fortnightly intervals.

Addition of the seven fifteen-knot globe circlers will give the local port a total of seventeen motorships operating westward from Los Angeles Harbor in Kerr Line services. The two lines already using the port as Pacific Coast terminus include the four-ship Pacific-Philippines-Straits-India service, with sailings monthly, and the six-ship Pacific Java-Calcutta service, on a twenty-eight-day frequency.

In this latter fleet, the Kerr motorship Silverhazel is now loading more than 6000 tons of Los Angeles freight for Far East delivery, of which the major portion is 107,000 cases of kerosene for Calcutta and a shipment of motor cars for the East Indies. She will sail October 4. On the same run, the Silverray will come in October 8 to load 5000 tons, while on October 6 the Silverguava will bring in a cargo from the Orient and sail November 5 with 5000 tons of local cargo for the Manila-Singapore range.

Capt. Harry H. Birkholm, district manager of the General Steamship Corporation, agent for the Kerr Line, said yesterday that freight offerings for the three Kerr services are steadily improving, both westbound and eastbound, and that heavy bookings are promised for at least the next three months.

The Damsterdyk, sister ship of the Delftdyk, latest and finest addition by the Holland-America Line to its Pacific Coast-European service, has started on its maiden voyage from Rotterdam to Cristobal, the Canal Zone, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Vancouver, Seattle and Portland.

Built at the Wilton Shipyards at Rotterdam, the Damsterdyk is a motor ship, 509 feet long, equipped with Diesel twin-screw engines and a specially constructed rudder to add speed. Handsome public rooms, spacious library, airy lounge with large windows and glass doors, glass-inclosed promenade deck and an excellent dining-room are among the new vessel's attractive features. Each passenger room is outside, adjoins a private bath and has two beds.

The Damsterdyk was designed by Dr. William Meyer, head of the technical staff of the Holland-America Line at Rotterdam. She is due in Los Angeles early in October.

POETICAL SKIPPER TO TAKE OUT NEW MOTOR LINER

Capt. Gerhard Johannsen, captain of Klaveness Line's twenty-eight-ship cargo fleet and "poet laureate" of the Norwegian merchant marine, will this afternoon take Klaveness' new trans-Pacific motorship Roseville to the Orient on her maiden voyage with a full load of Pacific Coast freight.

Her sister ship in service, the Pleasantville, will arrive this morning from the Orient to discharge 2740 tons of rubber, silk, copra and sesame seed and will sail outward Friday after loading kerosene for Hongkong.

Appointment of J. A. Lombard as the firm's special agent to handle imports of coffee, cocoa, tea and spices via the company's lines was announced yesterday by the General Steamship Corporation. Mr. Lombard, who will have his offices at San Francisco, is said to be the first technical expert engaged by an American ship concern for handling these commodities.

The General Steamship Corporation also announced increased sailings of French Line ships to Europe, during October and November, to handle the "anticipated seasonal upturn in European trade." Sailings in October will include the liners Wyoming, Arizona and Winnipeg, and in November the Oregon, Nevada and Wisconsin.

H. E. Nicholas, marine surveyor, will leave today to study the possibilities of salvaging the purse seiner Welfare, which went ashore at Punta Canoas, 300 miles south of here. The craft struck a reef in the dark. Two of the crew remaining at the wreck, the others making their way by burros and horse-drawn rigs to Ensenada, whence they returned here by ship.

Abraham Frank, vice-president and general manager of the Ambassador Hotel Corporation, Los Angeles, was among the 115 passengers sailing for Hawaii yesterday on the Lassco flagship City of Los Angeles. He has been in poor health recently. Other travelers included Miss Miriam Leilani, native Hawaiian coloratura soprano, who has been studying in New York, and Lieut. Alexis Klotz, flyer of Pasadena. The liner is on the first of a series of quick-turn-around trips.

Rounding out his fifty-ninth year at sea, Capt. William Lyons, commodore of the American Hawaiian fleet, brought in the motorship Californian yesterday with 1200 tons of Atlantic cargo for Los Angeles discharge. He sailed on a fisherman out of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, for Labrador as a boy of 11. For the last forty-three years he has been with American Hawaiian Steamship Company and its predecessors. Capt. Lyons has the distinction of taking the first ship, the Missourian, through the Panama Canal in 1914.

An interpreter of Chinese has been added to the local immigration station, which recently obtained a Japanese interpreter to handle increasing human traffic from the Orient. The new interpreter is Arthur Lem, Chinese American, born here, and a graduate of Polytechnic High School. Harry Hannah has been transferred from the border as an additional inspector, giving the station eight inspectors, two interpreters, three clerks and five guards. The personnel has doubled in three years.

GOV. BERNAL TO REGISTER ALL ALIENS

Lower California Edict Has Limit of Sixty Days; Fees Will Be Charged

MEXICALI, Sept. 29. (Exclusive) All foreigners residing on Lower California territory are required to register and supply data relative to their nationality, occupation and place of residence within sixty days, according to an edict signed by Gov. Bernal here today.

The registration, it was explained, is for the purpose of compiling a general census of foreigners in the district. A fee of five pesos for adults and two pesos for children is to be charged.

Those affected by the regulation may register at Mexicali, Tia Juana, Ensenada and other designated points where public registration officers will be located. The applicant must appear in person before the registering official.

Americans attempting to enter Mexico with Mexican silver to be exchanged were turned back at the port of entry today with the explanation that it is against the law to import money into the country. Unofficially it was stated that the regulation is being enforced at this time as a part of a general program to stop the further market decline of Mexican silver, which has reached the lowest point recorded in two years.

MURDER OF COUPLE LAID TO BANDITS

Stockton High School Girl Found Stabbed and Companion Shot to Death

STOCKTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Miss Sophie Stetz, 19 years of age, Stockton High School student, and R. L. Morris, 46, driver of a for-rent automobile, were found dead here today. Police expressed belief they had been killed by a bandit. The girl had been stabbed and the man shot to death. Andrew Stetz, a brother, said the girl had not been home for three days.

Morris, who resided at 1251 West Elm street, was married and the father of three children. Morris was shot through the stomach. The girl was stabbed through the neck and apparently had been struck on the forehead with a wrench. Her clothes were badly torn. A sedan automobile parked near the bodies had a bullet hole through its cowl.

Officers believe the two were slain Sunday morning. V. Fugazzi, employee of the city pumping plant, saw the girl lying on the ground and the man sitting up yesterday at 4 p.m. This morning at 4 o'clock he passed them again and investigated, finding them dead. Deputy Coroner Buthenuth said that Morris probably was dead yesterday when Fugazzi passed the scene. He believes Morris died while sitting up.

The murdered girl later was identified by her brother Andrew, 561 West Eighth street.

SAN DIEGO AUTOIST TRIES WRONG TUNNEL

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—A. H. Bauer of San Diego admitted today the Twin Peaks street-car tunnel here is not a practical route for automobiles. Bauer was at the west portal of the tunnel Saturday night and asked a storekeeper if the bore led back to San Francisco. The storekeeper said yes, believing Bauer was on his way to take a street car. Street-car traffic in the tunnel was tied up more than an hour while workmen hoisted Bauer's automobile from the excavation under the tracks near the west entrance.

Bolsa Chica Oil Directors Again Omit Dividend

Directors of Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation yesterday voted to omit the quarterly dividend of 2 per cent on the $10 par Class A stock due at the present time, making the second consecutive dividend to be omitted.

The company stated that the board took this action in view of the effect of the oil-curtailment program and to conserve cash for current development expenses.

Voting control now passes from the B stock to the A stock. No statement was made by the company as to what effect this would have, although it is understood that the holders of the majority of the A stock are favorable to the present management. The company's next annual meeting will be held on the third Thursday in April.

DROP FORECAST IN OIL OUTPUT

World Production Decrease for 1930 Estimated at 44,000,000 Barrels

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Valentin R. Garfias, manager of the foreign oil department of Henry L. Doherty & Co., operating managers of the Cities Service Company, estimates world crude oil production for 1930 at close to 1,440,000,000 barrels, a decrease of 44,000,000 from 1929, as compared to an increase of 161,000,000 in the previous year.

Mr. Garfias said crude stocks in storage at the end of this year will be a little larger than at the end of last year, but pointed out that the rate of increase had been reduced. He estimated the reduction in crude output in the United States at 69,000,000 barrels, partially offset by increases elsewhere.

COPPER TARIFF CRY GROWS

Recent Entry of Eastern Canada Refineries on World Market Stirs New Action

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by The North American Newspaper Alliance.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Copper prices have again declined and are now around the 10-cent-a-pound level, as against 18 cents six months ago. Surplus copper piles up.

A "tariff on copper" movement is under way in vigorous style. The recent development in the production of electrolytic copper from the new refineries of Eastern Canada, which are largely owned by British and Canadian capital, has had something to do with the new agitation.

It seems these latest refineries have started work in the Canadian copper mines in some of which a large amount of nickel is also present. The copper is being produced, in many cases, as a by-product and at a very cheap cost. It is now coming to the American market.

Along with this, there are rumors of mergers of various copper companies in a new effort to stabilize the industry.

An American tariff on copper is being more widely discussed in big circles today than ever before.

William Z. Ripley, Harvard University professor who laid out ten years ago the first plan of railroad consolidation for the Interstate Commerce Commission, declares in World's Work this month that consolidation in trunk-line territory is necessary if the railroads are to continue to operate.

Other forms of transportation, he says, are becoming a real menace to the integrity of railroad property. Waterways, bus highways, pipe lines for gas and oil, and the electrical super-power systems are among those mentioned.

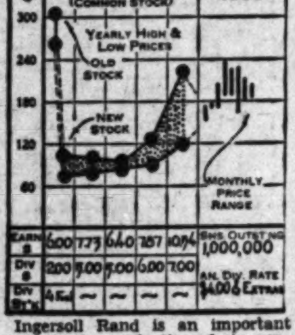
Think of a new motor speedway between New York and New Haven to cost $200,000,000—good for speed, bad for railroad revenue! Think of the hundreds of millions being spent yearly in better highways for bus transportation; and hundreds of millions more expected to go into the fifteen-year inland waterways program "which will ultimately cost the United States more than the entire construction of the Panama Canal."

Prof. Ripley has changed his mind in several particulars since he wrote his first report on railroad consolidation. He now approves, for example, the merger of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific. He previously recommended merging the Great Northern with the Milwaukee and the Northern Pacific with the Burlington.

Basically, the contention of Prof. Ripley is that the competition from new forms of transportation is growing greater each year and, therefore, consolidations in trunk-line territory have become a necessity "in order that railroads may not only stand firmly on their feet, but also that they may be enabled to run."

It will be good news to the friends of Prof. Ripley to learn that he has fully recovered from his long and severe illness. His future contributions in the field of railroad consolidation should be invaluable.

WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR STOCK



Ingersoll Rand is an important factor in the production of air compressors, pneumatic tools, condensers, rock drills, general mining machinery, oil and gas engines, and oil well gas compressors. In conjunction with American Locomotive and General Electric, the company produces an oil-electric locomotive. Manufacturing operations are conducted in five plants in the United States and one in Canada. Sixty-two branch offices in the United States and important centers throughout the world keep the company in close contact with the many lines of industry to whom its products are distributed.

Net income for 1929 was 33 per cent in excess of the 1928 showing and marked the highest point in a decade of steadily expanding earning power. Interim earnings are not available, but it is believed that the company's strong position in the trade will give it a good share of the available business, though it is not anticipated that the extraordinary earnings of last year can be duplicated.

CAPITALIZATION

BANK QUESTIONS UP AGAIN

Cleveland Convention Significant on Possibility of New Stand on Branch System Expansion

BY EARLE E. CROWE

For a few days this week financial attention will be diverted in part, at least, from the sliding stock market and business worries to the sage comments of the nation's financial and business leaders at the Cleveland bank convention.

Bankers in particular will closely watch expressions on branch and group banking. The proposed consolidation in California of the Bank of Italy and the Bank of America of California should force the issue before the American Bankers' Association and possibly impel the national body to make a definite statement on the whole question.

ACTION WITHHELD

At last year's convention in San Francisco the association declined to take a definite stand on a recommendation made at that time by Controller of Currency Pole for extension of branch banking by national banks. He advocated the granting of permission to establish branches throughout Federal Reserve districts or within natural economic trade areas.

As a body the American Bankers' Association has been opposed to the extension of branch banking by national banks. The liberalizing features of the McFadden Act were bitterly fought in the memorable convention in Los Angeles in 1926, but since that time the tenor of opinion in the association has been gradually changing. The opposition to extension is not nearly so marked, but still the record stands against any further change in the law.

Active support by the association of national bank expansion would undoubtedly influence the Congressional committees studying the question and probably hasten the passage of the necessary legislation through Congress. Utilizing times of depression for expansion by banks would certainly not interfere with the national movement for stimulation of business activities.

CHAIN CONTROL SOUGHT

Controller of Currency Pole has also urged the granting to Federal banking authorities of control over chain or group banks. As holding companies these groups are outside the banking laws and are able to expand virtually at will. One or two of these chains now run into more than one Federal Reserve district while ambitious national banks operating branches are rigidly restrained by the terms of the McFadden law.

The Cleveland convention may also consider indorsement of the proposal to allow State banks to join the Federal Reserve system regardless of the number of branches established since the passing of the McFadden law. As the law now stands, the proposed union of the Bank of Italy and Bank of America will not include about fifty branch banks opened since the McFadden law went into effect. This provision considerably affects the amount of economies possible through the consolidation of the two bank systems.

ILLINOIS UTILITY EARNINGS INCREASE

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Illinois Power and Light Corporation and subsidiaries for the twelve months ended August 31, last, today reported net income of $7,580,832 after all charges and prior charges of subsidiaries as against $6,586,436 in the preceding twelve months. After preferred dividends, the balance for common stock and surplus was $4,080,660 as compared with $3,414,766 in the preceding twelve months.

BARNSDALL OIL COVERS DIVIDENDS

Full Year Requirements Earned in Eight Months' Period

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Net earnings of Barnsdall Corporation after all charges including Federal taxes for the eight months ended August 31, last, were sufficient to cover the company's dividend requirements for the full year, it was reported here today.

In the first six months of this year the company showed net income after Federal taxes of $3,367,440, equal to $1.49 a share on 2,254,725 outstanding shares of combined Class A and B, against $4,115,253, or $1.83 a share on 2,247,245 shares in the first half of 1929.

For the nine months ended September 30, 1929, net income totaled $5,721,706, or $2.52 a share on 2,256,747 shares.

The company's stock on which the regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share has just been declared is on a $2 annual basis.

Fishers Plan Early Start on New Building

DETROIT, Sept. 29.—As an aid to the stimulation of business activities in this city, the Fisher brothers today announced plans for the immediate erection of a ten-story building on a site near the Fisher Building. It was originally intended to start the building late in 1931.

The Fisher announcement said in part:

"When we erected the Fisher Building, we looked forward to the growth and development of this section and purchased adjacent property for extension purposes. Our program at that time called for the erection of a new building in the fall of 1931.

"We have decided to anticipate our previous plans and begin the construction of a new building at once for the reason that we feel that by taking this course it will serve as an incentive for others to proceed with normal expansion and thus assist in the solving of the unemployment problem.

"We want, further, to give a practical demonstration of our continued and steadily growing faith in the future of Detroit."

WALKER AT BANK MEET

George W. Walker, chairman of the executive committee of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank, is attending the national convention of the American Bankers' Association at Cleveland this week. Mr. Walker has been visiting important financial centers in the East for the past three weeks. He is expected to return to Los Angeles shortly after the convention closes.

BEARS CONTINUE GRIP ON MARKET

Price Index Hammered Down to Year's New Low

Selling Pressure Especially Heavy in Oil Group

Sales Volume for Sessions Largest Since June

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Efforts to reverse the downward trend of share prices found Wall street still steeped in pessimism today and were quickly abandoned, permitting the general level to sink still further into new low ground for the year.

Selling was in heavy volume late and the day's turnover of 3,762,290 shares was the largest since June. The price index of ninety shares dropped 3.4 points to 149.8, or less than 10 points from the bottom touched in the October-November crash of 1929. Early several issues rose 3 points or so, but by afternoon, this upturn had been erased.

Bear pressure was said to have been in important volume, but the belief persisted real liquidation of long holdings of stocks was still going forward. Selling of the oils, rails and several industrial specialties was particularly heavy.

Further cuts in gasoline prices, with Standard of Indiana following Standard of New Jersey in its recent drop of 2 cents a gallon, prompted further selling of the oil shares. A break of more than 3 points in Texas Corporation was distinctly unsettling, and so were declines of more than 2 points in Standard of New Jersey and Standard of California. A cut in Texas Corporation's $3 annual rate was talked of, but this was discredited in quarters close to the management.

J. I. Case touched 131½, off 12 3-4 points, and within 1½ points of its low of last November. Canadian Pacific closed down 8 points, and shares finishing 4 to 6 points lower included Loew's Warner Brothers, American and Foreign Power, A. M. Byers, Johns-Manville, Worthington Pump and Vanadium. Shares closing 2 to 3 down embraced Bethlehem Steel, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, North American, Atchison, American Smelting, International Telephone, United Aircraft, and Union Carbide. United States Steel common sagged to a new low for the movement at 156 1-4, then rallied to close at 156 5-8, off 1 5-8. United Corporation and General Motors lost as much. Radio Corporation sank to new low ground, but was off only a fraction at the close.

Foreign Exchange rates moved irregularly.

Steel Holders' Roster Grows

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation on the books of record when closed for the September dividend numbered 135,504, against 129,626 in June, an increase of 5878 during the three months, it was announced here today.

At the end of March there were 124,069 stockholders; in December, 1929, 117,956, and in September, 1929, 110,166. The August dividend on the preferred stock was mailed to 59,949 stockholders, against 60,645 in May and 63,647 in August, 1929.

Diversify
Your Tax-Free Bond Holdings
with a 6% Yield

Many investors in California improvement bonds overlook the importance of geographical diversification and confine their holdings to the bonds of Southern California communities. For greater protection, we suggest the inclusion of sound Northern issues.

To this end, we maintain a selected group of 1915 Act Improvement Bonds issued by old-established and steadily growing cities in the San Francisco Bay District. These issues are backed by highly conservative property values, and principal and interest are collected along with general taxes on the same tax bill as other City or County Taxes.

These bonds yield 6%, exempt from all Federal Income Tax and California Personal Property Tax. We believe no investor in improvement district bonds can afford to overlook the safeguards which such issues offer.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stocks Again Tumble to New Bottom Levels as Bears Resume Selling Drive

A new set of values was set up on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday when shortly after the opening a sudden renewal of bear tactics wiped out Saturday's small rally and plunged the market to the lowest depths in two years. Resistance points, formerly thought impregnable, were broken in a wholesale fashion when the selling wave gathered momentum and shattered the minimum levels of nearly a dozen popular issues.

Oils were subjected to the greatest pressure and while no losses occurred in excess of 2 points, the insistent hammering of the past week, coupled with the uncovering of stop-loss orders and forced liquidation, toppled nine issues in the group of about twelve actively dealt in, to new bottom levels. Many of these were at the lowest prices in years. While a few improved slightly at the close, the movement was not of sufficient proportions to indicate a technical rally.

Rio Grande broke through 10 and closed at the bottom of 9 3-4, off 1 3-8 net. Union hit 34 and the Associates 33, the former ending at 34 1-4, off 1 net, and the latter finishing at 33 3-8, down 1 3-8 net. Standard of California struck 55 1-8 and recovered to 1-2, off 1 net, and Richfield established a new bottom at 10 5-8, closing later at 3-4 for a net loss of 5-8. Richfield preferred dropped 1 1-4 to 13 1-4 and ended at 13 1-2. Shell broke through 12 to 11 7-8, off 3-8, and Barnsdall sunk 2 points to 20. Hancock yielded 1-2 to 10 1-4, while Macmillan, on a board lot, firmed up 1-2 to 9.

The selling was not confined exclusively to the oils. Other divisions of the list continued in a downward direction even though pressure was of less proportions.

Transamerica, on a turnover of 8300 shares, hit a low at 19 5-8 and closed at 19 3-4, off 5-8 net. Edison dropped a point and finished low at 54, Pacific Lighting, Pacific Gas and Pacific Public Service lost ground on light sales.

Pacific Finance yielded 1 1-4 points to 17 3-4 and ended at 18, while Pacific American Fire Insurance spurted 3 points to 35 on the transfer of fifty shares.

Sales totaled 45,158 shares, valued at $1,303,106; previous day, 23,803 shares, valued at $770,846.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Bear operators piled stocks on market counters today and again had their way with prices. They forced sixteen issues to new low records on the San Francisco Stock Exchange, precisely one-half of these being oil stocks.

Selling was active throughout the day, in contrast with the Wall-street market where waves of buying brought intermittent rallies. No one in Montgomery street seemed anxious enough to buy to reach for stocks, so the trend was almost steadily down, while 64,372 shares were sold. They brought just a little short of two million dollars.

The absence of impressive financial, commercial, industrial and trade news left little clew to the cause of the market slippage aside from technicalities and weak commodity markets. Lower prices for grains and petroleum products caused especial pressure in the farm machinery and oil stocks.

Conservative market observers saw no reason for owners of good Pacific Coast stocks to become concerned unless there should be some catastrophic development in the offing which has as yet not been discerned. Followers of the market's technical action, however, read lower figures ahead unless a sudden check should arise.

They pointed to today's losses—Caterpillar hitting a new low at 45½, down 3⅜, from which it rallied only feebly. Crown Zellerbach preferred off 10 to a new low at 60, and new lows among the industrials by California Packing, Natomas, Langendorf A, Food Machinery, Leslie Salt and Paraffine, all down 1 to 2½ or more.

Transamerica held well through the morning, but slid a little lower late in the day to close at 19¾, down ⅝.

Oils at new lows included Standard, Richfield, North American, Union Associates, all off a point or more.

U.S. ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER SHARES, INC.

Because this largest trust of its kind in the world deals in a major industry based on necessity, representing a cash business with no inventory problems.

Its future possibilities are better appreciated when we consider that:—only about 1% of our railroad mileage is electrified; less than 75% of our industrial power load is electrically generated; more than 90% of our farms are without electricity; not 60% of our population have their homes wired.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Steel says: Sentiment continues to improve in the iron and steel market although demand has expanded only slightly. Prices are firmer in some respects but shading continues to be done on attractive business. Can makers plan operating overtime despite the drought and this is being reflected in a steady demand for tin plate. Bolt and nut buyers have covered their fourth-quarter requirements fairly well in some districts.

Garage Man Denies Guilt in Fight Slaying

Accused of the murder of Danville Rowland, 21 years of age, during an argument over a 25-cent automobile repair bill, George Knoblock, owner of a garage at 5401 South Figueroa street, yesterday pleaded not guilty when taken before Superior Judge Wood. His trial was set for October 29 in Superior Judge Fricke's court.

It is charged that the two men engaged in a fight when Rowland refused to pay a 25-cent repair bill, asserting that the work was unsatisfactory. During the fight, witnesses assert, Knoblock stabbed Rowland with a screwdriver, inflicting a fatal wound. That occurred on August 23, last, the complaint states.

PLANS FOR COTTON MEN ANNOUNCED

Co-operative Official Goes to Delano Session Seeking Association Merger

Plans for the reorganization of the California Cotton Growers' Association looking to a merger with the American Cotton Co-operative Association will be submitted for approval at a meeting tonight at Delano, C. D. Moser, vice-president of the latter association, announced on his arrival here from Texas last night.

Frank A. Cooper of Tulare, vice-president of the California Cotton Growers' Association, met Moser in Los Angeles and together they left for Delano.

Cooper came from Washington where he obtained a reversal of the Farm Board's program which planned to delay the cotton organization in California until next season.

"The Farm Board and the American Cotton Co-operative Association are ready and willing to extend the full benefit of their program to California cotton growers, and we expect to have the machinery in operation this week through which this State's cotton crop may be merchandised, and the growers receive an immediate advance of 90 per cent of the value," Moser said. "Opening operation awaits only the approval of reorganization plans which will be submitted Tuesday to directors of the California Cotton Growers' Association, and Wednesday to a general membership meeting."

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—A selling movement that developed after the curb market had rallied momentarily from Saturday's closing prices forced a wide list of shares to new low levels for the year today in declines from 1 to 8 points.

Renewal of bear pressure brought out much liquidation and trading was at a fairly brisk pace, the day's business totaling 768,800 shares. The new break came in the afternoon to take by surprise the forces which had worked for an advance with a moderate degree of success. Some pivotal stocks advanced more than a point above their previous final prices before the retreat.

The petroleum group was the hardest hit by the short selling and liquidation. Vacuum, Standard Oil of Indiana, Gulf and Standard Oil of Kentucky not only touched the lowest point in the year's trading but broke below the 1929 lows established in November. Vacuum closed at 68, a loss of 2¾, and compared with 75⅛, the 1929 low. Standard of Indiana lost 1⅛ to 44⅛, a half point under last year's low, and Standard of Kentucky rested at 27½ at the close, compared to 29 reached in November. Gulf, whose 1929 low was 115, slid down nearly 6 points to 101⅛. New bottoms for the year also were reached by Cosden, Houston, Lion, and Humble, in losses of from 1 to 4 points. Cities Service lost only ½.

Electric Bond & Share reached 65¼ and closed at 65⅞, a net loss of 3⅞. Deere dropped 8 points to a new low. American Cyanamid B, Fokker Aircraft, Western Air Express and Noranda Mining reached new lows. Cheseb'rough was off 15; Hart Schaffner & Marx, 32, and Commonwealth Edison, 11.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

BOND YIELDS AND MONEY RATES

ACCORDING to leading authorities, bond yields change very slowly, sometimes lagging as much as a year behind call money rates. This condition spells opportunity for the far-sighted investor, who wishes to anticipate higher bond prices.

Such is the situation at present. Money rates have moved steadily downward and now stand between 1½% and 3%. Bond prices have commenced to move up, particularly in the government and municipal field, but the movement has not been extended to the field of corporation bonds to any great extent.

High-grade corporation bonds such as the following may still be purchased to yield from 6% to 6½% and in a few cases even better. We offer

ALBERS BROS. MILLING COMPANY
First Mortgage 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, due 1948
Price 101 and Interest, to yield about 6%

ILLINOIS PACIFIC COAST COMPANY
6% Convertible Gold Bonds, due 1945
Price 98½ and Interest, to yield 6.15%

McKESSON & ROBBINS, INC.
5½% Convertible Debentures, due 1950
Price market, to yield about 6.50%

Complete information on these issues, together with a list of other high grade bonds, will be sent on request.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Sellers took the initiative in disposing of foreign and stock-privilege bonds today, and the price level of the bond market as reflected in the averages showed a slight recession for the first time in more than a fortnight.

Featured by the weakness of Peruvian issues down 14 and 5½ points, more than three dozen foreign bonds broke to new lows for the year. Some seasoned rails and other high-grade domestic issues recorded new high levels for the year, and United States governments were strong. Several government issues surpassed or equaled the year's high. Peru 7s dropped from 91 to 77, and the first 6s of 1960 reacted 5½ points, both obligations reaching new lows for the year.

Turnover of stock-privilege issues was the heaviest in weeks. American I. G. Chemical 5½s, down 2½ points, were heavily liquidated. The sharpest loss was suffered by Warner Brothers 6s, off 6⅞ points to 78¼, a new 1930 low.

If last price omitted, low and last are same. If low and last are omitted, high, low and last are same.

The immensely prosperous Public Utility Industry forms the basis of this distinguished Fixed Trust. Here the common stocks of America's most enterprising Public Service companies are brought together and welded into one favored strong investment. It is rightfully titled—P-u-b-l-i-c S-e-r-v-i-c-e T-r-u-s-t S-h-a-r-e-s.

Had the Trust been in force 1920 to 1929 inclusively, the average annual return would have amounted to over 22%, based on the average price of the shares for the period. Also, had the attractive reinvestment plan offered by the Trust been exercised, a $1,000 investment would have grown to $11,217.

The Pennsylvania Railroad and North American Trust Shares

The Largest Fixed Investment Trust

IMAGINE climbing into a canal boat on wheels to make the trip from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh by land and water, in from three days to a week. This was the latest thing in transportation a century ago. From this pioneer beginning grew the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Times have changed, but the Pennsylvania maintains its place among the leaders in modern transportation. Its main lines reach from Philadelphia to New York, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Detroit, Columbus, St. Louis. Its fleet of fast passenger trains—including the Broadway Limited, the Congressional Limited, the Spirit of St. Louis—are known to travelers everywhere. The chances are that you, too, have been a passenger on one or more of them.

Especially important from the standpoint of the investor, the Pennsylvania has paid a cash return to its stockholders every year since the granting of its charter in 1846—the longest unbroken dividend record of any railroad corporation.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is one of 28 great corporations the common stocks of which underlie North American Trust Shares. Each North American Trust Share gives you an interest in the common stock of each of these outstanding corporations. Read the column to the right.

Points About N. A. T. S.

1—Each NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARE represents an investment in the common stocks of 28 outstanding corporations, leaders in their respective fields.

2—An investment in NORTH AMERICAN TRUST SHARES is as sound as American industry itself. The products and services of the companies, the common stocks of which underlie this trust, are directly related to every phase of human life.

3—The underlying stocks, all of which are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, are deposited with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee. The trustee issues 2,000 N.A.T.S. upon the deposit of 4 shares each of the underlying stocks together with applicable reserve fund and accumulations.

4—The 28 underlying companies have an average unbroken dividend record of 33 years, combined total assets of more than 24 billion dollars and combined surplus and reserves of over 6.7 billion dollars.

5—N.A.T.S. are readily marketable. In addition to the established market which has been maintained at ½ point below the asked price the holder of the smallest denomination of shares may liquidate through the trustee without penalty. The holder of 500 shares or any multiple thereof may convert through the trustee into the underlying stocks.

6—Each certificate carries coupons calling for semi-annual disbursement of all distributions received by the trustee on the deposited stocks. For the past 18 years such income and capital distributions would have averaged $1.32 per share annually.

7—N. A. T. S. holders are offered rights semi-annually permitting reinvestment of all return in excess of cash dividends on deposited stocks at a discount from the asked price. This program results in retention of appreciation and maintenance of original diversification.

8—N. A. T. S. are available in denominations ranging from 10 shares to 10,000 shares. Thus an investment in the shares of 28 leading corporations can be made for less than $100.

9—Current price for N. A. T. S. per share is about Eight

October futures were heavily liquidated, but did not break through their lows. Rumors Hint Aftermath to Libel Action

Reports were current in the Hall of Justice yesterday that Dep. Dist.-Atty. Percy Hammon, in charge of grand jury matters, today will present to the jury for examination a transcript of the testimony given by Charles (Cholo) Johnson, former police officer, at the recent trial of Fred Girnau, publisher, on charges of criminally libeling Dist.-Atty. Fitts. Hammon declined to discuss the rumors.

What significance the expected move will have was not stated officially, but it is understood that it may result in a possible indictment charging subornation of perjury.

These irritant ads!

IF THERE IS COCK-SURENESS AND IRRITANT ARROGANCE . . in these advertisements of the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . please believe that it is merely a misunderstanding . . of our expectation that you will appraise our experience of 37½ years . . as warranting self-confidence.

Our self-confidence is measured by UNLIMITED LIABILITY back of $3,400,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve. It is also measured by three State records for building and loan associations back of $16,000,000 resources.

YOU TRUST EXPERIENCE WHICH WARRANTS SELF-CONFIDENCE . . yet this old-fashioned, small-town financial institution knows its limitations . . and keeps within the economical borders of expenditure . . which we have found to be safe for 37½ years . . but we'd RATHER be criticised for over-conservatism . . which implies a lack of self-confidence . . instead of too much.

We check our own self-confidence by a continuous, independent audit, published monthly. We cross-check our self-confidence by analyzing foreclosure profits. And we are grateful that a growing clientage of the past 11 years in Los Angeles likes our 10th floor evidences of economical, cautious ways.

Here is no desire to grow into bulky size and awkwardness. We've rather grown to a conservative age which desires safety and comfort, peace of mind and security, rather than awesome assets. And we'd like you to confirm that by a visit to the 10th floor.

You might as well expect your business to "run itself" as your investment list to prosper unless it is kept under closest supervision.

Every investor owes it to himself to keep posted on last-minute developments in the security market. He needs to be familiar with the latest reports on every security he owns and on new and better opportunities to employ his capital.

But busy men have neither the time nor the extensive facilities needed to get all this information at first hand. That is why so many today are turning to the Standard Statistics Company for accurate, unbiased, up-to-the-minute information and sound investment counsel that enables them to decide intelligently regarding the profitable investment of their funds.

Why they turn to Standard

These men feel they can depend on Standard's findings for five important reasons:

(1) Standard has had long experience. For 24 years—through bull and bear market alike—it has been engaged in this work.

(2) Standard is unbiased. It is not interested in the sale of any security or any group of securities. Its sole task is to gather and to interpret all the facts available on latest developments in business and the security market.

(3) Standard has the facilities and the funds to do this job thoroughly. Its staff of over 1200 people includes field investigators in leading industrial centers [illegible] and other specialists in the main office continuously interpreting business and financial information. Standard spends millions every year in research and analysis.

(4) Standard attracts clients of the highest calibre. Among them are numbered the leading banks and trust companies of North America and Europe as well as thousands of individual investors.

(5) Standard's phenomenal growth from a small company to the largest statistical, analytical and advisory organization in the world is positive proof that its counsel has been well worth following.

Whether you are interested in business or security markets as an individual investor, a trustee, banker or business executive, there is a Standard Service to fit your needs. We will be happy to point out in more detail how we think we can be of real assistance to you, if you will simply fill out and mail the coupon below. And if the investments in your charge exceed $150,000, your special attention is directed to the Standard Supervisory Service, outlined in panel above.

approximately 3000 acres are by Continental, and its is believed to embrace the probable structure on the San anticline. The Shell, Un- and Standard Oil companies drilled a test in the same vicinity. Since prospecting in that portion of San Luis county, the activity has been on by major oil companies so far none has developed unusually interesting, it reported.

Change

slight changes were made State's potential for the first month period of the oil-cur- program, beginning October 1, next, according to a session held yesterday by the advisory committee. A detailed report will probably be issued by Umpire H. Paul Grimm during the week, listing the allowables and potentials for the various producing fields in the State.

W. E. Dunlap, chairman of the fact-finding committee, together with Umpire H. Paul Grimm, Neil H. Anderson, R. E. Allen, Dwight Roberts, members of the advisory committee met to make a few changes in the new schedules. It was reported that the fact-finding committee may not meet for the present because of the minor changes in the production situation in the State.

Natural Decline

The expected natural decline of daily production from the Venice field is taking place and that district will be allowed to continue to produce under the present schedule. From one source it was indicated that any new production may not enable the Venice field to keep its daily production much greater than 20,000 barrels of oil. This is due to entrance of water in the deep producers. The shallow zone producers are expected to keep their yield fairly steady.

Decline of production in the Santa Fe Springs field has been offset by new completions in the Los Cerritos field, northwest of the Signal Hill field, the advisory committee reported. About 4000 barrels of new production has been added since the 25th inst. This was due to completions brought in by Tom Cannon, the Dixie Oil Company, K. G. Pulliam and S. S. Wortley. Several projects are swabbing in the southeasterly portion of the field and these may be on production within a week.

Preparing to Swab

The Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company is preparing to swab two projects. Its No. 36 at Kern Front and the company's No. 87 in the Midway district, are expected to be placed on production.

About 275 feet of perforated casing was landed in Chanslor-Canfield's No. 36 at Kern Front. The project is down 2224 feet. In the Midway district, the operator's No. 87 landed 375 feet of perforated casing and may start swabbing today with bottom of the hole at 2960 feet.

Work Progressing

A 1500-foot extension to the General Petroleum Corporation's 1800-foot pier in the Seacliff oil field is expected to be completed in about fifty days. This is the Needham permit extension and will permit the drilling of General's Needham No. 2.

General also is constructing a wing down the southerly edge of its Ferguson permit and will offset a recent completion brought in by the Richfield Oil Company. General's Ferguson No. 3 will be drilled at the end of the new wing.

Develops Fishing Job

A twist-off at 2140 feet of two and one-half-inch drill pipe halted drilling operations recently in the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company's Hobson A-2, two miles southeast of the Seacliff field. Drilling resumed last week with bottom of the hole at 7479 feet and progressed to 7529 feet before the twist-off occurred.

Chanslor-Canfield's Hobson A-2 developed deep production several weeks ago and, according to field scouts, definitely proved possibility of considerable acreage controlled southeast of Seacliff by the Continental Oil Company and the General Petroleum Corporation. Until Chanslor-Canfield has better production, however, there appears little likelihood that other major companies will start operations.

Completes One

The Altadena Oil Company has just placed on production its No. 1 in the Venice field. It came in at an estimated rate of 2000 barrels of oil a day from the deep zone. The Pacific Western Oil Company cleaned out to bottom its Standley-Lieber No. 1 and restored it to production and it now is flowing about 150 barrels per day. Swabbing has started on the Bishop Oil Company's No. 1.

Resumes Drilling

A fishing job has been cleaned up in the Prairie Oil and Gas Company's Sexton No. 1 due east of the Ventura-avenue oil field and it now is making progress with the drill below 7518 feet in sandy shale formation. Mechanical difficulties developed several weeks ago when drill pipe froze. Near Lompoc, Prairie Oil's Packard No. 4 is drilling below 5561 feet in hard, gray sand.

Common Stockholders Take the Risk of Loss

Prominent Utility Executive Shows That Public Utility Holding Companies Should Be Allowed Freedom From Restrictive Legislation In Making Investments

Why holding companies, as owners of common stock in operating utility companies, should be given the incentive to take progressive steps by being allowed freedom of action, is demonstrated by a widely known utility executive.

He makes clear why the risk of loss must be offset by the privilege of profitable investment as a necessary motive force. Regulation of the operating company, with freedom of the holding company is shown to be to the public's best interests. In proof and explanation of this he said:

"A man's resentment at a search of his house is at least as great if he is innocent of wrong-doing as it would be if he were harboring a criminal. If one were required to report his actions to a policeman at every block, his annoyance and protest would not necessarily indicate guilt.

"The fact that the electric industry is 'affected with a public interest' does not alter the situation because the holding company exists within a field completely circumscribed by state regulation. In other words, the interests of the consumer have been taken care of before a cent of revenue accrues to the holding company.

Based on Misconception

"The demand for regulation of electric light and power 'holding' companies seems to be based on a misconception of the electric industry, which in actuality is a thing in action, growing, changing, improving all the time. We have to recognize spirit, motive, incentive, initiative and enterprise as the real driving forces which give life to this industry, as they give life to all human accomplishments.

"By purchasing the common stocks of operating power companies and by continuing ownership of these securities, the holding companies make possible a progressive policy of service extensions and rate reductions.

Little Likelihood of Loss

"If the service is extended into new territories there is little likelihood that either the bondholders or preferred stockholders will be subject to loss. If rates are reduced in the expectation that consumption will thereupon increase, the investment of the bondholders and preferred stockholders is not likely to be jeopardized whether the increased consumption materializes or not.

"In either case it is the common stockholder who risks the possibility of loss. It is the industry's job not only to meet the present demand of present consumers at present prices, but also to increase the uses of electricity, to extend it to an increasing number of consumers, and to make it constantly less expensive.

"These extensions of service, reductions of rates and increases in consumption are the very keynote of the industry's growing usefulness to the nation. How are they accomplished? They are all made possible by the assumption of responsibility by the holders of the operating companies' common stocks—who in most cases are the public utility investment or 'holding' companies.

Character of Common Stock Ownership

"No element is more important to the progress of the industry than the character of the common stock ownership. The attitude and policy of the holders of the operating companies' common stock determines whether the operating company shall pursue a progressive course or simply stand still and 'let well enough alone.'

"The continuing progress of the industry is largely due to the ownership of the common stocks of operating companies by organizations which are trained and experienced in the utility business, organizations which can take risks because of their diversified investments and their experience in having met similar conditions before; which know the objectives and the method of realizing them.

"If the common stocks of these operating companies were owned by individual investors, the people who generally own the bonds or preferred stocks, they either would not meet such investors' requirements or else a policy of caution would be applied to them, and the extension of the service and reduction of rates would be retarded.

"Since the owners of the common stocks take the responsibility involved in the progressiveness of the operating companies, it is greatly to the interest of the consumer that the common stock ownership rest with such agencies as 'holding' companies.

Feels Incentive Must Be Kept Alive

"The holding company requires, for the successful performance of its function, the same freedom of action as any other business. It is that freedom that has enabled it to do the great work it has done in the development of the electric industry in this country to a preeminent position in the whole world. Without it, that development would not have taken place and future development would be materially retarded.

"Regulation of the operating company with freedom of the holding company is to the best interest of the public. The public is thus protected against monopoly, and has the advantage of the initiative and enterprise that financially strong private business brings to institutions where its money is invested." —Wall Street Journal, Aug. 14, 1930

CUT IN COPPER STARTS BUYING

Foreign and Domestic Sales Respond to Slash

Fresh Drop Follows Easing of Consumer Trade

Lead and Zinc Rule Quiet at Old Price Levels

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS,
(Editor of the Mining Journal, Phoenix.)
(The Mining Journal, Phoenix.)

Good copper sales on both foreign and domestic account were reported following the drop in the copper price to 10.50 cents delivered, Connecticut points, and to 10.80 foreign ports. However, a slowing up in demand has again caused the custom plants to make further concessions and they are offering small lots at 10.25 cents. Lead and zinc both remain quiet with prices the same, lead 5.50 f.o.b. New York and zinc at 4.25-4.30 cents f.o.b. St. Louis.

World output of slab zinc amounted to 93,185 tons in August, against 92,771 tons in July, according to the American Bureau of Metal Statistics. This, however, is an improvement over the June figures which showed a world production of 96,303 tons.

While bids of 4.20 have been reported from consumers for fair amounts of zinc for futures, the bids revealed no change in the attitude of producers who are holding for the 4.25 cents, and not offering particularly freely at that figure. Only a moderate volume of business is being booked.

To some extent, of course, the stubborn attitude of sellers is affected by production costs, but also by their ability to carry stocks. As one producer has remarked, the present price is low enough to warrant the companies investing in their own product.

LEAD FIGURES BEARISH

The statistics for August were rather disappointing. It had been confidently expected that shipments for the month would exceed 50,000 tons, instead of which they were about 2000 tons below that figure. The increase in stocks was also surprising, the total, however, is by no means so large as to occasion any great concern, amounting to less than three weeks' supply at the current rate of shipments. Nor does there appear to be any great danger of a material increase in output at current levels in view of the price prevailing for zinc and silver.

Refined stocks of lead at the end of August totaled 72,832 tons, showing a gain of close to 10,000 tons, the stocks at the beginning of the month having amounted to 62,880 tons. Stocks of crude lead in the United States on August 1, including lead in ore and matte and in process at smelteries, also in base bullion, totaled 54,275, as compared with 56,760 tons on July 1. This is the lowest crude stocks reported this year.

A decided improvement is looked for in the September figures. While buying this month has by no means been brisk, there has been a fair demand each day for prompt shipment. It is believed that consumers have little metal in reserve and are only buying as their needs dictate.

COPPER AT LOW LEVEL

With copper offered at 10.50 cents a pound by producers and 10.25 cents by custom smelters, there is recorded the lowest level to which the metal has fallen since 1896, when sales were made at 9.75 cents a pound. In 1897 the low price was 10.75 and in the following year 10.87.

While sales have been made for the balance of the year at current levels, producers are loath to book large orders for far future deliveries. It would not be surprising if consumers found in the next few weeks that they would have to satisfy the producers that the copper ordered was for actual consumption, not for stocking purposes, before they could purchase at current levels. It is estimated that producers and custom smelters have orders for approximately 335,000 tons in unfilled orders on their books.

TARIFF BOARD REPORTS

The United States Tariff Commission recently made a survey, based upon the annual reports for 1929, of the cost of producing copper covering 96 per cent of the country's total primary output. The commission found that exactly one-half of the output included in the study was made at a cost of 11 cents per pound or over. The average cost of the total output was 11.81 cents, against 10.27 cents in 1928.

The commission tabulated the following:

PERCENTAGE OF PRODUCTION

Cost per pound:	1928	1929
Under 8 cents	26	18
8 cents to 9 cents	9	8
9 cents to 10 cents	16	8
10 cents to 11 cents	12	16
11 cents to 12 cents	7	13
12 cents to 13 cents	16	1
13 cents to 14 cents	10	8
14 cents to 15 cents	..	12
15 cents to 16 cents	..	12

The output of United States mines in 1929 was 1,006,203 tons. It would seem fair to conclude that, depletion included, an amount closely approaching 500,000 tons of annual output is today being made at no profit, and a large proportion at an actual loss to the producer. The above table shows also how the high copper price brought in much new high-cost production, thus causing the present large surplus stocks.

WIFE ASSERTS HUBBY SLEPT AS SHE TOILED

After taking her to work, her husband would go back to bed, Mrs. Bonita May Chittenden testified yesterday in divorcing Russell B. Chittenden of Pasadena.

"My husband would get up, take me to work and then go back to bed," said Mrs. Chittenden. "He is a ne'er-do-well. He was discharged by a bank for not taking an interest in his work. Then he started a radio shop, but failed because he paid no attention to it."

Superior Judge Yankwich granted her a divorce.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Fresh rail carlot arrivals numbered 77 cars, while a few loads arrived via trucks. After some early trading on better grades at practically steady values, activity slowed up and later sales were consummated on a weak to 25c lower basis, with some sales 50c off on she stock and steers. Bulls were scarce and unchanged. There was a good demand for calves and vealers and practically all the supply cleared at steady values. There was a liberal showing of southwestern and Mexican cattle in the run. Numerous loads were still in first hands at a late hour.

A load good 1313-pound California feed lot steers secured 8.85 and a load of baby beef type yearlings averaging 790 pounds made 9.50, sorted five head at 8.30. Most medium grades which ranged from about 900 to over 1200 pounds sold at 7.25@8.00, these originating mostly in California and intermountain points. Steers of Mexican breeding ranged at 6.25@7.00 and a three-car string of Mexican stags at 5.35. Common natives sold down to 5.50.

While odd head heifers reached 8.00, the practical top was 7.00 on a load fairly good intermountain offerings averaging 630 pounds. A load medium grade sold at 6.10. While odd head fat cows sold slightly higher, the practical top was 6.40 on a three-car string Colorados averaging 1064 pounds. Load lots of medium to good cows at 5.25@6.00 were numerous, this range including fat dairy types. Cutter and common stock went at 3.50@4.75 and low cutters sold down to 2.50. Odd head fat bulls reached 6.00@6.10, with medium kinds down to 5.35 and cutters down to 4.00.

CALVES—In contrast to last week's standstill market, an active demand ruled yesterday at fully steady values. Good around 200-pound vealers made 12.00, with odd head higher. Common and medium vealers sold down to 9.00 and below. Some 175-pound Imperial calves made 10.00 and the bulk 240 to 330-pound southwesterns, 8.00@8.50, a short car 320 pounds going to the country at 8.25. Common weighty calves sold down to 6.00.

HOGS—Around 100 arrived via truck, in addition to two cars by rail. The market was about steady with closing quotations last week. A load 178-pound Kansas butchers secured 11.85 and a load from New Mexico averaging 147 pounds, 11.75, and two sizable lots 160 to 190-pound trucked arrivals 11.25@11.40. A few smooth packing sows made 8.50.

Sheep—Prices on all classes were sharply lower, the downturn on lambs amounting to 50@75c, while ewes were down 25@50c. The lamb top was 6.75 on a deck good 73-pound Arizonas. Numerous decks Utahs weighing around 70 to 73 pounds made 6.25@6.35, one four deck string at the latter price being sorted 10 per cent at 5.25. Around four decks made 6.00, moderately sorted at 5.00. A deck good 122-pound ewes topped at 3.50, sorted 17 head at 2.50 and about two decks sold at 3.00@3.10.

Investigation in Girl's Death to Open Today

Investigation into the death of Miss Vera Nelson, 18-year-old girl who is asserted to have died as a result of an illegal operation on the 20th inst., will be taken up by the county grand jury today. According to Capt. William J. Bright, chief of Sheriff Traeger's homicide investigation detail, the inquiry will be directed toward Dr. William C. Fiske, 70, Hermosa Beach physician, to determine whether or not he is responsible for the operation.

Since the girl's death, Dr. Fiske has been held in custody while officers investigated the case. He was arrested just after he had locked the door to an inner office and turned on the gas in an attempt at suicide, according to the investigators.

Evidence that is expected to be presented to the grand jury includes a diary, kept by the dead girl, which is asserted to give many details of her actions shortly before her death.

Wheat Futures Irregularly Off on Bear Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—Reports of demoralized wheat trade conditions at Liverpool and persistent offerings there by Russia led to further breaking of low-price records here today. Smashes in Winnipeg wheat quotations to the lowest level ever registered on the Canadian Exchange, 68 cents a bushel, were a depressing factor, and so also was a big new increase in the United States wheat visible supply, already the largest ever known. Nevertheless, Chicago wheat prices at times rallied to above Saturday's finish, and talk was current some buying of future deliveries was done here for Russia to offset recent sales.

The Chicago wheat market closed nervous at the same as Saturday's finish to 1⅛c lower. Corn closed ⅛@1⅜c down, oats unchanged to ¾c up and provisions varying from 20c decline to a rise of 28c.

Until word came the close at Liverpool showed increasing acute depression, wheat prices here were displaying a brisk upward trend after a sharp drop at the opening.

Corn prices fluctuated mostly with wheat. Oats averaged lower with other cereals, but showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure.

Provisions were affected by downturns in the value of hogs.

SOUND security, broad marketability, liberal yield and opportunity for price appreciation, are well combined, in our opinion, in this carefully selected group of direct obligations of five nationally-recognized companies.

These bonds, listed or traded on the New York Stock or Curb Exchanges now yield from 5.75% to 7%. Present prices of these 5 issues together with the stock privilege features of each, point favorably to future appreciation possibilities.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Bard's, Eighth between Broadway and Hill—"The Sap From Syracuse."

California, Main near Eighth—"Un Hombre de Suerte." Clever dialogue and a favorite comedienne, Rosario Pino, should make this entertaining to Spanish audiences.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"Let Us Be Gay." A sophisticated comedy about a wife who wins back her husband. Norma Shearer.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Holiday." A film play of quality and delight with Ann Harding at her best in defence of youth.

Chinese, 6925 Hollywood — "Hell's Angels." It took Howard Hughes four years and $4,000,000 to produce the colossus of the air; and it was worth it.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Madam Satan." A spectacular but noisy De Mille product. With Kay Johnson.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"Animal Crackers." Mad nonsense by the inimitable Marx Brothers.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Inside the Lines." A war melodrama with Betty Compson and Ralph Forbes.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"Lost Gods." An unusual travel expedition with a musical score and vocal explanation.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Borrowed Wives," and "The Way of All Men," with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Sea Wolf." Jack London's grim story of the sea is well done but somber.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th—"Moby Dick." John Barrymore is again effective as the mad captain searching for the white whale.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Anybody's Woman." A fairly careful study of a woman's character. Nicely done by Ruth Chatterton.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"Call of the Flesh." Ramon Novarro is gay and tragic and always good.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Monte Carlo." A sparkling Lubitsch production, with song and humor in an admirable mixture.

President Theater, Broadway near Eighth—"Birth of Nation." The classic of the screen rejuvenated with fairly successful sound.

Ritz, Wilshire at La Brea—"For the Defense." William Powell in a strong story of the law and its victims.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Outside the Law." Edward Robinson adds more laurels as a convincing gangster leader.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Half Shot at Sunrise." A war comedy which ought to bombard the box-office. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

Tower, Bdwy. at 8th—"Sins of the Children." A sympathetic scene of a family struggle poignantly interpreted by Louis Mann.

Uptown, Western at Tenth—"For the Defense."

United Artists, Broadway near 9th—"What a Widow." A lightning farce that somehow forgets to be funny. Gloria Swanson.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"The Office Wife." A modern Cinderella goes on a quest for happiness. Dorothy Mackaill and Lewis Stone.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Dawn Patrol." Air fighting and poignant drama make this a worth while attraction.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Blvd.—"Raffles." Ronald Colman is a delightful gentleman crook in an amusing mystery.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"The Crimson Hour." Reviewed in today's Times.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood strides onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"Thin Ice." A conventional and placid drama with Aileen Pringle and Francis X. Bushman.

Mayan, Hill near 11th—"Temptations of 1930." A modern revue exhibiting some tuneful songs, clever dancing and colorful ensemble work.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

DOMINION SECESSION RIGHT HELD ACCEPTED

LONDON, Sept. 29. (AP)—J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions, declared today that nobody questions the right of a dominion to secede from the British Empire. His statement replied to a question of whether the secession issue is to come up at the imperial conference which will open Wednesday. "I may have the right to shoot myself," he said, "but you have the right to argue with me regarding the wisdom of my action." He would not say whether or not it is likely the right to secede from the empire will be formally recognized by the conference.

Aprenda Usted a Volar antes que a Manejar un Automóvil

Los aspirantes a automovilistas, que esperan con temores y vacilaciones el examen práctico obligatorio sin el cual no pueden obtener su licencia para guiar automóviles, debieran seguir el ejemplo de la señorita Marion Bowen y hacer las cosas al revés de como suelen hacerse: dominar el avión antes que el auto.

La señorita Bowen, aviadora de Los Angeles, y la primera mujer que realizó un vuelo sola de noche, dice que primero aprendió a volar, y luego a conducir un automóvil. Obtuvo su licencia al día siguiente de haber hecho su vuelo inicial sola.

Oriunda de Chicago, la señorita Bowen estuvo en el colegio en St. Louis, y vivió algunos años en Denver antes de venir aquí. En 1927, dio una vuelta por Europa en bicicleta. Se ganó para pagar su curso de aviación narrando por escrito sus impresiones como aviadora.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

VIII

¿Queréis creer que a Clara le gustaba realmente ir a la escuela? Gozaba haciendo largas hileras de guarismos en su pizarra con su chirriante pizarrín; gozaba leyendo de guerras y grandes hombres en sus libros de historia, y le deleitaba más que nada la geografía (Would you believe it, Clara really liked to go to school? She liked to make long rows of figures with her squeaky pencil up and down her slate; she liked to read about wars and great men in her history books, and she loved geography best of all). A veces se iba a la cama con sus mapas, y luego, a media noche, despertaba a su pobre hermana adormilada, y la hacía encender una vela y señalar los océanos, ríos y montañas en el mapa extendido ante ambas sobre la colcha (Sometimes she would take her maps to bed with her, and then in the middle of the night she would wake up her poor sleepy sister and make her light a candle and point out the oceans and rivers and mountains on the map spread out before them on the quilt).

"Un hombre de suerte" y "La serenata", films parlantes en español, hoy exhibiéndose en el Teatro California Internacional, ayudan grandemente a los estudiantes de esta lengua para dominarla.—[Advertisement.

Mrs. McCormick Again Raps Senate Inquisitor

Attempt to Throttle Press Charged by Candidate

Dispute Over Wire-Tapping Accusation Widens

CENTRALIA (Ill.) Sept. 29. (AP) Ruth Hanna McCormick tonight declared the Senate Campaign Funds Committee is now attempting to throttle the press.

This charge was contained in a brief statement answering one issued in Washington by the Senate committee. The committee's statement characterized as "false and libelous" Mrs. McCormick's assertions that telephone wires in her home and office had been tapped and her private correspondence rifled by agents of the committee. It also warned newspapers that any repetition of her charges will be looked upon as "wilful and malicious libel."

To which Mrs. McCormick, in her statement, retorted that the committee, meeting in Chicago recently, declined to hear sworn testimony regarding the tapping of telephone wires at her home. She concluded:

"Having throttled that evidence which should have been competent in any judicial inquiry, four members of the committee now attempt to throttle the press of the United States."

SENATOR PATTERSON WIRES VIEWS TO NYE

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29. (AP)—Declining to comment on a report of a break in the Senate Committee on Campaign Expenditures, Senator Roscoe C. Patterson, Missouri, a member of the committee, at his home here tonight made public a telegram he sent to Senator Nye in which he refused to sign the committee statement.

"A majority of the committee denied the Attorney-General of the State of Illinois the opportunity of presenting evidence in support of the matters mentioned in your telegram relating to the asserted misconduct of asserted agents of the committee," he said. "While giving full faith to the statement of every member of the committee that he has no knowledge of such misconduct on the part of any one connected with the committee, I cannot make a commitment on the question of whether any agent of the committee has been guilty of such misconduct until all the evidence relating thereto has been heard."

Chicago Racketeers Appear on Vagrancy Charges

Clarence Darrow Defends Them in Court

Lawyer Quits Retirement to Oppose Clean-up

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (Exclusive)—Two more of Chicago's twenty-eight asserted "public enemies" surrendered to the police here today and remained in custody about [illegible] minutes. They were surrendered in the court of Municipal Judge Holmes on vagrancy warrants issued by Judge Lyle.

The men are William (Three Fingered Jack) White, ex-convict killer, union-labor racketeer, robber and all-around menace, and George (Red) Barker, ex-convict, who lately has been raising himself to executive positions in racketeering labor unions at the pistol point and thereafter, looting their treasuries.

They appeared with probably the most expensive array of counsel ever seen in vagrancy court—Clarence Darrow, Milton D., and W. W. Smith. Darrow, who defended the McNamaras at the trial following the dynamiting of The Times in 1910, had previously announced his absolute retirement from the practice of law.

"I broke my resolve to keep out of criminal practice because I feel this vagrancy campaign is outrageous," explained Darrow.

The proceedings were smooth and swift. The public enemies accepted service of the warrants and despite the fact Chief of Detectives John Norton several days ago ordered that men arrested on Judge Lyle's warrants could be released only on bonds approved by Lyle, the two arresting officers did not make any effort to take them to the bureau, nor did Judge Holmes enter any objection when $10,000 bond was offered for each.

COUNTY TO GET PARK ON BEACH

Supervisors Take Steps to Lease Royal Palms

Property Has 3800 Feet of Ocean Frontage

Action Taken on Motion by John R. Quinn

A resolution of intention to acquire the leasehold and improvements on the 355-acre tract of land at White's Point, known as the Royal Palms, was adopted yesterday by the Board of Supervisors as a preliminary step toward gaining control of the property with 3800 feet of beach front for county park purposes.

According to Supervisor Quinn, on whose motion the resolution was adopted, the county will have to pay $775,000 for the fifty-year lease and the physical improvements, consisting of a dance pavilion and other buildings and a golf course. Of this sum $225,000 will be for the actual physical improvements and $[illegible] for the last and next year's lease. After next year the county will pay $18,000 a year for the use of the land. The physical improvements, which includes a clubhouse, are estimated to be worth more than $300,000 by themselves.

WRIGHT OPPOSES

Under the terms of the deal as outlined by Supervisor Quinn the county will pay $75,000 to the Royal Palms Corporation, holders of the lease and owners of the buildings, on completion of the escrow.

Purchase of the leasehold and acquisition of the buildings on the property were favored by every member of the board except Supervisor Wright, who declared that, while in favor of the acquisition of more recreation grounds for the county, particularly more beach front, he opposed the leasing of the property which the county must pay heavily for, perhaps $2,000,000 or $3,000,000, when the lease runs out.

SELF-SUPPORTING SOON

"If we could buy this land outright, I would be for it," declared Supervisor Wright.

"I have talked with Fred Wadsworth, superintendent of recreation grounds," said Supervisor Shaw, "and he tells me that the park could be made self-supporting within a year."

"The district, which is rapidly being developed as one of the great industrial areas, needs a recreation ground," declared Supervisor Beaty. "Many of these people living down there cannot take advantage of Big Pines recreation camp."

Supervisor Quinn declared that the improvements on the place have been appraised at $330,000.

NEW POLICE BADGES TO LOSE SHINE

Shipment to Be Returned for Removal of Glitter; Council Extension Urged

To have the metallic glitter removed from the new police badges and replace it with a better and duller finish of gold plating, the entire shipment is to be sent back to the manufacturers at Rochester, N. Y., the Police Commission decided yesterday after a conference in which Mayor Porter participated.

At today's regular meeting of the commission, it will formally pass a resolution again asking the City Council to postpone enforcement of the new badge ordinance, which was scheduled to go into effect tomorrow. This is the third time the postponement has been asked because of the delay in receiving and distributing the badges.

The Mayor approved the design of the badge yesterday and expressed the belief that the issue will be appropriate for the police department after the polish has been reduced and the lettering replaced where the characters are uneven or of insufficient depth.

Commissioner Walkup, who had denounced the issue like 5 and 10-cent tinware and a disgrace to the Los Angeles Police Department, said later that the changes recommended would make them more appropriate for use.

WIFE ANSWERS VAN LOAN SUIT

Says Writer Wanted Airplane Baby

Mrs. Gertrude Van Loan

H. H. VAN LOAN, who has contrived many novel situations in his writings for the stage and screen, is accused by his wife in a cross-complaint to his suit for divorce to be filed by her today of having sought to excel his fictional efforts by urging her to agree to have their daughter born in an airplane, several thousand feet above New York City for the publicity he would derive from the unusual undertaking. Mr. Van Loan, his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Van Loan, charges, compared his gifts as a writer favorably to that of Shakespeare, adding that—no matter what his conduct, she should feel complimented in having him for a husband.

H. H. VAN LOAN

Almost as unique as Mr. Van Loan's asserted request his wife receive the stork high above Gotham's skyscrapers, is her accusation he permitted his claim to temperamental and artistic privilege to cause him to announce his engagement to three other women while the bonds of holy matrimony still attached him firmly to her.

THREE ENGAGEMENTS

In 1920, only five years after he was wed, the writer, "in cynical and contemptuous disregard of his marriage vows, announced his engagement to one Anita Lieberman," his wife's cross-complaint sets forth.

Two years later he is asserted to have given publicity to the claim that Virginia Brown Faire had consented to become his bride, and on August 8, 1930, he is accused of having announced his betrothal to Marjorie Rambeau, the dramatic actress. Miss Rambeau later denied she and Mr. Van Loan were engaged, and stated that he had made the announcement wholly without her knowledge or authority.

Mrs. Van Loan makes other charges against her husband. She sets forth that not long after their marriage he was engaged to obtain publicity for a "Beauty Contest Train" that had been chartered by a motion-picture company to bring seventy-five young women from Chicago to Los Angeles. Mr. Van Loan, his wife charges, displayed a degree of enthusiasm over the comeliness of the young women not in keeping with a young husband's conduct.

DRINKING EPISODE

Leading up to the asserted incidents of her unusual honeymoon, Mrs. Van Loan avers she and the writer were wed on May 17, 1915. A wedding supper was served at Churchill's, once a very widely known restaurant and center of night life on Broadway, New York, at which Mr. Van Loan partook of too many stimulants, according to his wife. Finally, Mrs. Van Loan sets forth, the writer fell

SEPTEMBER RAIN STILL MAY ARRIVE

Slight Sprinkle Harbinger of Possible Downpour to Speed Departing Month

A possibility of rainfall today is the one undetermined factor that will prevent September being officially entered on meteorological records as a thoroughly dry month, despite belated conditions yesterday that brought a sprinkle of rain locally, according to the United States Weather Bureau.

For half a century this month has borne the reputation of providing Los Angeles with an average of .17 of an inch of rainfall, but its present official record shows that it gave no precipitation at all this year save yesterday when a light sprinkling occurred between 11:25 and 11:30 a.m.

The quantity was so slight that the delicate instruments of the Weather Bureau could not measure the water, and about the only advantage it provided was to support individual weather "prophets" who contended rain would fall this week.

The Weather Bureau predicted unsettled weather for today, with rain in the high mountains. The city had received .32 of an inch of rain to date last year, but the 1930 season since May has been without precipitation.

Other Southern California localities, however, saw the debut of the autumnal rainy season yesterday. Ventura received .07 of an inch; Upland, .06; Ontario, .02, and Santa Paula, Fillmore and Piru received traces of rain. Showers visited Porterville and other surrounding towns and beach communities received sprinklings.

RAISINS AND COTTON THREATENED BY RAIN

HANFORD, Sept. 29.—Approximately one-quarter of an inch of rain fell generally over Kings county this morning and after a blustery day the storm resumed tonight with some prospect that heavy damage may be suffered by the grape crop. The rain this morning may not have brought loss, but should the night prove rainy it is feared that raisins still on the drying trays, scarcely none of which have been stacked, will be damaged.

Cotton picking is now at its height and such as remains unpicked is also menaced by the rain. What the probable damage may be in the event of another downpour tonight, could not be estimated.

OPINION FIXES APPEAL SCOPE

Supreme Court Finds 1929 Act Not Retroactive

Appellate Bench Must Pass on Cases Then Pending

Superior Court Now Rules on Municipal Issues

Differences of opinion between District Courts of Appeal as to their jurisdictional authority over appeals from cases arising in Municipal Courts are settled by the State Supreme Court in an opinion, a copy of which was received here yesterday.

The Supreme Court decided that the 1929 amendment to the Municipal Court Act, which became effective on August 14 of that year, and which gave to the appellate department of the Superior Court exclusive jurisdiction over appeals from the Municipal Courts, is not retroactive. Consequently, appeals taken to the District Courts of Appeal prior to the effective date of the act, must be heard and determined by those courts.

OPINIONS CLASH

The decision upholds an opinion written by Justice Craig in an action in which Nick Harris, head of a detective agency, sued Joe Moore for detective services. Justice Craig was acting presiding justice of Division Two of the District Court of Appeal at the time.

Another division of the Appellate Court, however, dismissed two similar appeals on the ground that the Appellate Court had no jurisdiction because of the enactment of the Municipal Court Act amendment.

Under a rule relating to uniformity in decisions of the Appellate Courts, the Supreme Court consented to hear the dismissed cases, Enoch Berg against Sheriff Traeger, and the D. Q. Service Company against the Securities Loan and Discount Company, conversion actions. Appeals had been perfected in both cases before the 1929 amendment to the Municipal Court Act.

EFFECT POINTED OUT

In considering the jurisdictional subject matter, the Supreme Court pointed out that the 1929 amendment had the effect of depriving the District Courts of Appeal of jurisdiction over appeals from the Superior Courts in any action within the jurisdiction of the Municipal Courts.

"While it is a general rule," the Supreme Court states, "that a cause of action or remedy dependent on statute falls with a repeal of the statute, even after the action thereon is pending, in the absence of a saving clause in the repealing statute, it is equally well settled . . . that every statute will be construed to operate prospectively and will not be given retroactive effect unless the intention that it shall have is clearly expressed."

REVIVED BABY DIES GOING TO INCUBATOR

Dr. Theodore Bergman, Georgia-street Hospital ambulance surgeon, succeeded yesterday in temporarily reviving a child that appeared lifeless when born yesterday to Mrs. Velma McGhee, 29 years of age, at her home, 3505 South Maple avenue. After a dash by ambulance to the woman's home the surgeon employed artificial respiration. The child responded temporarily, but died while being taken to the hospital to be placed in an incubator.

CHANEY BEQUEATHS ESTATE TO WIDOW

Mrs. Lon Chaney

The will of Lon Chaney, motion-picture star, was admitted to probate by Superior Judge Stephens yesterday on application of the widow, Mrs. Hazel Chaney, filed by Attorney Milton M. Cohen.

The bulk of the $550,000 estate goes to the widow, who was appointed executrix. Other heirs are Creighton Tull Chaney, a son; John, a brother, and Carrie Keys, a sister. The decedent's former wife, Mrs. Cleve Creighton Bush of Pasadena, is given only $1, with the statement that the testator was "under no obligation to her."

MILTON SILLS'S WILL BEFORE COURT

Yesterday afternoon the will of Milton Sills, motion-picture star, who died recently, was filed for probate in the Superior Court before Superior Judge Stephens by the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles and Doris Kenyon Sills, named in the will as executors to serve without bond. The petition was filed for probate through Eugene R. Dukette, attorney for the executors.

Under the terms of the will, signed April 4, last, the bulk of the estate, which will amount to more than $250,000, it is estimated, goes to the widow, providing she survives distribution of the estate. There are a few special bequests of personal articles.

BILLBOARD CURB STUDIED

The matter of adopting an ordinance restricting billboards to industrial areas, and keeping them out of the residential district, was referred to its City Planning Committee yesterday by the City Council.

ART TRIUMPHS IN 'LA BOHEME'

Grand Opera Opening Has High Musical Appeal

Huge Theater Packed With Brilliant Throng

Gigli Gains Supreme Honors; Others Acclaimed

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Of high appeal musically, and brilliantly attended, the premier production of the 1930 grand-opera season proved a gala introduction to two weeks of melody, celebrated lyric stars and social resplendence last evening. A festive spirit surpassing any previous year filled the Shrine Auditorium. The house was sold out for a week in advance, and the huge theater was packed with listeners eager for the initial event.

The Los Angeles Grand Opera Association has inaugurated their series of performances admirably. There is an aura of promise surrounding the entire sequence of works to be offered, and more interest than usual will affix itself to the artists who appear.

GIGLI SUPREME

"La Boheme" last evening abundantly evidenced quality. With Beniamino Gigli in the role of Rudolpho and Queena Mario as Mimi, and above all with Pietro Cimini providing a smooth and lustrous accompaniment, there was superlative charm to the interpretation of Puccini's familiar and favored impression of the Quartier Latin.

Gigli gained the supreme honors among the singers unquestionably, but there were episodes in Miss Mario's artistic presentation of her role that held great allurement. I would not say that either singer was absolutely consistent in success, but measured as a whole, what they gave of beauty in voice and portrayal was an eminent delight.

EXQUISITELY DONE

I believe that the third act, with its "Addio" delicately and exquisitely done by Miss Mario and Gigli's impassioned singing of the music preceding, was the most triumphant portion of the opera. The final act held in many ways equal enthrallment.

There were, also, those culminating measures of the love duet in the first act, which offered a radiant fulfilment. Both Gigli and Miss Mario imbued this ultimate phrase with enriching meaning.

Of the "Che Gelida Manina" and "Mi Chiamano Mimi," well-known airs, one perhaps speaks with more reserve. The former tenor aria did not reach the fullest heights, though Gigli gave vitally of tone to the climaxing notes.

Miss Mario responded with an attractive rendition of the Mimi air, but her high voice, which held rare attractions in the later portion of the opera, was not revealed to as complete advantage in this earlier exploit. Both singers were heartily applauded, and there is no doubt that Gigli would have had an enthusiastic curtain call had he come forth alone after the opening act. He chose rather modestly to appear with the group.

WARM INTERPRETATION

While "La Boheme" does not provide the spectacular dazzle of the conventional opening opera, it was a satisfaction to the eye. The third act was especially lovely, and the Cafe Momus scene colorful, though not ideally organized. I think that this second act perhaps took a little edge off the response, though in its general perspective it was effective enough.

Throughout the opera it was the Cimini interpretation of the score that lent the fuller warmth and musical enticement. He brought out the themes with a marked emphasis and nuance, and yet never overshadowed the singers. I would say that it was the best orchestral background ever afforded at any first performance of the association, and the singing, while it may have lacked the dazzling high points that can be characteristic of "Boheme," was evener and more balanced than at the majority of previous premieres.

It is nearly always true of the association's productions that time is required for the singers to become accustomed to the new environment. This year the beginning is well advanced, and one may look forward to very sensational triumphs in the succeeding works.

RED-LETTER EVENT

Much, it would seem, can be anticipated of Gaetano Viviani, the new baritone. His baritone voice has volume and apparent reserve

CHINESE GIRL SEES WRITER'S SUICIDE

POET ENDS OWN EPIC WITH DRUG

Oriental Dreamer Drinks Poison Potion and Dies at Feet of Beloved

"He had drunk too deeply of the cup of life!"

Unnerved still by the ordeal through which she had passed, Miss Helen Kimm, 22-year-old Korean, last night thus epitomized her theory of the dramatic suicide in her apartment early yesterday morning of Robert Carroll Pew, poet and scion of a wealthy American family.

"Poor Carroll," she said. "He was just disgusted with existence, and he took what he thought was the simplest way of escaping it."

Through tear-dimmed eyes that stared at times vacantly, the slim little oriental miss conjured up again the vision of Pew's last moments in her presence and struggled bravely to condone his act—the act that cost him his life when he drained a death potion of gin into which he had dropped a poison pellet.

LOVED HIS WIFE

"I believe he still loved desperately the wife he had divorced," Miss Kimm said, almost to herself. "He was always talking about his children, his little boy and girl—especially the boy—and I think his heart was breaking with regret . . .

"And he drank too much—too much—and this, I am sure, contributed to his deed. He was morbid, anyway—by nature—and liquor only intensified his despondency. How I begged him to stop!"

Miss Kimm shuddered at her own mention of the matter.

"Oh, how I detest it!" she exclaimed.

Miss Kimm volunteered little information about Pew, except to say he was 37 years of age, divorced; that his father is dead and that his "immensely wealthy" mother at present is visiting a daughter in Oakland.

PLATONIC ATTACHMENT

"I met Carroll in Honolulu only a few months ago," she declared. "His mother owns a magnificent home there, but he was some sort of salesman. I had returned there from Berkeley, where I attended University of California for two years. I know he was extremely fond of me, but the attachment was wholly platonic.

"Carroll brooded and drank, and the more he drank the more he brooded. He had traveled all over the world and frequently he expressed a desire to go to the South Seas, where he said he knew of a 'Valley of the Virgins,' and there write and dream the days away.

"I came back here about a month ago—to get away from him, I guess, for he terrified me with his hints of suicide. I came on the Calawaii, and a week later he followed on the City of Los Angeles. He took a

MR. JACK OAKIE, the movie actor, is finding out about Chicago; and, as a former member of a church choir in Oklahoma, he is shocked. Most of the other actors already knew.

One well-known actor told me that it cost him $1000 per week to play an engagement in Chicago. The gangsters called at his hotel and levied that amount against his salary check. The penalty for refusal was to be taken for a ride.

Perhaps his experience will subtract from the number of sentimental motion-picture plays about the little darling criminals, abused by mean policemen who insist upon punishing them for murder.

NICE BOYS

When it comes to stripping the clothes off a girl during a robbery and dragging another one out of an automobile and assaulting her, the tears of sympathy that drip down our weathered cheeks for the criminal do not seem to flow so freely. There is only one thing that can be done with the professional gunman—kill him.

WAY TO REFORM THEM

There was one period of California history when living was as dangerous as it is now in Los Angeles. The road between San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara became so infested with bandits that the traveler was warned to ride only in broad daylight and then as fast as his horse could hit the road. One of the great-grandfathers of our actor friend, Edmund Lowe, organized a company of vigilantes and hanged them all. The road has been safe ever since. Must we wait again for the vigilantes?

MEXICAN FOOTBALL BOYS

Considering that this was their second year as a varsity team, the boys from the University of Mexico made a brave showing against Occidental. In another year or so they will be a team to be reckoned with. This was the third game this team has played.

Generally speaking, it is impossible to ignore the possibilities of a team which has this for a college yell:

SAY IT WITH SNEEZES

Ix-tli xO-chitl
"Rei-na Xo-chitl
"Chauh-te-moc
"Moc-teaO zu-ma
"Il-hui-ca-mi-na
"At-za-yatl
"Mexico. Mexico
"Ga-na-ra."

This wild war cry is, in fact, nothing more nor less than the list of the Aztec emperors.

THE AZTEC ANCESTORS

Incidentally, the revival of the Aztec art, language and tradition in Mexico is one of the most interesting things that is happening in the world.

This was a great old race, knocked in the head by the Spanish conquistadores and stunned. It is gradually coming back to life and its ancient culture is reviving into a sentient living thing.

There is no fact more interesting in the world than the fact that Mexico is reaching back into the roots to take up again its ancient heritage.

ANOTHER GOLDEN AGE?

Archeologists assert that had the kindred race—the Mayans—been left unmolested for another 500 years, they would have produced a civilization more remarkable and more glorious than the Golden Age of Greece. We are teaching Mexico the forward pass

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY

Not for years have retail prices of every-day commodities been as low as today. An average of the reduction in prices of food, clothing, household furnishings, building materials and the like shows that today's dollar is the equivalent in buying power of $1.25 a year ago, the effect of which is as though wages had actually been increased 25 per cent. Now is the time to stock up on needed nonperishables of every description. This is the second of a series of daily articles to appear in The Times on this subject.

CLOTHING

Men, women and children can be outfitted with good clothing in Los Angeles today at lower prices than at any other time in the last ten or fifteen years.

For the same quality of clothing, the retail price index here is 80 cents now, as compared to $1 a year ago. This means that in clothes-buying power $1 now is the equivalent of $1.25 a year ago. Since, according to National Bureau of Economic Research formulae, 15 per cent, or $182.55, of the average annual net spendable income of $1217 of each person in Los Angeles county goes for clothing, this means a monthly average advantage to each person here of $3.80, or $19 to a family of five.

Women's dresses in each cost classification are from 25 to 30 per cent better in quality than a year ago and require much more material. That is, dresses of the same quality are about one-fourth less expensive. A dress that now retails for $38.50, to cite an average instance, would have cost about $50 last year. A fur-trimmed coat costing $79.50 now sells for $65, and the fur is declared to be of much better quality. A man's suit of clothes today is the equivalent in value of a suit costing one-fifth more last year. About the same reduction has taken place in the prices of overcoats, lingerie, hats, shoes and men's furnishings. There has been an average reduction in the price of women's hosiery of about 25 per cent, and the stockings are declared to be of better quality now than they were last year. Millinery has not been as reasonable in years as today, the advantage to the buyer running from 15 to 20 per cent as compared with last year's prices. A drop in the cost of cotton cloth to the manufacturer of about 6 cents has brought a correspondingly lowered cost in retail prices for cotton dresses. A fur garment bought today would have cost 35 per cent more last year.

Incidentally, there has been a decidedly favorable cost reduction in various accessories. A leather purse, for instance, now selling at $4.95 would have cost about $6.95 last year.

The foregoing figures are from the Domestic Trade Department, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; Associated Apparel Manufacturers, Millinery Manufacturers' and Jobbers' Association and leading Los Angeles business establishments.

SEA YIELDS MRS. FOX'S BODY

Corpse of Missing Wife of Film Technician Found in Surf Off Santa Monica Canyon

The surf off Santa Monica Canyon yesterday ended further speculation concerning the fate of Mrs. Marguerite Fox, wife of William R. Fox, sound technician at the Metropolitan Studios, and confirmed the fears of her husband that she had been moved to commit suicide while attending a motion picture the night before her disappearance.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Guislan of 1250 Exposition Boulevard, walking along the shore yesterday afternoon, saw an object tumbling in the waves. A heavy surge deposited a body almost at their feet.

Mr. Fox, summoned by the West Los Angeles police, was taken to the beach where he collapsed after identifying the body as that of his wife. An ambulance took him to his home, 3340 1-2 Durango avenue, Culver City, where a physician was called to attend him.

The search for Mrs. Fox was started eight days ago when the husband returned home near midnight to find two notes from his wife, one commending the care of their 16-month-old daughter Virginia Lee, "Ginger," to the father and another asking forgiveness for the grief she would cause by her disappearance.

Through all of the week's search which was carried on with the aid of the police of three cities and a private detective agency Mr. Fox had held the belief that his wife had ended her life in spite of the lack of a definite threat in the farewell notes.

"My wife was often moody and depressed," he explained, "and on the Sunday night before she left home we attended a motion picture in which the central figure—a woman who had endured a great deal of injus-

SOCIETY RALLIES AT OPERA

Pageant of Beauty, Color and Fashion Features Opening of Season at Shrine Auditorium

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Carrying out with charming effect a tradition of every large city of the world, the opening of the Los Angeles Grand Opera in Shrine Auditorium last evening was a pageant of the wealth, beauty and fashion of the Southland.

For hours preceding the rise of the curtain, adjacent streets in all directions were thronged with automobiles, filled with exquisitely gowned women and their escorts.

Every seat in the great auditorium was filled, the initial presentation being Puccini's "La Boheme."

The opening of grand opera in every large metropolis fortunate enough to have such an organization is practically the beginning of the social season and Los Angeles is no exception to this rule.

The California Club was the setting for numerous dinner parties preceding the event. Among the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. David Babcock, who had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. David Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Moulton, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Merrill and Sydney Rayner.

William Andrews Clark, Jr., entertained at dinner at his home and later at the opera. Judge and Mrs. Sydney Sanner, Mr. and Mrs George Leslie Smith, George Jomier, Mons. Joseph Tonnell and Joseph McInerney.

Miss Bernardine Murphy entertained a group of friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Daniel Murphy, in West Adams street, taking them to the opera afterward. Those included were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cunningham, Lieut. and Mrs. Lovett, U.S.N., of

TRUTH OFFERED BY NORTHCOTT

Message Sent to Parents of Slain Winslow Boys

Move Suspected as Effort to Delay Execution

Killer Scheduled to Die on Gallows Thursday

Gordon Stewart Northcott, condemned slayer of three youths, who starts his death march to the gallows Thursday morning, wants to tell the true story of his brutalities to the parents of two of his victims.

"If you will come and see me immediately," Northcott telegraphed yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson H. Winslow of Pomona, "I will tell you everything about your boys. I have lied in the past, but I will tell you the truth."

Authorities see in the personal message of Northcott a last-minute move to either clear his conscience of the crimes committed on his chicken ranch' near Wineville, in Riverside county, or an attempt to gain support for his plea for a reprieve from the noose. He is to hang at San Quentin Thursday at 10 a.m.

CRIMES CHARGED

Northcott is to die on the gallows for his conviction of torturing and later slaying Lewis and Nelson Winslow, 8 and 12-year-old brothers, and an unidentified Mexican youth. He also is believed to have been instrumental in the murder of Walter Collins, 9-year-old son of Mrs. Christine Collins of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Louisa Northcott, mother of the condemned boy slayer, is serving a life sentence in San Quentin, having admitted that she struck the blows that brought death to the Collins lad.

The appeal of Northcott found little favor at the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow and it was made plain that they have no intentions of seeking further information regarding the fate of their sons.

ABIDE BY VERDICT

"I will pay no attention to the telegram," said Mr. Winslow after discussing the grim message with his wife. "We are entirely satisfied with the verdict of the court which found Northcott guilty of the brutal murder of our sons.

"We will both consider the matter closed when the law has taken its proper course," he said, as he was informed that all arrangements have been made to carry out the death penalty at the prison at the scheduled hour.

Northcott, several days ago agreed to talk with Mrs. Collins in his death cage at San Quentin and last night the hopeful mother started on her quest for definite information from the condemned slayer of the fate of her son.

"I am very hopeful that Northcott will tell me the truth," said Mrs. Collins as she boarded the train. "I believe that my boy 'Sonny' is still alive. I have never been able to convince myself that anyone would be so cruel as to beat him to death with an ax. If so, I want to know the whereabouts of his body."

INTERVIEW TODAY

Mrs. Collins attempted to arrange her interview with Northcott for the time the slayer starts his death march up the gallows steps. Under prison regulations this was denied and she now expects to spend half an hour with Northcott this morning.

"If my beliefs are fulfilled," Mrs. Collins said, "I expect to spend the rest of my life and everything I possess in a search for my son.

"If Northcott tells me that 'Sonny' was killed, I will be satisfied and be patient with my sorrow.

"I believe that Northcott would have told me the truth if I could have talked with him as he started his trip to the last thirteen steps and knew that all chance for his life was gone. He has told so many conflicting stories of the whole affair and has made so many 'confessions' that I do not know what to believe. Perhaps he will have decided to give me the correct details when he realizes in the death cell that his hours on earth are short. I am very hopeful."

MOTHER'S STORY SOUGHT

Following her talk with Northcott, Mrs. Collins will ask permission to talk with the mother. "I know that she admitted killing 'Sonny,' but I think she was trying to protect her son. Perhaps when she knows that he is beyond further aid she will settle the entire matter. I shall ask Warden Holohan for an interview with her after I have talked with Northcott."

The interview with Mrs. Collins, a short talk with his mother and the last rites of the minister are the only remaining contacts with the outside world that have been permitted Northcott. After the two interviews today he goes to the death cell for the final night before his execution.

Plans of Police Commissioner Thorpe and Attorney S. S. Hahn to accompany Mrs. Collins on her trip were changed late yesterday. Attorney Hahn found it impossible to make the journey on account of imperative court appearances which could not be continued. Commissioner Thorpe, who was to represent the Winslow boys' parents at the interview, was unable to make the trip on account of official business.

SLAYER SAYS GOOD-BY IN PRISON TO MOTHER

SAN QUENTIN, Sept. 29. (AP)—Apparently resigned to death on the gallows, Gordon Stewart Northcott said good-by today to his mother, Mrs. Sarah Louise Northcott, who is to spend the rest of her life in San Quentin penitentiary where her son will be hanged Thursday.

Wavering between hope and despair, she declared both she and her son are innocent of the murder of four boys on their Riverside ranch.

She confessed to the crimes, she said, in an effort to save Gordon.

PARENTAGE ADMITTED

"I was ill and worried," she said. "Authorities told me if I would admit my guilt it would help Gordon, so I did it."

She also denied the statement the condemned youth made during his trial, that she was not his mother.

"When Gordon made that statement," she said, "I said nothing. It meant little to me and I thought it might help him in his fight for life. But it is untrue. I am his mother and Cyrus Northcott is his father."

She pinned her last hope for the condemned man's life on a written plea which the elder Northcott sent to Gov. Young.

EVANGELIST WITH HIM

Rev. Larry Newgent, Northcott's spiritual adviser, spent several hours praying with an exhorting the condemned man today. He left several religious tracts with the killer.

The evangelist said he will spend all of the night in Northcott's cell and will accompany him to the gallows. It will be the thirty-fifth execution the evangelist has attended as spiritual adviser.

"If I've got to go," Northcott said, "I've got to go, I guess."

But despite his apparent resignatoin, he was closely guarded to prevent his oft-promised attempt at suicide.

MAYOR PLANS FOR HARMONY

Department Heads to Have Get-Together Meetings Starting October 22

At the request of Mayor Porter a get-together meeting of the various city commissions is to be held in the sessions room of the Board of Public Works at 2 p.m. October 22, according to a communication received by the Park Board and referred to Secretary Hassett yesterday.

The president of each commission will be asked to give a five-minute talk concerning his department. Afterward there will be round-table discussion of departmental problems. The plan is to hold such meetings quarterly hereafter to promote co-operation between departments.

room over at 702½ Coronado Terrace, but he spent most of his time in my company, that is, when he wasn't looking for work.

"But he just could not obtain work. He did get a job for a time with the flood-control department—manual labor. Think of it, a man of his intellect doing manual labor! He lost the job. He couldn't do the work. He showed me his hands. They were torn and blistered.

DENIED ASSISTANCE

"One morning last week he phoned me and said he was going to kill himself. I persuaded him to come over. We drove around in a taxi; and I took a gun away from him and made him promise to buck up. I urged him to communicate with his mother and perhaps she could arrange a reconciliation with his wife. The other night he called his mother at Oakland—had to reverse the charges, for he lacked funds even for his room rent. He told me his mother had refused him assistance.

"Then he tried to get a job on a San Francisco boat, but there was nothing for him; and again he talked of killing himself. He phoned his mother again and told her to 'watch for headlines in the newspapers.' I believe that is why his mother wired him as she did, saying: 'You wouldn't treat the children and me that way.' They found the wire in his pocket."

Sunday night Pew visited Miss Kimm again at the Josephine Apartments, 1702 South Grand avenue. There were some other friends there; and when they left he went to the kitchen, mixed a drink and held up the glass for Miss Kimm to see.

"Aloha," he toasted her. "This is the last I'll ever have!"

Miss Kimm rushed to him in a vain attempt to dash the glass from his hand, but the despondent poet drained the contents. A moment later he died at her feet.

Among Pew's effects police found in Miss Kimm's apartment was an album with a sheaf of unpublished poems and a railway pass made out to Robert C. Pew, president, Bay Terminal Railway.

tice, threw herself over a cliff into the sea.

PICTURE INFLUENCED

"It may seem strange that this would have any bearing on her actions, but I have often noticed that my wife took motion pictures very seriously and after watching any particularly tragic showing would remain melancholy for several days afterward.

"It seems to me now that this picture so worked on her imagination—and she was in a highly nervous condition that night—that she brooded over the story all of the next day, and when night came and I had to go back to the studio to work she took the opportunity to make her plans; called in a neighbor to stay with the baby and went off with the picture in her mind of that woman jumping over a cliff into the water."

FULLY CLOTHED

When the body of Mrs. Fox was examined by the Los Angeles police it was found fully clothed in the white gingham house dress she had worn on the night of her disappearance, and the officers declare it was their belief from the condition of the body that the woman had gone directly from her home to some pier or wharf and leaped into the ocean.

Mrs. C. J. Eels, her mother, came from San Francisco a week ago to help the husband in the care of the baby, and will remain at the Culver City home until a decision is reached on the future of the youngster.

WOMEN REFUSED SCHOOLHOUSE USE

FRIEDLANDER'S CASE DEFERRED

Former State Official Will Await Julian Decision

Stock Overissue Charges to Be Heard First

Defendant's Status Rests Largely on Verdict

Prosecution and defense attorneys yesterday stipulated continuance of the trial of Jacob Friedlander, former State Corporation Commissioner, and Charles Crawford, Los Angeles politician, when the two defendants appeared in Superior Judge Schauer's court for trial on charges of criminal conspiracy.

According to the agreement trial of Friedlander and Crawford will be held after the trial of other defendants asserted to have been involved in a conspiracy to overissue stock of the Julian Petroleum Corporation shortly before its collapse in 1926. Accordingly Judge Schauer fixed the trial for October 20, next.

The overissue case is scheduled for trial October 13, next, but since this date is a court holiday it will not be taken up until October 14, and another continuance probably will be asked for Friedlander and Crawford.

Friedlander and Crawford are charged with conspiring to misuse the office of State Corporation Commissioner to grant special favors to J. H. Roth & Co., brokers. In the fourteen asserted acts set forth in the indictment it is charged that bribery played a part in the asserted scheme to corrupt the Corporation Commissioner's office.

Friedlander, represented by Byron Hanna, attorney, and Crawford, represented in court by Otto Christensen, deny the charges, asserting that their business relations were on a strictly honorable basis.

WIFE ANSWERS VAN LOAN SUIT

down and went to sleep. He remained asleep until 10 o'clock the following morning, and Mrs. Van Loan states she was greatly humiliated by his behavior before the wedding guests.

At 10 o'clock, Mrs. Van Loan's cross-complaint continues, the newly created bridegroom awoke and delivered himself to a surprising statement.

"You are a poor bride," she charges he told her.

Two years after this reputed, inauspicious martial beginning, Mr. and Mrs. Van Loan voyaged to Honolulu, the cross-complaint states. Again, the wife charges, the writer caused her chagrin, this time by dropping silver dollars down the decollete corsage of a charming woman passenger with whom Mrs. Van Loan charges, he became greatly impressed.

WIFE DEPARTS

In 1920, the legal document continues, the Van Loans established a home in Glendale. Mr. Van Loan drank to such excess, and gave so many late parties, his wife decided to remove herself and her daughter from his company, she states. Thereupon, she charges, Van Loan went to Spokane, Wash., in company with a Mrs. Dorothy Playter.

The cross-complaint was prepared for Mrs. Van Loan by M. H. Young of the law firm of William B. Beirne and Jud Rush. It adds that Van Loan was cruel to his wife, and cites twenty asserted instances. Van Loan is accused of having deserted her and her daughter on April 30, 1921. She asks she be granted divorce, custody of her daughter, now 14 years of age, and be awarded alimony. She asks that Universal Pictures Corporation, with whom Van Loan is described as being under contract at $1500 a week, be compelled under oath to enumerate and itemize sums that may now be due him.

WRITER ARRESTED

Van Loan filed his divorce action last May. He, too, based his plea for severance of marital bonds on allegation of infidelity and cruelty. He charged that Mrs. Van Loan ridiculed him before his friends, and had been indiscreet with others. Recently, while Mrs. Van Loan was in New York she swore out a complaint against her husband charging child abandonment, and Van Loan was arrested in Los Angeles. Mrs. Van Loan wanted her husband taken back east for trial, but the charge was dropped when Gov. Young declined to honor extradition proceedings.

CHARGES DENIED

Informed last night at his hotel of the charges set forth in his wife's cross-complaint, Van Loan expressed surprise at the accusations, and termed them as "absolutely absurd."

The writer declared that the charges regarding an airplane flight for the birth of the daughter are without foundation and that the girl was born under normal circumstances at the Polytechnic Hospital in New York.

Van Loan said that he could not understand the position assumed by his wife and her attorneys in bringing into the case the two actresses. "I separated from my wife in 1920," he said, "and I met Virginia Browne Faire in 1925 and Marjorie Rambeau in 1929. Certainly they had nothing whatever to do with a separation five and nine years previous."

The husband indicated he expects to be able to offset the charges when the case is called for trial, but that the request for alimony would call for a different attitude toward the suit than first expected. He also let it be known that he has witnesses here awaiting their appearance before the court in substantiating his original plea for divorce.

power. He will have better chances to display these during the engagement than the "Boheme" role furnishes.

The voice of Hazel Rhodes seemed a little light, except in the very high tones, in the Musetta role. She acted it with gayety. Millo Picco and Ezio Pinza were the Shaunard and Colline, and Pinza received applause for the popular Coat Song. Eugenio Zandrini enacted the two buffo roles of Benoit and Alcindoro.

The general concurrence of circumstances at the opening of the opera association's seventh season was sufficiently splendid for it to be hailed as a red-letter event in the organization's annals.

WAGNER OPERA TO BE INTERPRETED

"Tannhauser," the medieval legend immortalized by Wagner, will be the subject of Dr. Kingsley's opera interpretation at Bullock's tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. Among the numbers to be played by Dr. Kingsley are "Pilgrims' Chorus," "Elizabeth's Prayer" and the "Evening Star."

RELIGION DOWN-TO-DATE HELD DESIRE OF YOUTH

Modern youth, while weary of ecclesiastic forms and rituals and the controversies of theologians, is vitally interested in religion and is ready to lend an ear to anyone who can teach the application of ideals to practical life, Dr. Carl Knopf of the department of religion at University of Southern California told a congregation of Methodist ministers at First Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday.

"While theory has its part in all phases of life, including religion, it would be well for the minister to remember that this is an age of achievement and that the truly successful pastor is he who keeps abreast of the times and interests himself in issues vital to this generation," said Dr. Knopf.

"Today we need better ministers, rather than more ministers," the speaker declared. "The church needs pastors who know much, think more and plan for greater progress, men who realize the complexity of modern life, who are aware of the many new ways of sinning and of the new ways of doing good. If the average minister would take more interest in music and drama, for instance, we would have better hymn books and the churches would sponsor and create uplifting dramas as vehicles for spreading the gospel of truth. What we need today is more ministers with gumption, which is the ability to adapt oneself to new situations."

Dr. Knopf told his audience that a hopeful sign of the times is the interseminary movement, meaning the co-operation of students of Methodist, Presbyterian, Anglican and other denominational schools in working out plans for the betterment of the world.

LAUGHTER

BUY A QUART

Some Southern Governors started a "buy-a-bale" movement to rid their States of the cotton glutting the market. Now comes Gov. Roosevelt of New York with a sort of a "buy a quart" movement. A little logic conducts you to the reason why.

THE SUGAR MARKET

New York and Havana business interests are seeking to get together in stabilizing the sugar market. If possible it is desired to fix the importations of sugar from Cuba to this country at not exceeding 2,800,000 tons. That could be handled with our home production without much hardship. The country's consumption is about 6,000,000 tons, but we are expected to take care of the surplus from Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines. It is quite a puzzle if the cane grower is to be considered.

OIL IN THE NORTH

Flying from Europe to Asia by way of the North Pole is not going to be so complicated. An eastern oil company is going to place caches of gasoline, oil and other essential equipment on Iceland, Spitzbergen, Baffin Land, Greenland and other projecting points in the far north and is going to fix runways so that landing and taking off will not be very perilous. This will be an oil company's contribution to world flight in northern lanes and is a fine thing, indeed. Nevertheless, it is not likely that there will be any immediate rush for Spitzbergen.

DIRTY LITERATURE

In a quiet but what is hoped is an effective way a crusade is being waged against the use of profanity in books as well as in plays. Some recent volumes have been notoriously offensive in this direction. There are not only naughty scenes but naughty words. The publishers are asked to delete these swear words and conduct the story in a chaste and discreet manner. It may mar some of the realism of which they prate, but that realism is of no importance in a world built up of it. It is mentioned that there are virtually no newspapers in America admitting oaths or obscene words to their columns. Papers are charged with sensationalism, but they are at least clean. Books and plays can be sensational without being dirty.

LOUIS M. COLE

Death without warning has just stricken down another of our most useful citizens, Louis M. Cole, whose activities have done much to enrich the financial, commercial and cultural life of Los Angeles. He had given twenty-seven years of service to the community he adopted in early youth as his own, and leaves many to mourn him in the various California cities to whose constructive advance he so largely contributed.

Mr. Cole is especially well known and will be long remembered for his affiliation with the fraternal organizations of this city and the part he took in building up the club life of many of our Southern California organizations. For some years he held the exalted position of Potentate of Al Malaikah Temple. In the work of the Elks and Knights of Pythias he was always a leader. In that of the Uplifters' Club he took a prominent part and was equally zealous in his membership of many of the social and athletic clubs of the Southwest.

In blending the social and fraternal side of community interests with his financial and commercial ventures, Mr. Cole afforded an eminent example of the spirit through which the West has achieved its outstanding success in all lines of development work. He labored for a high purpose, whether that purpose was religious, social or strictly of a business nature and whatever the end in view he made it serve all three objectives. Not only in the fraternal circles where he was best known, but in the life of the city at large is the sudden and unexpected death of so well-known a pioneer and so able a constructor a loss to call for a public offering of condolence to his multitude of friends.

THE HITLER PLANS

The plans of Adolph Hitler, leader of the German Fascists, as recently disclosed, are grandiloquent enough for two or even three Mussolinis. The seizure of Russia in the near future and an eventual settlement with France which will presumably push that republic off the map are in his mind, in addition to the uniting of Germany and Austria, voiding of the Versailles treaty, cessation of reparations payments, and, of course, overturning of the German republic, as now constituted. If it was this program which brought about the great Fascist gains in the recent election, Europe might well be disturbed. But the saving factor is the strong probability that the Fascist strength in the election was a symptom, not of the inherent appeal of such ideas to the German people, but of industrial depression, and that if a trade revival should decrease unemployment Hitler's and other radical parties would shrink quickly.

Hitler looks forward, he explained in court at Leipsic, to obtaining 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 votes at the polls in the future. After the absorption of Russia, such a vote might not be disproportionate, but the prospects that he will soon attain it in the German Reich as at present constituted are not brilliant. The Fascists, for all their parliamentary strength, polled but 6,500,000 votes in the recent balloting and 40,000,000 is close to the total present voting strength of Germany.

Attempts to meet Hitler's immediate objectives—leaving out the question of Russia and the collateral one of Poland and the other buffer states, which, of course, would have to be overrun to reach Russia—would of course meet with the stern opposition of France on more than one ground. The Versailles treaty not only guarantees reparations, but forbids German and Austrian union and any attempt to disturb that treaty in its major outlines would be resisted to the uttermost. Outside of France, the world probably is not thoroughly convinced that German-Austrian union, under a republican government, might not be good for the peace of the world as well as for both Germany and Austria. In case of war it would be difficult or impossible to prevent their alliance or virtual union; while their peace-time alliance would add a considerable population of peace-loving men and women to the consolidation. The Austrians are not, generally speaking, warlike; there is not so much bitter chauvinism in that country as in Germany. But such a union is not Hitler's plan; he will be satisfied with nothing less than the hegemony of Europe.

A good deal might depend, assuming that Hitler's scheme should meet with a majority approval in the two countries concerned, upon how Mussolini felt about it. The Italian dictator would not be sorry on one hand to see France humbled; but on the other he must recognize the danger to Italy of a revived Austria, and the danger to his own prestige of another dictatorship in Europe. A French offer of African concessions probably would be enough to tip the balance of his decision. It is not likely he would trust Hitler very far. Dictators customarily are mutually intolerant.

That Hitlerism constitutes a menace to European peace is without question. That it constitutes, at present, a serious menace would be to assign it undue importance. There is a vast amount of saving common-sense left in Germany and it need not be assumed that all the 6,500,000 who gave their votes to the Hitler candidates at the recent election are as rabid as he is or will follow him in all circumstances. A large proportion of these votes were merely given in opposition to the party in power, not in indorsement of Hitler. It is one thing to argue that the majority of Germans would welcome revision of the Versailles treaty, with elimination of reparations, the war-guilt clauses and the Polish corridor, and another to assert that the majority are willing to go to war for these things or any of them. Proof of any such state of mind as the latter assertion requires, is almost or quite lacking.

Chancellor Bruening and President von Hindenberg profess to be unworried over the situation and declare the Reich will remain stable. The world might as well assume that their judgment is sound until the contrary is shown.

WOODCOCK ON HOME BREW

The announcement of Prohibition Director Woodcock that his officers will not interfere with home brewing if no commercial features are involved will probably be found, in time, to be an unfortunate error. While it is undoubtedly desirable for Federal officers to concentrate on commercial production and distribution, any declaration that small-scale violators will be immune to their scrutiny can hardly avoid encouraging largely increased production on private premises and will be apt to bring confusion and discouragement to those attempting to enforce local and State statutes such as the Wright Act.

Once the door is open to liquor production on a small scale, production on a larger scale will almost inevitably follow and it will be impossible to exclude commercial features. Some of the home operators, led to believe that their activities are actually not illegal—which is not the case—are bound to expand. Under any such enforcement program, it will be difficult to stop the making of commercial liquor on private premises. It is far easier to cover up commercial dealings in liquor than it is to camouflage its manufacture. The whole history of all law enforcement goes to prove how difficult it is to draw a hard and fast line between minor and major crimes. The knowledge that Federal enforcement officers would, if they happened to run across his operations, make serious trouble for him must have exercised a restraining influence on many a home-brewer and the removal of this fear is not likely to have salutary effect.

The New York Republican platform exploits the same fallacy as does Mr. Woodcock in its plank calling for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the substitution of a law "outlawing the saloon." But the only way the saloon can be outlawed is to outlaw the whole liquor business. The basic evil is the alcoholic liquor, and how it is disposed of is a comparatively minor matter. Any place where liquor is obtainable is, for all practical purposes, a saloon.

It may be noted that in Massachusetts, where wet sentiment is about as prevalent as in New York, the Republican platform calls for enforcement of all law. That is a sounder position.

GOOD BUT LATE

The ten recommendations of the Playground and Recreation Commission for the restriction of oil drilling at Venice are excellent, but they would have been much more effective if they had been the result of forethought instead of afterthought. In point of time they are about four months late; it is probable much of the damage they seek to avoid has been done already or made unavoidable in future.

"No permits which drain tidelands" is an excellent principle and one which should have been carried out from the first. But, unfortunately, some such permits have been granted, and it seems likely that all other property owners similarly situated can come into court and compel that they be treated with complete equality. This is the principal recommendation which, it is to be feared, comes too late to do much good. I is the most important in the list of ten.

The other nine, excellent as they are, merely tend to mitigate the damage which the beach seems certain to suffer. Drainage of oil into lagoons or ocean should be prevented if possible, streets should be kept open to traffic and access to the public beach should be maintained, wells adjacent to water should be shielded and so on. But oil will slop on the sand in spite of all precautions and a certain amount of public inconvenience is inseparable from commercial oil exploitation near public play places.

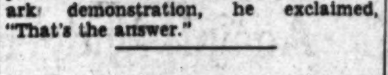
The City Council ought by all means to adopt these regulations and use every effort to make them stand up, since they may do some good.

AUTOGYRO PLEASES EDISON

"That's the answer, that's the answer!" exclaimed Edison with delight, as he watched the new autogyro take off vertically at Newark airport the other day, speed up to 115 miles an hour and then settle slowly to earth, landing without a roll. The famous inventor went on to say that the operation of the autogyro was the greatest advance that could have been made in aviation.

This tribute to Pitcairn Cierva, inventor of the latest and, it is believed, the safest of modern heavier-than-air craft, was from a scientist who had experimented for a long period with a helicopter the motive power of which had been derived from gun cotton. The reason why Edison gave up work in this line was that an explosion burned one of his assistants and he had concluded that the operation of the machine was too dangerous.

But the new autogyro's flights seem to be accompanied by no particular hazard. Its rotating vane lifts it almost straight up in the air and after running at a high rate of speed it can descend at the rate of twelve feet a second and land like a cat. It would seem that the elements of safety, of vertical ascent and descent, make it the sort of aircraft for which the world has been waiting; and it is to be hoped that Edison was not too previous" when, on witnessing the Newark demonstration, he exclaimed, "That's the answer."



TOO MUCH TO ENDURE

By James J. Montague

At dawn today, when I would fain
Have lingered in my bed,
I heard the roaring of a plane
That hovered overhead.
And from its midst a voice there fell
Which cried in thundering tones,
"All those who wish the city well
Will vote for John J. Jones."

Time was, when men electioneered,
They spoke in halls or parks
While people either hissed or cheered
Their clarion remarks.
And anyone who did not choose
To hear them tear the air
Could stay at home and read the news
Aloof from din and blare.

But if one must be roused from rest
So he may learn by rote
Some strident deafening behest
About the way to vote,
From every form of politics
He soon will seek release,
And hide out somewhere in the sticks
Where he may hope for peace.

To one thing I've made up my mind;
No politician chap
The way to my support shall find
By shouting while I nap.
And if, in time, their campaign pleas
All candidates shall bawl
As they sail over roofs and trees,
I shall not vote at all.

EAGLE ROCK is our idea of a nice place in which to live. When six cases of petty theft were reported there "within a few days" of each other, the Sentinel called it a crime wave.

Astonishing Reminiscences

Posser!

L. J. Garney of De Luz, who has written us several letters comparing new times with those we call old, called on us yesterday and for several hours kept our mouth agape so that you might have laid a ham in it. Back in about 1870, he said, a relative of his was offered twenty acres at what now is 203 Main street, Los Angeles, in payment for poisoning the ground squirrels on that and an adjoining tract, but hardly thought the pay would be worth the job.

In 1895 Garnsey was present when Col. E. L. Mayberry took a party of Los Angeles business men in a tally-ho to El Molino ranch, where the Hotel Huntington now stands. "Some day," predicted the colonel, "this land, which now is valued at around $100 an acre, is going to be worth $1000." The prediction was greeted by hearty laughter. Men there who could remember when that same land had sold for 15 cents an acre thought realty values in Los Angeles county had just about reached their limit.

Why Los Angeles Grew

"When I hear men saying that now is the time to sell, because things have reached their limit, I feel reassured," said Garnsey, "for that spirit is what has made Los Angeles. Years ago the great financiers couldn't see this territory. They went up near San Francisco and bought huge tracts. And half of those who bought them were always eager to sell, thinking things had reached their limit here. That kept things stirring, kept new blood coming in, kept breaking up what tracts there were. And communities of comparatively small owners had to be neighborly, had to co-operate for water and development, because none could afford to get those things unassisted. The people who didn't have the vision and the enterprise to build up a community were always eager to sell while 'things were at their peak,' so we got in people of more vision and enterprise, more owners working hard to pay out instead of renters half-heartedly working some other man's land, as would have been the case if those original owners had wanted to hold on for a rise. It's a good thing for any community when all the weak sisters in it think things are at their peak and now is the time to sell."

When Meat Was Valueless

Garnsey gracefully rolled a cigarette—a thing we hadn't seen anyone do for quite a while—and went on:

"Did you ever hear how octupling the price of cattle ruined the bigger ranchers between here and San Diego? In the days when cattle were only killed for their hides and tallow—when enough cattle were killed each year on any one big ranch to feed all the people in the State at that time, so there was no use for the meat of nine-tenths of those slaughtered—the great Santa Margarita ranch prospered. Then steers were worth about $3 a head. But the American invasion made the price in San Francisco jump to $25 a head, and Don Juan Forster and his boys, who owned a great part of the Santa Margarita and other ranches, got the idea that they could drive cattle overland to San Francisco and go into the meat business. So they borrowed $1 an acre on 250,000 acres to make the venture. Their idea was fine, except that it was a long drive from northern San Diego county and southern Orange county to San Francisco, and for days they had to drive their cattle through lands owned by Miller & Lux, the men they were going to San Francisco to compete with, who owned most of the central part of the State. Miller & Lux saw it was a big game for high stakes, so they proceeded to get control of the hay and grain market in San Francisco. When the great caravan of cattle reached San Francisco they were poor and thin. They couldn't go on the market till they were fed and fattened—and the prices of hay and grain had risen pretty high. So the venture failed and the mortgage put on the ranch to back the venture eventually took the ranch.

What Barbed Wire Did

"Of course, there wasn't a fence between San Diego and San Francisco in those days. Do you know what was the greatest invention for the development of the West? It was barbed wire. Back East the pioneers were limited to the amount of land they could clear and fence and it took them a lifetime to clear and fence a fair-sized farm. In the plains country there was no timber for fences, and till barbed wire came there were mighty few fences. You couldn't farm in open-range country. So no real development came to California till barb wire came.

No Highways Needed!

"And did you know," continued Garnsey, rolling another cigarette, "that from 1893 to 1896 San Diego county abandoned the road between Oceanside and Capistrano because there wasn't enough traffic on it to justify its upkeep? After the railroad came there was so little overland traffic along the coast that only local roads were considered necessary. Now that highway is one of the most heavily traveled in the United States."

SAFEGUARDING OUR FUTURE

BY ALMA WHITAKER

She is a smart girl and just now she is concentrating on making me "safeguard my future." She is very worried about what is going to happen to me in my old age and obviously expects the worst . . . unless I let her sell me the desirable safeguards.

These safeguards take all sorts of forms. One method is to arrange that my old-age income is increased "from 12 to 325 per cent" if I make suitable and handsome donations to the cause today.

But just in case I'm rich, she wants to make sure I won't be bumped off for my money . . . she wants my family to let me live my life out and not be yearning for their inheritance.

So to this end she will arrange to "increase my income from a portion of my estate, so as to distribute the balance to relatives while I am still living."

I have tried very hard to be enthusiastic about this arrangement, but for the life of me I can't help casting a suspectful eye upon my possible heirs . . . and feeling it might be safer to spend it all, while I still know a score of jolly ways I would like to wax extravagant.

Having been an alarmingly thrifty soul all my life, these efforts to "safeguard" my old age are making me ponder. The outlook isn't so good, whichever way one considers it. I know I should strongly object to living with a daughter-in-law or going to the county farm or even becoming a permanent boarder at Ebell's pleasant Rest Cottage.

On the other hand, it must be horried to be a rich old lady whose descendants are forever wanting to inherit . . . I mean, fancy being economical all one's life, buying second-best nighties, cheap shoes and the less expensive cuts of meat, only to wax rich enough to appease the greed of my heirs . . . to buy their tolerance for my delayed demise, by insuring that I can pay my own rent and grocer.

As against that, however, there are the rich, dull, old dears, who, without benefit of insurance schemes, have amassed fortunes to safeguard their old age, by frightful thrift through youth and middle age and then find they have forgotten how to spend, forgotten how to play and have most unsatisfactory tummies for enjoying rich food. These thrifty amassers have so often lost sleep, health, looks and human interests in the cause of safeguarding their old age. I often want to ask them if they feel it was worth it. One finds specimens of them in every neighborhood, prosperous and dull among their frolicsome, thriftless young neighbors.

Funny this passion for concentrating on old age and sacrificing the years for it. Rich old people who have starved themselves all their lives never look happy. They are either grouchy or else there is a wistful look in their tired old eyes, longing for al they missed.

Always, always, these dear insurance sales people harp on the subject of leaving one's dear ones well provided for. Which speaks pretty well for humanity, since the argument obviously works.

But it isn't necessarily good for our dear ones to be too well provided for . . . any more than it would have been good for us. It's the dear ones who have to get out and hustle for themselves who usually make the best success of their lives . . . especially males. Give a young man enough to live on in reasonable comfort, and for the life of him he cannot see the necessity of holding a job, working for preferment, shouldering responsibility or accepting burdens. Such an one is peculiarly remarkable if he ever gets to the place where he is wondering how much he can accumulate to leave to his own "dear ones." The only sort of dear ones who can be trusted with legacies are mammas and babies . . . and it's better for them not to have too much.

Even the insurance lady feels that I shall not need very much in my old age . . . that it would be nicer for me to distribute my surplus wealth 'round about 60. . . . Then, she assures me, I can have the joy of seeing my heirs spending happily, instead of being dead and not knowing a thing about it. This, she feels, is the nicest kind of old age . . . if one has kept a modest income to insure independence of the beneficiaries, who might not want to support me later on.

In fact, this dear girl can be tenderly sentimental in her pleas one minute, appealing to my higher nature, and vastly practical and cynical the next, warning me of human greed and frailties.

I'd like to hear from some nice old people on this insidious subject. How did they manage and what happened? This sprightly young thing who is trying to safeguard my old age . . . I surely need some strong, decisive arguments, based on real cases.

Half-Castes Make Desirable Citizens

In New Zealand after the Maori wars it appeared that the fine Polynesian race was doomed and in the '70s elimination of these natives seemed certain. But they have become New Zealanders and are increasing in numbers. The half-castes are also increasing and in many cases are thoroughly efficient citizens.

There is no color line and no race feeling; intermarriage is a normal practice. In Honolulu all opinion is favorable to the mixture of Chinese and Hawaiians; it is even asserted that the offspring inherit the good qualities of both races.

The Great Parade

The weekly attendance at motion-picture theaters in the United States in 1929 was 115,000,000, nearly three times as great as the 40,000,000 weekly attendance in 1922.

Home-Building Handicaps

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] President Hoover says, "The finance of home building . . . is the most backward segment of our whole credit system." There was a time, not long ago, when banks would make loans on homes at 6 and 7 per cent minus further costs and charges. Today, the home-loaning functioning has been turned over to sideline affiliations, in insurance companies, to building loan associations and the like. Rates have been raised to 8 4-10 per cent; appraisal charges, survey fees, added insurance requirements, advance interest demands, general overhead allotments and a whole "flock" of items have been fastened on to the home borrower.

The monthly installments insisted upon by building loan associations are much higher than most owners can afford to pay; witness the thousands of cases where homes have been lost through inability to meet them.

The President's home building committee will find a partial solution in any scheme that will get the money to the borrower without interference of so many agents, associations, brokers and the like.

Wretched Street Signs

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Harry Carr in today's issue of The Times certainly said something of vital interest to this city. He refers to the placing of street signs in places where they cannot be read at night. Most of the signs are placed on poles or posts in such a position that it is impossible to read them at night while passing in a street car, they being hid by the shadow of the street lights. This is a great inconvenience to people who are not familiar with the city and who are trying to locate some destination at night.

I have been in almost every large city in the United States and I never saw such clumsy placing of street signs as we have in Los Angeles.

Too Many Aliens and Gamblers

CALEXICO, Sept. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In my Times this morning I read the article, "Quinn Demands Alien Ousting." I compliment Mr. Quinn upon his splendid courage and good citizenship and it is certainly high time that some good wide-awake American attempted something to curb the unemployment in America.

Also Will Rogers's article of the 24th inst. on stock gamblers is very good. I think Wall street is the greatest menace America has to contend with. I am not a Socialist either.

Poet Versus Prophet

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26. [To the Editor of The Times:] In The Times of Sunday, September 21, is an article on "Intolerant Christianity" by the church editor in which he takes issue with the distinguished divine, Dr. Lewis Thurbia Guild, in the latter's recent address delivered before the Methodist Ministers' Association of Los Angeles.

Dr. Guild's intolerance as a prophet in the realm of religion is the intolerance of the scientist in the realm of science. It is the intolerance of the necessary narrowness of all truth; as for example, the intolerance of chemistry and of mathematics.

In the realm of civics it is the intolerance which holds that "a nation cannot long endure half free and half slave." In the dietitics of democracy it is the intolerance which declares that our political system cannot assimilate the poison of sovietism.

If Christianity is militant it is not the murderous militancy of Mohammedanism, but the spiritual, mental and moral militancy of the Man of Galilee.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Personality Millinery?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The art of creating hats that reflect the personality of the wearer is being taught at the Sentous Evening High School, 1205 West Pico Boulevard, on Monday and Wednesday evenings, from 7 to 9. Old hats that never quite seemed to bring out the delicacy of profile as they should are steamed in the school workshop.

New hats are designed, cut and made from soft velvets, so popular this season, for about a tenth of the retail price for such creations. Felts are fitted to the head and cut and molded into individual styles. Women of all ages are welcome to these classes. There is no charge of any kind for instruction nor for using the school steaming equipment. Each student furnishes her own materials.

Schools Named for Countries

In schools of Panama a day's study will be devoted to the history and culture of each of the American republics, as well as to each of several European and Asiatic countries. The purposes, through a better knowledge of each other, to promote friendship and a feeling of brotherhood among the peoples of the earth. It is the intention, also, to name different schools in Panama in honor of American nations and of Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Plamondon of Seattle, Wash., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Frances Vivienne Plamondon, to James Reynolds Pierce, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Pierce, 343 South Reno street. Miss Plamondon and Mr. Pierce were both graduated from the University of Washington, where the former became a member of Alpha Delta Pi, and the latter of Kappa Sigma.

The wedding will take place in Seattle before Thanksgiving.

Will Wed in October

One of the delightful affairs of recent date was the bridge party given the Misses Mavis and Nadine Brehm, 2913 Dalton avenue, in honor of Miss Dorothy McCall and Douglas Moore, whose wedding will be an event of October. A midnight supper was served following bridge. Among those bidden to the affair were the Misses Spencer, Margaret Whidden, Ellen Pearson, Ethel Whitlock, Geraldine Hehr, Mary Wiley, Roberta McPherrin, Mary Roberts, Evelyn Laimon, Adrienne Fortune, Maurice Woeverle, William Finn, Dean Sheldon, Darrill Scott, Martin Grover, Paul Garvey, Thomas Ritchie, Frank Adams, Ralph King, Charles Moffat, Harold Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George Peterman, Mr. and Mrs. William Brehm and Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds.

With the ships at anchor in the harbor and officers and their families established in homes for the winter season, members of the smart naval colony are entering into a gay round of colorful social affairs that promise to fill the social calendar until battleships set sail for Panama next February.

An important addition to the fleet this year, Vice-Admiral Richard H. Leigh, commander of battleship divisions, and Mrs. Leigh, accompanied by Lieutenant-Commander Callahan of the admiral's staff, motored into town last Saturday night to attend the dinner-dance with which Mrs. McClure Hayes entertained at the Biltmore. The Leighs, who have recently moved from Hotel Virginia to an apartment in the Brigadier, have many friends in the civilian set and plan to entertain with a number of events during the coming months.

Admiral William D. MacDougall, commander of the fleet base force, and Mrs. MacDougall, left the 15th inst. for the East where they expect to visit in Massachusetts and Syracuse, N. Y. Admiral MacDougall will return the middle of October and Mrs. MacDougall in November.

An interesting visitor at Fort MacArthur is Mrs. Helen Atkinson of San Francisco, who is the guest of Miss Ruth Norris and her brother, Capt. Don R. Norris, post adjutant. Mrs. Atkinson is first violinist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. One of many delightful parties arranged for Mrs. Atkinson was a dinner-dance at Pacific Coast Club given by Maj. Kelley B. Lemmon, temporary commandant of Fort MacArthur. Maj. Lemmon included as his guests Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. Byrd Fitzgerald, Mrs. Julia Woods of Los Angeles, Miss Ruth Norris, Rear-Admiral Harley H. Christy, commander of Battleship Division Four; Capt. John D. Wainwright, commanding the U.S.S. Oklahoma.

Newcomers at the harbor include Capt. Joseph K. Taussig, commanding officer of the battleship Maryland; Mrs. Taussig and their daughter, Miss Margaret Taussig, and son Joseph, Jr. The Taussigs came to this coast from Newport, R. I., where Capt. Taussig was chief of staff at the Naval War College.

Joining the coterie of attractive young navy brides this season is Mrs. Edmund Marshall, who was married to Ensign Marshall in the Naval Academy chapel soon after graduation exercises June 5. Mrs. Marshall, formerly Miss Martha White of Annapolis, chose as her maid of honor, Miss Anna Ruth Hildebrandt of Indiana, who is a student at Goucher College, and for bridesmaids, Miss Claire Arthur of Baltimore and Miss Margaret Moss of Annapolis. Best man was the bridegroom's room-mate, Ensign J. W. Alles, now attached to the New Mexico, and ten classmates served as ushers. A reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. J. Moore, followed the brilliant ceremony and later Ensign and Mrs. Marshall motored across the continent to make their home here while he is on duty aboard the Mississippi. The young officer is a son of Mrs. Edna M. Marshall of Los Angeles.

One of the gay parties of the past week took place in Pacific Coast Club Friday night when officers of the U.S.S. Mississippi gathered to fete their new commander, Capt. Harry L. Brinser, and Mrs. Brinser. Covers were marked for several score officers and their wives at a flower-decked table radiant in early autumn colorings and glowing with dozens of lighted candles in harmonizing hues. The guest list for the affair included Capt. and Mrs. Brinser, Commander and Mrs. Raymond A. Spruance, Commander Ernest Gunther, Lieutenant-Commander James C. Byrne, Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. George Arvin, Lieut. and Mrs. E. H. Krueger, Lieut. and Mrs. Will F. Roseman, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles S. Boarman, Lieut. and Mrs. Paul Coloney, Lieut. and Mrs. N. A. Chapin, Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly, Lieut. and Mrs. H. T. Wray, Lieut. and Mrs. Donald H. Johnston, Mrs. William Fielding, Lieut. and Mrs. Richard Ganahl, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Ludewig, Ensign and Mrs. William Cockell, Ensign and Mrs. Edmund Marshall, Ensigns Hurley M. Zook, G. Fritchman, Jacob Waterhouse, Bruce Van Voorhis, Adolf Miller, Charles Morgan, George Kohr, Robert Coffey, H. N. Larson, J. A. Adkins, W. A. Burgett, A. E. Gere, H. P. Burden, J. Agnew, Mervin Halstead, R. C. Barr, C. R. Herms, F. N. Wilson, W. E. Ellis, J. B. Dimmick, D. W. Olney, J. O. Vosseller, Commander and Mrs. Donald H. Noble, Mrs. Maurice M. Witherspoon, Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Tucker Gibbs, Lieut. and Mrs. C. M. Garrison, Miss Willena Todd and Mrs. Helen Twyman.

Mrs. Powell McC. Rhea is a charming addition to the service contingent this fall, having arrived a short time ago with her three children, Ann, Bobby and Tommy, to be at home at the harbor while Lieutenant-Commander Rhea is attached to the U.S.S. Nevada. Traveling across the continent, Mrs. Rhea stopped at Fort Meyer, Va., where she was the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Capt. and Mrs. H. F. Bultman, U.S.A. En route to this coast she also visited in New Orleans for a brief time with her mother, Mrs. T. Maxby Hyman, and in Fayetteville, Ark., where she was the house guest of Lieutenant-Commander Rhea's mother, Mrs. Mertye Rhea Ellis. Mrs. Rhea has two other sisters married in the service, Mrs. H. W. Blakeley, wife of Capt. Blakeley of Fort Meyers, Va., and Mrs. C. H. Day, wife of Lieut. Day, U.S.A., on duty in Panama.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hoyt of Long Beach entertained at an informal supper party Sunday night for Miss Ruth Shepley and Paul Dickey of Hollywood and Commander and Mrs. Ronan C. Grady of the Tennessee.

Arriving on the naval transport Henderson from the east coast last week was Miss Anne Tardy, who will be the incentive for a round of enjoyable parties during a several months' stay on this coast as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Lieut. and Mrs. Roger Edison Perry, U.S.S. Saratoga. Mrs. Perry (Dorothy Tardy) and Miss Anne Tardy are the daughters of Commander Walter B. Tardy, U.S.N., (retired) and Mrs. Tardy of Annapolis.

Health and Diet ADVICE

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

LUNCHES FOR SCHOOL-CHILDREN

Now that the school term has started, many mothers find themselves confronted with the problem of preparing lunches which may be carried to school by the children, and which will provide health and nourishment. Too often the lunches which are taken to school are not wholesome and lead to catarrhal or digestive troubles. It is fully as important to see that a child receives good food in good combinations at school as at home.

The bread used for sandwiches for children should always be made of entire wheat. Good fillings for sandwiches are made by spreading on fresh cow's butter or roasted peanut butter. A leaf of lettuce or a layer of sliced cucumbers makes a good filler for these sandwiches. Cheese is also an excellent protein to use, either sliced prepared cheese, or a layer of cottage cheese. Other good sandwiches can be made with chopped eggs, meat, etc., as described in my article on sandwiches which appeared in this paper yesterday.

A salad of raw, nonstarchy vegetables may also be prepared and carried in a small glass jar with a screw top, or in a small can with a close-fitting lid.

Mothers who are perplexed with the lunch problem should hail the themos bottle with joy, for any kind of hot food may be maintained at a warm temperature in these bottles until the lunch hour. It is a good plan to include some of the cooked vegetables in the lunch and they may be kept hot in a wide-mouthed thermos bottle. Use a different kind of vegetable for each of the five school days. Stews or thick soups may also be used for the sake of variety. Such vegetables as cooked celery, spinach, string beans, asparagus, carrots, etc., may be used, and can be heated over from the evening meal of the day before.

An example of a good lunch to give a child to take to school would be: Two sandwiches; one peanut butter and sliced cucumbers, the other of sliced beef and lettuce. One vegetable salad of grated carrots, chopped watercress and lettuce. A thermos bottle filled with hot creamed string beans.

This makes a much more wholesome meal than to give the child such a lunch as: A white bread sandwich and jelly, an orange, a piece of cake and a banana. Yet, this is the kind of lunch that many children actually take to school. It is no wonder that there are so many children with bad teeth, swollen tonsils and pasty complexions.

While acid fruits are very good foods, they should only be used by themselves or with milk, never with a bread sandwich. Your child will do better work in school if his lunches follow the rules which I have just outlined, rather than if they consist of bad combinations. It is even better to give a child nothing but fruit, than to burden his little body with indigestible foods and bad combinations. The best plan, of course, is to see that a child obtains a well-balanced lunch of good quality and good combinations.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

An Old Razor Blade

An old razor blade is a splendid article for puncturing the tough skin of the capsule holding the coloring matter of the butter substitute. It cuts the capsule cleanly and prevents its spraying out on the table or all over the fingers.

A Place for Galoshes

A wooden box placed just inside the shed door to be used as a receptacle for rubbers and galoshes will save the housewife a lot of cleaning up during the winter months. It can just about ruin a clean linoleum when the family scatters their footwear all over the kitchen.

Another Gift for the Bride

A nice engagement or shower gift for the bride can be made by covering a hat box with cretonne. In it put a bundle of dusters, one of tea towels, one of dishcloths and one of different-sized chamois cloths. This practical gift will be greeted with delight by the future housekeeper.

Worth the Trouble

Curtains will always hang straight if the selvedge is cut off and a narrow hem sewn on in its stead. Sometimes this is all that ails uneven curtains.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

WHAT SHALL WE DO FOR THE CRY-BABY?

Every mother feels that she must break her child of crying if he is a cry-baby. She must shame him, scold him, even punish him for crying. These are short-sighted methods for they fail to take into consideration that crying is the chief emotional expression of the child. It may indicate a wide variety of unrelated things: that the child is sick, bored, without playmates, mistreated at home or school, or unable to keep up with his work—the list is endless. But the child does not express all these different things in different ways; he expresses them all by crying.

Such is Mrs. E. N. W.'s problem: "My boy is 7 years old and cries at every little thing. He was sick so much last winter and had an operation and now he is so nervous. Every day at schooltime he cries, though I force him to go. After he gets there he is all right. He is the same way at home: if the least thing goes wrong he cries. We will certainly appreciate it if you will tell us what is wrong."

JUST GUESSES

You have given me too little information, except this past history of illnesses, upon which to base even a good guess. It may be (you see I am guessing) that he feels school is in some way connected with his past illness. He may be afraid of school for that reason. You may have said: "I won't send you to school because there are so many children there with colds, and I do not want you to be sick again," so he is frightened of school and thinks it may lead to more of the previous kind of suffering.

His past illness may have put him behind his class, so that he is unable to carry on the work and each day is another misery. He may be afraid to cry in school, but tries to avoid it and his unhappiness makes him irritable at home.

CLEAR UP SITUATION

You do him a great injustice not to sift this thing to the bottom. Visit school. Note the teacher's and pupils' treatment of him. Talk it over with his teacher and see if putting him back a grade might ease things up for him. Be sure his eyesight is good, his hearing acute, and his tonsils and adenoids healthy. Then stop talking about his past illness or offering him such straws as, "your nervousness." He was sick but he is now well, so keep uppermost in his mind the advantages of this state and the pleasures only well boys can enjoy. Otherwise, he'll hang onto this temporary invalidism until it is a permanent state of mind, if not of health.

Rose M. and Admirer: I shall be glad to answer your letters personally if you will write me again and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope with your letter. Your questions are not of the type to be of interest to mothers, for which this column is written.

Color in the kitchen—that's the vogue now. Kitchens are the housewives' workshop, so they should be gay and cheerful if the occupants are to remain gay and cheerful.

Even new pans and cooking utensils can now be bought in color. But many of us, like myself, do not want to throw away our old pots and pans. I have been talking with a chemist of the General Paint Corporation, manufacturers of that wonderful new color finish, Flex, and he tells me they have found a way in their laboratory for every housewife to have her cooking utensils bright and in harmony with the color scheme of the kitchen. Flex may be successfully used to color old pots and pans. Flex is neither a lacquer nor an enamel, it combines the better features of both. You can trim your cooking utensils and pans with Flex and then bake Flex on so that it will be porcelain-hard.

Saute the ham, onion, chicken and pimientoes together, until the onion is tender, combine this with the consomme and allow to cook slowly for one hour, wash the okra, cut off the stem and slice, add it to the consomme, with the tomato, and cook for a half an hour longer, add the oysters and as soon as the edges have curled, season with salt and paprika, and serve at once.

Fry the bacon in a saute pan, add the chopped onions and cook until evenly browned, add the tomato puree, bay leaves, seasonings and flour, that has been diluted with two tablespoonfuls of water, stir all together and cook slowly for ten minutes, then add the cooked lima beans, place in a hot dish and garnish with sauted tomatoes and finely chopped parsley.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

A Bedtime Story

—by THORNTON W. BURGESS

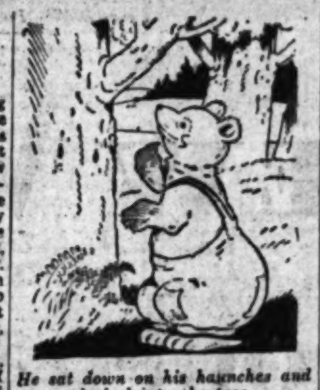
TWO OF A KIND

Be it wrong or be it right,
We all are slaves of appetite.
—Buster Bear.

Impy the black Chipmunk clung to the branch of a tree which he had climbed and wished with all his might that he had remained at home. You see, right down below him was great big Buster Bear. Impy didn't know who it was, but he did know that he was very, very much afraid. It was the first time he had seen Buster Bear. Indeed, he had not even heard of Buster. But something inside him told him that if he wanted to continue to frisk about happily it would be best to remain out of reach of this big, black fellow.

"Woof! Woof!" said Buster Bear, as he put his nose to the trunk of the tree. "Woof! Woof! I smell Chipmunk."

Buster licked his lips when he said that, and the way in which he did this gave Impy a most uncomfortable feeling. Buster's nose, his wonderful nose, had found the place where Impy had climbed the trunk of the tree. That is why Buster said that he smelled Chipmunk. He sat down on his haunches and looked up in the tree. His little eyes—for they are small for his size—had a hungry look in them. It was enough to make every hair on any one's coat stand on end and that is just what every hair in Impy's black coat was doing. Now, Impy didn't move. It wasn't because he didn't want to move; it was because he couldn't move. He couldn't move because he was too frightened to move. That is one of the ways in which Old Mother Nature sometimes looks after her children. There are times when their safety depends on their remaining without motion. Old Mother Nature protects them by making them so frightened they cannot move.



He sat down on his haunches and looked into the tree

Down on the ground was great, big Buster Bear. Up in the tree was little Impy, one of Striped Chipmunk's children. So far as the color of their coats was concerned they were two of a kind. Never have you seen anything blacker than those two coats. So far as appetites were concerned they were two of a kind. Impy had come over there to see if the nuts were ready to harvest, for you know, like all Squirrels, Chipmunks are very fond of nuts. Buster Bear had come over there for the same purpose. Buster also is very fond of nuts of certain kinds. He is especially fond of beechnuts, and these were the nuts that Impy was most interested in just then.

Buster sniffed around on the ground for a few minutes and then whined. It was a whine of disappointment. Yes, sir, that is just what it was—a whine of disappointment. There wasn't a nut on the ground. He came back to the tree and looked up in it. Impy was sure that Buster was looking for him. He wasn't, for he didn't even know that Impy was there. For a few moments, which seemed ages to Impy, Buster sat there at the foot of the tree, looking up. Then he arose to his full height. He stood up on his hind feet. Yes, sir, he stood up just like a man! Impy very nearly let go and dropped when he saw this. Buster reached up, dug his claws into the bark and a second later he was climbing that tree. There wasn't then the shadow of doubt in Impy's mind that Buster was climbing for him. What should he do? It seemed to him that his heart would beat itself to pieces.

As a matter of fact, Buster Bear was climbing that tree to see if he could shake off any of the nuts. Already he had forgotten the smell of Chipmunk. But Impy didn't know this and so he was frightened almost to death.

Franklin Back to Prepare for Trip to Europe

Harold B. Franklin, recently resigned president of the Fox West Coast Theaters, returned to Los Angeles from New York on the Santa Fe Chief last night, and declared upon his arrival that after two or three weeks spent in completing unfinished work at his office, he will leave for Europe for a short vacation.

"My plans for the future are not in such shape that I can announce them just now," Mr. Franklin said, "but I will be able to say more about them when I return from my vacation—the first, by the way in fifteen years.

"Of course, I am thinking of the exhibition field for that is my forte and my work will have to do with that end of the motion-picture industry. I believe there is more opportunity today than ever for the exhibitors."

Board Balks on X-Ray Bill for Lost Tack

On the ground that it cannot legally use public funds for such a purpose the Board of Education voted last night to reject a request that it pay a bill of $15 for X-rays made of the throat and stomach of a boy named Robert Hughes, who swallowed a thumb tack while assisting a teacher in tacking up a poster in a classroom of the Pine-street school.

The request was made by Mrs. Margaret Hughes, the boy's mother. She informed the board that she did not authorize the taking of the X-rays and that she is financially unable to pay the bill. The report of the school principal on the matter stated the boy's mother was not at home at the time of the accident, that he was taken first to the county clinic and it was the nurse at the clinic who took him to a private hospital at Glendale where the X-rays were made. At the hospital he was given a cocaine injection in the neck, the tack was dislodged and sent down into the stomach.

Inglewood Pair Must Face Trial

Harry Amend, former Inglewood constable, and Jeanne Dunham, once a woman deputy in his office, yesterday pleaded not guilty to a charge of conspiracy to commit petty theft when they appeared before Superior Judge Wood. The court fixed October 31 as the date for their trial, which will be held in Superior Judge Fricke's court.

The two are accused of conspiring to submit false expense-account vouchers to the County Treasurer for the transportation of prisoners, who, the District Attorney contends, never existed.

Mrs. Heath died Saturday at her home, 6430 West Fifth street. She was 45 years of age and had resided in Los Angeles ten years. Besides her husband she leaves her son, Carl, and two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Drewe and Miss Marjorie Heath.

FATHER DENIES PARENTAGE

Mother Wins Guardianship of Margaret R. Connell, Brought from France in Trust-Fund Case

Litigation over the custody of Margaret R. Connell, 9 years of age, who came from Paris to Los Angeles to protect a $7000 trust fund created for her education, brought her father, John M. Connell, to Superior Judge Crail's court yesterday in handcuffs.

Connell, who is in the County Jail charged with violation of terms of his probation imposed after he was convicted of issuing checks without funds, appeared to contest efforts of the child's mother, Mrs. Verne B. Swift, to be appointed her daughter's guardian. Mrs. Swift made an appearance on the same case several weeks ago, but the matter was postponed until Margaret could be brought here from France, where she is attending school.

Connell eloped to Riverside with Mrs. Swift and later Margaret was born. When the child was a few months old, according to records in the probation office, Connell left his wife. She subsequently obtained a divorce, charging the ceremony in Riverside was not legal.

On the witness stand in Judge Crail's court yesterday Connell made the assertion that he didn't think Margaret was his child.

"I have heard from time to time of Margaret, but I never could see her," he said.

Judge Crail, however, accepted Mrs. Swift's testimony regarding the child's parentage and appointed Mrs. Swift guardian of her estate. Under terms of the will of Mrs. Electa Connell, mother of Connell and grandmother of the child, the income from the $7000 is to be devoted to the education of Margaret and her father receives what is left.

COUNCIL TO STUDY INYO LAND OPTION

Porter Says Proposition of Eaton Not Attractive as City Doesn't Need Ranch

The fifteen-day option offered by the Eaton Land and Cattle Company on its property in Long Valley, Inyo county, was referred by the City Council yesterday to its Water and Power Committee for consideration.

This offer was submitted to the Board of Water and Power Commissioners several days ago. Fred Eaton, the owner, who once was Mayor of Los Angeles, offers to sell 12,000 acres, which he says carries with it 51,600 acre feet of water, for $2,300,000.

Mayor Porter said yesterday that a representative of Eaton, a Mr. Staley, discussed the matter with him Saturday.

"There is nothing to this proposition at all," Mayor Porter said, in discussing the Eaton offer. "The city doesn't need the ranch. I have maintained all along that the holdings are worth about $200,000. Some time before the water bond issue was submitted last May the matter of buying the ranch was discussed but no satisfactory figure could be agreed upon, consequently the bond issue did not carry an item for this purchase."

Mayor Porter added that the city now has an easement in Long Valley for the construction of a 100-foot storage reservoir dam.

Court Defers Enjoinment of Victory Park

United States District Judge James yesterday continued for one week hearing of arguments on a petition for a permanent injunction against the city of Los Angeles, the City Council, the City Treasurer and other officials to prohibit the city and officials from passing upon or approving an assessment in an assessment zone in Victory Park, No. 2. Judge Jacobs recently granted Helen C. McNamara, the petitioner, a temporary restraining order.

The hearing next Monday will be on an order to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent. The petitioner asserts that the assessment is in violation of United States Constitutional provisions relating to taking property without due process of law. This brings the case into the Federal court.

TRAGEDY SPURS SAFETY MOVE

Wilmar Citizens Aroused by Deaths of Children

Railway Crossing Declared Too Dangerous

Inquest in Crash of Train and Auto Today

Thoroughly aroused by the accident Sunday in which three children in one family were killed and a fourth seriously injured when their automobile was struck by a speeding Pacific Electric train at the Del Mar avenue crossing in Wilmar, the citizens of that town, led by the Chamber of Commerce, will renew their demand that the railway company take measures to prevent additional tragedies at the crossing.

According to W. C. Gorman, Wilmar real estate man and a director of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley, who is handling the matter, a similar demand was made upon the railroad several months ago after a person had been killed by a train at the same crossing.

PROMISES MADE

At that time, he said, the railway promised that schedules would be arranged so that trains running in opposite directions would not pass the crossing almost simultaneously and that trains would not pass the crossing at an excessive rate of speed.

Although it was first reported that Sunday's accident was the result of such a situation as was covered in the first promise, Mr. Gorman said yesterday his own investigation had not disclosed that another train had just passed before the train came along which struck the automobile.

SIGNAL OBJECTIONABLE

Another factor which the citizens will endeavor to get the railway to remedy is that of the signal. There is a wigwag signal at present, but there is a grade leading to the tracks and that fact changes the angle of vision of a driver in a closed car so that he cannot see the wigwag when he nears the tracks, according to Mr. Gorman. Accordingly, the citizens will demand that a signal be placed on the ground or at least on a lower level than the present wigwag.

Mr. Gorman and other representatives of the Chamber of Commerce will attend the inquest at the DuBois Funeral Home today when a Coroner's jury will go into the circumstances surrounding the deaths of the three victims of Sunday's fatal crash. Evidence collected by investigators under Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide detail will be placed before the jurors.

The crash victims were Donley D. Barry, 19 years of age, who was driving the car, and his two sisters, Mary Louise, 14, and Honor Margaret, 6. Willard W. Barry, 9, who received a fractured skull, which it was feared would result fatally, was reported at the General Hospital yesterday to be improving.

TIME LIMIT VOIDED FOR JUDGMENT

Judge Holds Fine Levied by Justice Court Can be Collected at Any Date

"There is no time limit on the enforcement of a judgment of a Justice Court in a misdemeanor case," Superior Judge Shaw yesterday ruled in dismissing habeas corpus proceedings directed against A. C. Thomas of Norwalk. The latter was sentenced by the Norwalk Justice Court to pay a fine of $300 or go to jail for 150 days, in 1929. Sentence was suspended, and suspension later was revoked. More than a year later, the Sheriff was ordered to enforce judgment.

Thomas complained that, in the meantime, he had been in court and had paid other fines, with nothing said about this fine. He contended, on habeas corpus proceedings, that the judgment could not be enforced after one year.

Judge Shaw held that the Justice Court may at any time, collect a fine it has overlooked, and that the judgment is good until enforced. He ruled that Thomas must stay in jail or pay a fine.

Arizona Seeks Cotton Picker Families Here

Cotton pickers are needed at Phoenix, Buckeye, Coolidge, Florence and Casa Grande, Ariz., the Arizona Cotton Growers' Association yesterday informed the farm-labor division of the United States Employment Service. The excellent crop, now ready for harvesting will require the services of 1000 families. They will be housed in rent-free cabins and tents, and will be kept busy until February, 1931. Schools are convenient to all ranches in the belt.

Prices paid for picking are 75 cents per hundredweight for short staple and $1.25 per hundredweight for Pima long-staple cotton. Indigent applicants for the work will be advanced a reasonable amount of gas and oil expenses, it is stated. Further information may be obtained by application to the United States Employment Service, 901 North Alameda street. J. H. Pallin is superintendent in charge.

Fire Damages Packing Plant

Spontaneous combustion in packing material was determined by fire-department investigators to have been the cause of a fire which caused about $1000 damage to the packing plant of the Bekins Van and Storage Company at Fourth and Seaton streets early yesterday.

The packing plant, a one-story brick building, was damaged mostly by smoke and water. Firemen had little difficulty in confining the blaze to the interior.

QUEEN'S EGG CUP OWNED BY ACTRESS

Betty Compson

Persuasion and pounds sterling put Queen Victoria's egg cup in the possession of Betty Compson, R.-K.-O. Radio Pictures' star.

Having a penchant for antiques and rare objects of art, Betty looked about, during a visit in England to make a series of pictures, for something to carry home as a memento.

It took much persuasion and no small amount of money to induce a certain member of royalty to part with this solid-gold inlaid egg cup, but the fact that Miss Compson now has the cup in company with many other rare art objects is proof that she won over all opposition.

CHARGE IN RAID FIGHT REDUCED

Felony Plaint Changed to Misdemeanor for Asserted Resistance to Officer

Felony charges of resisting an officer were dismissed against Earl Dye, 1646 Clemenson street, Gardena, yesterday by Municipal Judge Stafford. The dismissal was ordered at the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman, who told the court the offense charged is not a felony.

Later Dye was arraigned before Judge Stafford on a misdemeanor complaint, charging the same offense. He was released without bail pending trial, which the court set for October 10, next, after Dye waived his right to be tried by a jury.

He is accused of resisting Deputy Sheriff Ernst when the latter raided his home for liquor. Dye was found not guilty of liquor possession at his trial before Municipal Judge Carrell. Ernst, suspended by Sheriff Traeger as a result of his asserted conduct during the raid, is to be tried on a charge of battery next Saturday before Judge Carrell.

PROTESTS DENIED

The City Council yesterday denied protests against the improvement of Towne avenue between Florence avenue and Seventy-sixth street and against the improvement of streets in the Yosemite Drive and Wiota street district.

HUNTINGTON DOORS OPEN TOMORROW

Library and Art Gallery Again Admitting Visitors After Annual Renovation

The Henry E. Huntington Library and Art Gallery will reopen its exhibitions tomorrow following the annual renovation period. The institution, a gift of famous paintings and priceless books and manuscripts by Mr. Huntington to the people, was opened in January, 1928.

"Notwithstanding the fact that nearly 350,000 persons have visited us," said Robert O. Schad, in charge of the public exhibitions, "there are still many in California who do not understand the status of the exhibitions. They are open to all through cards of admission which are supplied free to applicants.

"The need for dated cards which serve to limit the number of visitors on any one day is readily appreciated by all visitors. The paintings and other objects of art are housed in the home of the late Mr. Huntington, an arrangement which greatly enhances the charm of the collection, but naturally limits the number of visitors. In the case of the library, it may be said that visitors' interest in the display of rare books and manuscripts has proved to be far greater than anticipated and consequently the present quarters of the library exhibition are not adequate for our visitors at all times."

WOMEN FOR OBSERVANCE OF ALL LAW

Foremost Clubs of City Consider Sections for 'Advocating Policy

Women for Law Observance, an organization dedicated to the creation of a sentiment for observance of all laws among the members of the community, took steps to widen its circle of influence when representatives from ten of the foremost women's clubs of the city and environs met at the home of Mrs. William Honnold in Bel-Air to discuss the formation of law observance sections in their respective organizations.

The policy of the law-observance group is to make its influence felt by the members themselves setting an example of respect for the law, rather than by militant propaganda, and it is felt that it will be an important step forward if the women's clubs give their active support to the movement.

Women's clubs represented at the meeting included the Friday Morning, Ebell, Beverly Hills, Hollywood, Long Beach, University, Santa Monica, City, Pasadena Civic League and Parent-Teacher Association.

EIGHT HOSPITAL CONTRACTS LET

Supervisors Accept Bids Totaling $926,597

Tenders Made on Revised Specifications

Other Awards on Recent Offers to Be Made

Eight contracts, totaling $926,597, to furnish the county with building material and equipment in the construction of the new General Hospital were awarded late yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. The contracts were let to the lowest bidders and represent a part of the bids opened by the board on the 15th inst. under the revised specifications recommended recently by the Allied Architects.

The contracts yesterday were on cement finish, tile work, carpenter and mill work, ornamental metal, heavy shelving, wire fencing, carts and lawn sprinklers. The contracts were awarded to the following bidders:

Cement finish, Weymouth Crowell Company, $448,290; tile work, B. D. Collins Company, $290,155; carpentry and mill work, J. W. Jean, $59,171; ornamental metal, Phillip Friedman, Inc., $38,800; heavy shelving, Drayer Hanson, Inc., $6108; wire fencing, Los Angeles Fencing Company, $3675; carts, J. L. Davidson Company, $56,436; lawn sprinklers, Brooks of California, Inc., $25,953.

The architects refused to recommend any of the bids of contractors for furnishing tables and library stacks, therefore the board did not let any contracts for these furnishings. New bids will be advertised for.

More contracts on the bids opened on the 15th and the 23rd inst. will be awarded by the Supervisors next Monday.

Expert Shows Color's Effect on Personality

That color has a definite influence on the personality and may be used as an aid to personal magnetism and success was demonstrated by Frederick J. Schwankovsky in his first lecture on the "Influence of Color in Daily Life," given in the May Company exposition hall yesterday. Schwankovsky is director of art at the Manual Arts High School.

By the use of colored light and a painting of the human aura Schwankovsky demonstrated symbolically how the disposition is changed by various colors. "Reds, yellows and oranges," he said, "are the colors of physical power and intellect. Greens, blues and violets are the hues which lead through sympathy and wisdom and spirituality to the deeper powers of the soul."

Schwankovsky was assisted by E. R. Kocher, who was introduced as a color expert. Today at 2 p.m. he will again lecture in exposition hall on "The History of Furniture," tracing its origin back to ancient times.

NEW CLINIC ON TROJAN CAMPUS

Refraction Laboratory Established for Eye Examinations

Student's Optics Get Attention

Dr. Ernest A. Hutchinson, chairman of the department of physics-optics at U.S.C., examines eyes of Florence Hodges.

ADDING a fourth branch to the clinic service of the University of Southern California, a refraction laboratory has been established on the Trojan campus with the affiliation of the Los Angeles College of Optometry.

Dr. Ernest A. Hutchinson, lecturer and chairman of the department of physic-optics, heads the work of the new clinic, assisted by senior students who are preparing for the State board examination.

One of the important duties of the clinic is to attend to the eyes of students. During the earlier part of the month thousands of students were examined as a part of the registration procedure. In addition, the department has handled 2000 examinations since then.

Other clinics of U.S.C., are the legal-aid division, which provides free legal advice to needy people of Los Angeles; the dental clinic, which served more than 12,000 patients last year, and the laboratory of the department of psychology.

Trip to Moon Failure Shown in Newsreel

Prof. Piccard of University of Brussels did not get off on his proposed balloon trip to the moon, it is shown in The Times-Universal Newsreel in all leading Southern California theaters. The professor had hoped to make the journey in an air-tight chamber attached to a 150-foot gas bag. He is shown climbing into his weird cabin, and making preliminary arrangements—but something happened to the gas.

Ambassador Dawes is shown at the 100th anniversary celebration at Liverpool, Eng., of the putting into use of the first steam locomotive. Another unusual sequence shows natives harvesting salt from the great saline sea near Chakar in Tibet, the Forbidden Land. Graham McNamee, talking reporter, describes the news events as usual.

Further information concerning the showing can be had by calling REpublic 3171 and asking for Newsreel No. 78.

RITES FOR COLE TOMORROW

Private Funeral Services Will Be Conducted for Merchant and Financier

Funeral services for Louis M. Cole, merchant and financier, who died unexpectedly Sunday night as the result of a heart attack, will be conducted privately tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the family residence, 3240 Wilshire Boulevard, in the presence of members of the family, relatives and a few close friends. Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin will officiate and burial will follow in the Home of Peace Cemetery.

Mr. Cole, who was a thirty-third degree Mason, will be borne to his last resting-place by a group of brother Masons, all of whom have taken the thirty-third degree in Masonry.

The only thing in the nature of a public service will be today when the body will lie in state in the Scottish Rite Cathedral at 929 South Hope street from 12 noon until 1 p.m.

Mr. Cole was at his home at the Uplifters' Ranch near Santa Monica when he was stricken with the heart attack which caused his death. He was 61 years of age. He came to California from Chicago when he was 17 and had made his home in this city for the past twenty-seven years, during which time he had made a place for himself as a prominent figure in the business and financial life of the community. He also was active in club circles.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Frieda Hellman Cole, a sister of Marco H. and Irving H. Hellman, and two adopted sons, Marco Aronson and Herbert Aronson.

SUPERVISORS PASS RESOLUTION OF REGRET

Members of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors before adjourning late yesterday on motion of Supervisor Graves adopted the following resolutions concerning the death of Louis M. Cole:

"Whereas, we learn with deep regret of the sudden and untimely passing of Louis M. Cole, a distinguished and useful citizen of California and Los Angeles. His interest in civic and humanitarian activities has been outstanding in this community where he was known as a patriotic citizen, a civic leader and a man whose kindness and charity knew no bounds.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the Board of Supervisors join with the citizens of California in expressing their sincere regret at the passing from among us of this truly distinguished citizen, and we take this opportunity of expressing our deepest sympathy to his family; and,

"Be it further resolved that this testimonial and resolution be spread upon the minutes of the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county and a copy of it be engrossed and forwarded to Mrs. Cole."

Last Rites for Dr. W. R. Faries Will Be Today

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. today in the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for Dr. William R. Faries, retired physician and prominent Coachella Valley date grower, who died Friday night after a year's illness.

Dr. Faries was born in New York seventy years ago. Shortly after graduating from the College of the City of New York he went to China as a medical missionary for the Presbyterian Board of Missions and remained there fourteen years. Illness forced him to give up the work and he came to Southern California in 1903. He was one of the pioneers in date growing and was regarded as an authority on the subject of crops adapted to arid climates. Besides his widow, he leaves five sons, David R. Faries, Los Angeles attorney; Culbert W. Faries, Los Angeles banker; McIntyre Faries, South Pasadena attorney; John T. Faries and Allan Faries.

Third Endurance Flight Take-off Set for Today

The third attempt of the Mendell-Reinhart-Howard entente to extend the world's endurance-flight record will be made some time this afternoon, officials of the Grand Central Air Terminal said yesterday.

Yesterday the flyers took their endurance plane aloft for a short test flight made necessary by Department of Commerce regulations after the torn wing fabric which forced their descent on the second attempt, had been repaired. Other adjustments and tests of the especial equipment installed for the endurance flight were also made.

WALLOPIN' SCOT ON TRAIL OF 20 CENTS FINDS GRIEF

Twenty cents, to a Scotchman, is exactly 20 cents, and a sum not to be surrendered without something in return.

That, according to the Scot himself, explains why Joseph Johnston, a native of Scotland, 70 years of age, was held for questioning yesterday by Detective Lieutenants McReady and Lynch following an asserted attack on Abraham Goss, 42, who operates a second-hand store at 121 East First street.

About two weeks ago, the Scot told the detectives, he went into Goss's store to buy a key for a desk. The price was 10 cents which, it may be said, was paid without undue haggling. Both agreed on that point.

"I thought maybe it wouldn't fit, so I decided to take along two others," Johnston said. "I gave this man Goss 20 cents for the two others as a deposit, to be returned if I did not need them. Today I took them back and asked for my 20 cents and he tried to throw me out. He was choking me when I picked up a camp stool to knock his hands off—and how was I to know his head was in the way when he was behind me choking me?"

Goss was treated at Georgia-street hospital for a scalp laceration, after which he visited Central Police Station to tell his story of the encounter. He denied that he had attacked the Scot, but insisted that he had been assaulted without provocation—and with a heavy wrench. He also declared the Scot was in error as to the amount involved, asserting that it was only 15 cents.

Johnston gave his address as 1913 Miramar street.

PANTAGES FACING BATTLE

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stewart Confident of Success as He Prepares Plea for Rehearing on Reversal

Expressing confidence that he will win a rehearing in the Appellate Court on the Alexander Pantages case reversal, Robert P. Stewart, chief deputy of the District Attorney's office, yesterday remained in seclusion throughout the day preparing his petition, which must be submitted by next Saturday. Dep. Atty.-Gen. Richards also is studying the opinion.

Last week the Appellate Court granted Pantages a new trial on his appeal from conviction of a statutory offense upon Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer.

The new trial was granted on grounds of asserted misconduct by the District Attorney and asserted error by the court. One of the principal points raised, and which the District Attorney is expected to contend in his petition is a complete upset of California law on such cases, is the Appellate Court ruling that the court erred in failing to admit testimony concerning the chastity of the complaining witness.

Both Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Deputy Stewart contend that under the California law governing such cases it is necessary only to show that the crime was committed and that evidence concerning the girl's chastity is not admissible.

This point will be one of the principal subjects raised in the petition for a rehearing, Stewart indicated.

PARK BOARD CONSIDERING PARADE AID

Department May Decide to Take Part in Old-Time Torchlight Procession

Participation by the Park Department in the old-time torchlight parade which the City Council has granted the Plain Folks' Club permission to hold in the downtown district on the night of November 1 as a rally to vote the whole Republican ticket on November 4, was referred by the Park Board yesterday to Secretary Hassett for investigation and a recommendation.

The letter from the Plain Folks' Club, urging the participation, points out that the parade is to be of the kind which will bring back memories of Blaine, Harrison, McKinley, Foraker and Mark Hanna campaigns. No automobiles are to be allowed in the parade which will be restricted to horsemen, bicycle riders, pedestrians and floats.

City Councilman Ingram is parade chairman and Marco Hellman will be grand marshal. Parade headquarters have been furnished at 1012 South Hill street by William May Garland. Jack Doyle, who is to be acting rally chairman, has provided use of the Olympic Auditorium.

HER RECITAL WINS DECREE

"Fortune's fickleness" her husband attributed to her, Mrs. Agnes Zapper testified yesterday in asking a divorce from George Zapper. Superior Judge Yankwich granted her a divorce. "My husband thought he could not make a fortune living with me," testified Mrs. Zapper. "He told me to go live with my mother. He also threatened me with a gun. Finally, he sold and removed our furniture and sent me home."

AMATEUR AIR MEET SCHEDULED

First Annual Tourney in West to Open Sunday at Metropolitan Airport

The initial events of the first annual western amateur flying tournament at the Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport will be given next Sunday, according to an announcement made yesterday by J. B. Alexander. Official sanction for the first competition of its kind to be held in this country, was given Monday by the supervising director of the aeronautic branch of the Department of Commerce, Southwest territory, with the result that the amateur sportsman pilot suddenly becomes recognized as a prominent factor in aeronautic activity.

Announcement was also made by the professional technical committee, under whose supervision the amateur events are held, of the first three events next Sunday. At 2 p.m., a race for pilots flying planes powered with OX5 engines over a nine-mile, three-pylon course at the Metropolitan will open the tournament. At 3 p.m., a precision landing contest will afford the flyers entered an opportunity to display their skill at handling a throttled plane.

The second race of the day will be flown at 4 p.m., when a free-for-all handicap will bring together not only many prominent sportsmen pilots, but will contribute one of the most interesting races of the series due to the fact that everything from small single-place planes to large highly powered ships will be entered.

COLONELS ROUT RED WINGS

PARKWAY FIELD (Louisville, Ky.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Kentucky sunshine thawed out the Louisville Colonels, chilled by the wintry blasts at Rochester, and staged a hitting rampage this afternoon that ended in a 14-to-7 rout of the Red Wings. The Colonels pounded four Rochester pitchers for twenty-one hits to avenge their shutout yesterday at Rochester, while the Wings gathered thirteen hits from three Louisville hurlers.

The American Association club cut the International League champions' lead to one game, the series now standing three victories for the Rochester club and two for Louisville.

JONES DRIVES TROJANS

S.C. Mentor Works Reserves Overtime in Effort to Unearth Strength for His Varsity

BY BRAVEN DYER

Convinced that his reserve material is far below par, Howard Jones drove the Trojan second and third-string players through a long scrimmage session against Oregon State plays at Bovard Field yesterday afternoon.

As a matter of fact, the Trojan mentor has known all along that his subs do not measure up to those of last season, but he has been hoping that some of them would be coming along by this time. Such is not the case, and it doesn't take a great deal of football sense to discover that California and Stanford have it all over S.C. when it comes to reserve strength.

SAM BARRY

Oregon State figures to be very tough Saturday, and Jones expects to call upon all his good players to win. Last night's scrimmage was only the first of several billed for this week.

Heinie Wagner Released by Boston Ball Club

BOSTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—The expected designation of Charles F. (Heinie) Wagner as manager of the Boston Red Sox was accepted today by President Bob Quinn. It has been known here for some time that Wagner, who had only a one-year contract, would not be re-engaged.

BILL CARRIGAN

His team, which ended the American League season yesterday in last place, had the worst season in its post-war history.

It has been no secret that President Quinn has been holding Wagner's resignation for several weeks. Several times during that interval Quinn has silenced rumors with the statement nothing would be done about the managership of the club until the season closed.

Quinn planned to leave here tonight to attend the world series opening at Philadelphia, where, it was expected, he would open negotiations with Joe McCarthy, recent-

Gabby Street Confident His Team Will Triumph

St. Louis Players Arrive in Home Town of Rivals

Ticket Demands Have Taxed Mack's Patience

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the National League, came to Philadelphia today, not to open the world series Wednesday, but "just to play a couple of ball games." On arrival they found that the Philadelphia Athletics, too, regarded the opening contest as "only a ball game," and not an epic struggle.

GABBY STREET.

Gabby Street, with his battered fingers bruised by the steaming slants of Walter Johnson and hundreds of other pitchers in his twenty years of catching, spoke for his Cardinals on their arrival at the battlefield this afternoon.

"There's nothing to get excited about," said the manager of the Cardinals, as a whimsical smile covered his weatherbeaten countenance.

"We are here just to play a couple of ball games. We won't tighten up and we will do our best. Of course, we think we will win, but if we don't they can't shoot us."

MACK'S ONE WORRY

Connie Mack, the soft-voiced manager of the Athletics with sixty-seven years of living behind him, fifty in the cycles of baseball, had only one worry. He was afraid his players would be taxed to the near-breaking point by the demand of friends for tickets. "This waiting for games to start is worse than the play itself," he said. "No, I won't predict the outcome of the

AMATEUR STAR OUT FOR CASH

Asserts Simon-Pure Play Costs Too Much

Expense of Competition Not Worth Glory

Tournaments Are Highly Commercialized

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—George Von Elm, long recognized as the American amateur golfer ranking second only to Bobby Jones, amplified his decision today to withdraw from all future amateur competition by identifying himself as "a business-man golfer," neither amateur nor professional, who expects to take the profits from open prize money and yet maintain his own private business.

GEORGE VON ELM

The only player who has beaten Jones in a thirty-six-hole match in the last seven years of American amateur championship competition also signalized his farewell to simon-pure ranks by attacking the United States Golf Association, which at one time disbarred the blond star for alleged violation of the amateur rules.

Von Elm characterized the championship tournament as a "highly organized commercialized project," a show for which $50,000 is paid in, but nothing contributed to the expenses of the players.

At Merion, last week, Von Elm was runner-up to Jones for medal honors and was eliminated by Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of New York in a record-breaking match that went ten extra holes. He beat Jones for the championship at Baltusrol in 1926, in the final round.

COSTS TOO MUCH

"I have retired from amateur golf," he said in a statement today "because competing in the American and British amateur and Walker Cup international match isn't worth the $10,000 a year it costs me.

SAN JOSE STATE BOWS TO FIRE LADDIES, 19-0

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

In spite of the brilliant playing of Don Moses, former Trojan backfield ace, the Firemen put on a rather uninteresting football exhibition last night at Wrigley Field, trouncing the weak San Jose State eleven, 19-0.

DON MOSES

Moses, who came into the fray late in the first quarter, showed plenty of stuff backing up the Firemen line, and gave the scattered crowd of 3000 a thrill in the second period by galloping 66 yards for the third touchdown of the game.

Just before the 66-yard scamper, Moses had returned the San Jose kickoff from the Firemen's 10-yard mark to the 44-yard line, a net gain of 34 yards.

Coach Bill Blewett took out the blond giant, just before the end of the half and that action also removed all the punch from the game.

The hook-and-ladder boys failed to tally in the second half, although they had several chances to do so. In the fourth period, Byers fumbled on the 2-yard line, while later with two minutes to play, the State eleven held for four downs on the 1-foot mark.

In the first quarter Sarver returned the opening kick-off 15 yards to the Firemen's 35-yard line. Then on straight line plays, Blewett's charges took the ball down the field and Whitey Murvin went over for the first touchdown. Sarver missed the conversion kick.

The Smoke Eaters threatened to tally again in the first period but were stopped when Sarver fumbled and on the next play Fremont passed over the State goal line.

San Jose took the ball on the 20-

STARS AND ACORNS TANGLE

Johns and Daglia Slated to Hurl Series Opener Between Hollywood and Oakland Tonight

BY BOB RAY

Although the too lengthy season seems to have sapped most of the interest from the Coast League's second-half race, an exciting series is on tap for Wrigley Field fans this week with Oscar Vitt's league-leading Stars and the Oakland Acorns providing the competition. The opening game of the seven-game series takes place tonight.

The Sheiks just about sewed up the second-half flag last week by taking six out of seven from Sacramento, while rain was keeping the second-place Seraphs idle at Seattle, but the Oaks figured to give Hollywood much more of a battle. Skipper Vitt's athletes are now seven and a half games in front of the Angels and are just about certain of facing Jack Lelivelt's first-half victors in the pennant play-off.

AUGIE JOHNS

Augustus R. Johns, the Sheiks' Swedish southpaw, has been picked by Vitt to hurl tonight's opener against Carl Zamloch's outfit. Pete Daglia, the big Italian ace of the Oaklanders, is expected to be Johns's mound opponent.

The Seraphs, who lost two of their three games at Seattle last week, are billed to tackle the Ducks' between-rains eight-game series at Portland, starting today. The extra contest is to make up for a game halted by a time-limit when the Portlanders played the Cherubs on their last visit to Wrigley Field. Next week the Angels and Indians hook up in an eleven-game marathon series down here, making up the four tussles rained out at Seattle. With nineteen contests billed for the coming two weeks the Seraphs are in for a busy fortnight.

Other series opening today bring together the Seals and Tribe at Seattle, and the Senators and Mission Reds at San Francisco.

BOB RAY TO BROADCAST WORLD SERIES AT "TIMES" SCOREBOARD

The next best thing to seeing the World's Series between the Athletics and Cardinals that starts tomorrow at Philadelphia will be to hear it and watch it at the Los Angeles Times giant scoreboard. For the benefit of local baseball enthusiasts, The Times has erected a scoreboard on the north side of The Times Building. Play-by-play details of each game will be broadcast over a public-address system by Bob Ray, Times baseball writer, almost the same instant the action takes place in the East. Before each game and between innings Ray will give the listeners interesting sidelights about the rival players and incidents of previous baseball classics. The games tomorrow and Thursday will start at 10:30 local time. Be on hand early for all World Series games and get the dope on the big event hot off The Times up-to-the-minute scoreboard.

Eddie Collins Says Athletics Are Great Ball Club; Frisch Predicts Win for Ca

EARNSHAW AND GROVE PRAISED

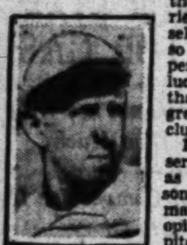
Captain of Macks Boosts Star Hurlers

Mack Says Team as Good as He Ever Had

Eddie Figures Cards Will Be Tough to Beat

BY EDDIE COLLINS
Captain of the Athletics
(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. — As the Athletics for the second straight year are about to enter the world series I find myself asking why so many experts are reluctant to admit that we are a great baseball club.



EDDIE COLLINS

Even as conservative a man as Walter Johnson, Washington manager, in my opinion the best pitcher the game has known, says we have only two players on our team, Al Simmons and Mickey Cochrane. He does not include our outstanding pitchers, Grove and Earnshaw, who between them have won more than fifty games this season. How long has it been since any two men on one club have won that number in a year? Quite awhile, I'll venture.

I concede that in every position, but those filled by Simmons and Cochrane, and the pitchers I have mentioned, we may be eclipsed as far as individual performers and their records go. But what matters that? At the end of our last league series in Cleveland this year, when we had about clinched the pennant, I heard Manager Mack remark: "You are looking today at as good a team as I ever had." And that, believe me, is a mouthful. In these games Grove and Earnshaw were at their peak, and the rest of the team functioned like the well-oiled machine it is.

It is a club Connie Mack has always believed in, even in 1928, before we ourselves realized our possibilities. It is a living example of what tolerance, untiring patience and advice have molded together. While he has never admitted it to me or to anyone else, I will always believe Connie has taken more pride and satisfaction in the development of his present championship team than in any of his past winners.

It has required more work, and whether the club is recognized as great or not, the one thing that has to be admitted is that it gets results. And that is what counts. Like the base hit, it's not "how," but "where."

Take every vital series last year or this, when any one club seriously threatened we stopped them. Early in the season Washington, our closest rival, beat us seven straight. They came into Philadelphia Decoration Day, and had us beaten in the morning game by three runs, two men out in the ninth inning, no one on base. Then things began to happen. We tied the score and eventually won. We continued on and beat them in turn seven straight.

That particular game and its moral effect, I believe, were the beginning of the end so far as the American League pennant race for 1930 was concerned.

Assured of our pennant in mid-September, naturally we have been watching with interest and speculation the outcome of the National League race. The two leading clubs finished as we rated them, but we missed up on third and fourth. We figured to have had the least trouble with the Giants, especially with their pitching. Brooklyn next, although we recognized in Vance a worthy opponent. Then the Cubs. (We were really pulling for this team to repeat, although our reasons were rather mercenary, because of their big park.) Lastly the Cards. In them we believe we will face stiffer opposition than any of the three others could have offered.

Bill Spaulding Well Pleased With Players

Coach Bill Spaulding, varsity mentor at U.C.L.A., is well pleased with the showing of his men last Saturday against the University of Southern California, despite the lopsided 52-to-0 count against his eleven. This was the gist of the Bruin mentor's remarks yesterday in making plans for the remaining games this season.

The Bruin pigskinners all came through the Troy engagement safely, with no casualties. Reuben Thoe, halfback, had to be helped off the field Saturday when he was temporarily paralized with a hard kick on the hip bone, but he was fully recovered yesterday. Bob Decker, star sophomore halfback, for whom time had to be taken out twice Saturday, was also all right.

Although Spaulding is pleased with the showing of his men, he realizes that the fundamentals of tackling and blocking were badly performed by the Bruin gridders last Saturday, and will resume practice today with a light workout, and tomorrow with a heavier session. The team met at the training table last night at 6:30 o'clock for a skull session and a discussion of miscues against the Trojans.

The Bruins draw a bye this week, but will start to prepare for their next game tomorrow afternoon. The Pomona College Sagehens, reputedly strong this year, furnish the opposition on October 11, next, at the Coliseum, and then the potent St. Mary's Gaels come south to play Spaulding's men on October 17, in a night game at the Coliseum.

Several Bruin gridders made promising showings last Saturday that transcended their efforts in practice, and others, who looked good in practice, fell down in the actual contest.

The SPORT LIGHT by Grantland Rice

(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

MOST of those who like the Athletics in this next world series advance the following reasons:

(3.) The catching and spirit of Mickey Cochrane.

(4.) The assaulting powers of Al Simmons, Cochrane, Foxx and others, in highly concentrated form at the big moments.

Those who favor the Cardinals have this to say:

(1.) Here is the team that has been coming in a hurry for six weeks and has the impetus of victory.

(2.) More pitchers to call in Hallahan, Grimes, Haines, Rhem, etc.

The Athletic Margin

There is logic enough back of all this rival reasoning, but the Athletics have the stronger case. Connie Mack is a past master of world series strategy. He can sense situations quicker than any one in the game. He was directing world series campaigns back in 1905, and that happens to be twenty-five years ago. His teams have been in six world series and he has won four of these. He has made almost no mistakes.

He had no chance in the series of 1905 where the pitching of Matty and McGinnity broke up the series in short order with four shutouts from five starts.

The matter of Grove and Earnshaw pitching to Mickey Cochrane is another important detail in a world series. Cochrane is one of the best catchers that ever played, possibly the best of them all. He is confident that Grove and Earnshaw will be at their best in this series, able to work four games at least.

The Cardinals have more pitching talent, but no two who can quite match this pair.

Not Quite as Good

The Athletics of 1930 are not quite up to the standard of last fall. A few of their good men have fallen away from 1929. But there was enough strength left to beat Washington, one of the best teams in either league, down the pennant speedway.

They still have two of the best pitchers in baseball, two seasoned performers, handled by a great catcher. And they still have plenty of power on attack from Cochrane, Simmons, Foxx and others who can hit in a pinch.

About the Cardinals

There is nothing soft or pulpy about this St. Louis ball club. It has proved its ability to come surging up from far behind. It has four dangerous pitchers in Grimes, one of the last of the spit-ball stars; Hallahan, a fast left-hander; Haines and Rhem. The team is well rounded with a high batting average all along the front. Gabby Street has been handling the club well, holding it together. Street has been around long enough to know and he has proved his place this season.

About Time

National League pennant winners have now accumulated the total of one victory in their last thirteen world series games. The Yankees won four straight in 1927 and four straight in 1928. The Athletics made it four of five in 1929.

Yet the Cardinals were the last last National League club to win a world series and that was four years ago. Frisch, Bottomley, Haines, Rhem and Hafey were in that series on the winning side.

It will be a tough blow for the National League to drop another series. It hasn't a great ball club to beat, but it has one to stop in an important show where confidence counts heavily.

The Athletics are more concerned about Burleigh Grimes than anyone else. Grimes is a strong money pitcher, and he is a spit-ball workman where few are left. The Athletics are not so sure of man-handling the Cardinals' pitching staff, but they feel pretty sure the Cardinals will have even more trouble with Grove and Earnshaw.

For several years these world series went the limit. Then they suddenly fell away to brief runs. They have had to send money back for eight games in the last three years and that means well over $1,000,000. It seems to be about time, in the general break of fortune, for another six or seven-game series.

One or two members of the Cub outfit rated Hallahan as fast as Bob Grove. The Athletics don't think Hallahan is even close to being that fast. If they should meet, some one might slip speedometers into the two catching mitts for an official test.

EARL SHEELY AGAIN AT TOP OF COAST HITTERS

Earl Sheely was the premier batter in the Pacific Coast League ten seasons ago, then a member of the Salt Lake City club. Sheely spent nine very profitable seasons pastiming in the major leagues, most of the time with the Chicago White Sox. He came back to the Coast this year and has been the outstanding hitter of the league most of the season. Sheely's up-to-date batting mark for twenty-five complete weeks is .409. He has played in 161 games and has gathered 260 safe blows in 636 official trips to the plate.

Wesley Schulmerich and Hank Severeid are again two and three in the batting averages, just as they have been for many weeks. The Los Angeles outfielder's average today is .384, the same mark he held one week ago. The Hollywood catcher is hitting .374. Johnny Bassler is listed fourth, with .367, and "Brick" Eldred, fifth with .366.

Dave Barbee has pounded out forty home runs and now is four ahead of Mickey Heath, his closest rival for long-distance hits. Fred Haney has fifty stolen bases. Dutch Holland has batted out sixty-one two-base hits.

San Francisco heads the team batting with a mark of .318, 4 points ahead of Hollywood. Hollywood has scored the most runs and also has driven out the most home runs. Los Angeles is way ahead of all others clubs in stolen bases with 161.

The up-to-minute averages follow:

series. I know we have a good team and the Cards must have a great one, considering their wonderful uphill fight for the pennant. That was one of the finest finishes any team ever made, and I know that a crowd that can accomplish that is capable of doing anything."

PRONOUNCED FIT

All the American League champions were pronounced fit. The Cardinals reported two casualties, Jimmy Wilson, the first-string catcher, who suffered a sprained ankle some time ago and probably will not be able to take his turn behind the bat.

Unless an emergency arises Gus Mancuso, the young catcher with a big batting average, will do all the receiving. Sylvester Johnson, a pitcher, too, has suffered recently from an old injury, a fractured rib, but he will be able to pitch if called to the mound.

K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, was one of the few "outsiders" who saw the A's do their undercover work today. The commissioner pronounced the physical arrangements for the series satisfactory.

Tris Speaker, former member of the Athletics and one of the greatest outfielders of all time, was another privileged spectator.

Talk of opening-game pitchers continued to name the two G's, Grimes and Grove.

Thousands of fortunate applicants for tickets today filed slowly past the ticket windows at Shibe Park and collected the bits of pasteboard entitling them to admission. Tomorrow the rest of the 30,000 whose applications were accepted will get the tickets.

Wednesday morning 3000 bleacher tickets will be placed on sale in the order of first come, first served. One man was in line tonight.

BEANS REARDON TO UMPIRE SERIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—J. E. (Jack) Reardon and Charles Rigler will be the National League umpires in the world's series, President John A. Heydler announced today. For the Chicago city series President Heydler named E. C. Quigley and George Magerkurth.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. (AP)—President Ernest Barnard today appointed George Moriarty and Harry Geisel as the American League umpires for the world series between the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Cardinals.

Wilson One of Baseball's Best Catchers

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. (AP) Frankie Frisch, captain and star second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, who arrived today for the world series Wednesday, is suffering from an attack of lumbago. He said, however, he fully expected to be in shape to meet the Athletics in the opening game.

BY FRANKIE FRISCH
Second Baseman St. Louis Cardinals
(Copyright, 1930, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—I predict the Cardinals will win the world series in six or seven games. I base this prediction on the advantage I believe we hold in pitching and batting.

FRANKIE FRISCH

The Athletics' punch is centered in a few men. We have good hitters from top to bottom. Look them over, most of them better than .300, all of them above .290. The last time I sized up the averages we had fourteen men hitting over .290, twelve of them above .300. Philadelphia had only four or five .300 batters, and just six beyond .290.

Of course, the season's averages might be discounted in a short series such as we're about to play. The best batters may slump and the weakest come into recognition. However, with more good hitters on our club we're better fortified against a general letdown in hitting than the Athletics.

We have at the start of the batting order two men, Douthit and Adams, likely to hit any kind of pitching. I'm in third place, and next come our long-range gunners, Bottomley, Hafey and Watkins, all of whom drive the ball far enough to clear distant fences. Then, after them, the opposing hurler must face either Catcher Wilson or Mancuso, and Charley Gelbert.

Wilson's appearance in the series is doubtful because of his lame ankle. If it is strong enough he will catch all the games. If it isn't the task will fall to Mancuso, who did such remarkable receiving during the last two weeks of the terrific National League season.

Mancuso works superbly with all our pitchers, and we have a number, first and second string. We have five regular starters ready, the five who rotated so effectively during the last two months of the season—Grimes, Haines, Hallahan, Johnson and Rhem. In this array I feel we have an edge on Connie Mack. I say this realizing fully the class of Mack's stars, Grove and Earnshaw.

Defensively, with Hafey in left field, Douthit in center and Watkins in right, it looks to me as if our outfield is at least as skillful as Mack's three, Simmons, Haas and Miller.

Our double play infield, Bottomley at first, Gelbert at short, Adams at third and myself, gives us the bulge, I think, over the Philadelphia four, Foxx at first, Bishop at second, Boley at short and Dykes at third. We had more double plays than any other team in the National League, but there were five or six teams in the American with better double-play records than Mack's champions.

Cochrane, pitted against Mancuso, will have the advantage in experience, but if Wilson catches for us there's no shade either way. Wilson is regarded by many as the best catcher in baseball. That's how I rate him.

Young Papke Topic of Fans

The best bet on the Hollywood American Legion Stadium boxing card Friday night is in the semi-wind-up. Young Papke with ten straight knockouts to his credit in as many professional fights, is the boy who has 'em all talking along Hollywood Boulevard. Bobby La Salle and Mike Payan fight the main event and LaSalle with knockouts to his credit is also creating lots of comment.

There hasn't been a youngster break into the fight game in many months who looks as good as Young Papke. Hollywood stadium has been the starting place for many good boys. Jackie Fields fought his first professional fight there. He afterward won a world's championship. Fidel La Barba and Mushy Callahan were other fighters to get their starts at the stadium and they, too, won world's championships. Sammy Mandell had many fights at Hollywood before he won the world's lightweight championship. Young Papke looks as good as any of those boys when they were starting out in the fight game.

RENE DEVOS LOSES

NEWARK (N. J.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Abie Bain, Newark, was awarded a decision over Rene Devos, Belgian, in a ten-round contest tonight. Bain floored Devos with a left hook in the sixth round for a no-count knockdown.

TOWNSEND WHIPS DIVODI

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Sept. 29. (AP) Billy Townsend, Vancouver welterweight, won a ten-round decision over Andy Divodi of New York in the main feature of a boxing program here tonight.

ROSENBLOOM HELD EVEN

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, world's light-heavyweight champion, was held to a draw by Battling Bozo, Birmingham, here tonight in a ten-round nontitle bout.

JONES DRIVES TROJANS

Schissler's team, and he and Clif Herd immediately went to work on the Spartans. After a short drill in Oregon State formations the Spartans went into action against the varsity second and third teams and Jones discovered plenty.

If Oregon State doesn't score a couple of touchdowns Saturday it will be because Jones's first string is capable of playing at top speed through sixty minutes of football. The reserves won't be able to hold the visitors. This deduction is reached after watching the Spartans, with only a half-hour's practice under their belts, do things to Jones's subs.

Don't get the idea that the Trojans are sunk. They're not. But Troy's reserve power is at a pretty low ebb right now and unless some of the second-string backs and linemen show sudden improvement you may look for a couple of defeats this year.

Barry reports that Oregon State is running from C formation, Notre Dame's strong right formation and Schissler's own short-kick formation, which means that the northern coach must have a pretty versatile team.

Jones cut his varsity squad from sixty-two to forty-eight men last night. The latest left-overs joined the original left-overs on the Spartans.

Gene Clarke, who appeared at end Saturday, hurt his leg so badly that he will be laid up for several days.

BREAKS LEG

Bronko Mandekic of the frosh suffered a broken leg against Santa Ana Saturday and is through for the season. Aubrey Devine was so dissatisfied with the showing of his quarterback, Brouse, that he has decided to make a signal caller out of Sommers, fullback.

If you don't believe Oregon State is gunning for the Trojans and that the Washington State game the following week will also be a battle, read the following letter the writer received yesterday:

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 27.

Dear Sir: Is it altogether improper for me to suggest that Mr. Howard Jones will know he has been somewhere when he has finished his football assignments of October 4 and 11 against Oregon State and Washington State, respectively?

Trying to view the situation impartially and without sentiment, I cannot dislodge the opinion that U.S.C. will be very lucky, indeed, to pass these two barriers unscathed. If these encounters are taken lightly at Troy (and I have reason to believe they are) I am even inclined to the belief that the Trojans will lose both games. I think Troy might well "stop, look and listen," and I'll tell you why.

The dope is (and I have undergraduate letters before me from Corvallis and Pullman) that both Schissler and Hollingbery are laying for Mr. Jones. Both campuses are all steamed up on "beat the Trojans" right now. I believe it can be safely said that the Trojan followers are looking right now beyond these games to the Stanford, California, Washington and Notre Dame games. Natural enough, indeed, but very dangerous if the Trojan squad adopts the same attitude.

Oregon State comes here with two games under her belt as compared to one for the Trojans. Schissler is said to have arranged the 20th inst. date against Willamette because of the early season Trojan game. This little man Schissler does everything for a reason. What a scare his mystery team of 1927 gave the Trojans, the latter pulling out thirteen to twelve winners after a hectic session. Oregon State has the reputation of being giant killers with their victories over N.Y.U. in 1928 and Detroit U. last fall. True this giant killing has been in the East, but indications are that Coach Schissler has decided to switch the scene to the west coast this year. With a bad year in 1929 Schissler realizes that he must produce in the conference this year. How better could he do so than by knocking over the Trojans? U.S.C. may have a better club, man for man, but the psychology of the thing cannot be overlooked and with two games played Oregon State should be farther advanced than the Trojans.

As for W.S.C., Coach Hollingbery has eighteen letter men back and some classy sophomore performers. And W.S.C. is a hard team to beat on their own back lot at Pullman. Fortunately for U.S.C., the Cougars must travel to Berkeley and back the Saturday before the Trojan game. Hollingbery is pointed for the Trojans, principally because of the row raised at Pullman because there is not a home game there after October 25 and the U.S.C. game is the only worth-while contest offered the Washington State student body and followers. To counteract this soreness, Hollingbery is anxious to hand the Trojans a licking before the home folks. Prospects at Pullman are said to be the best since the W.S.C. championship team of 1916.

The wizardry of Mr. Jones et al may overcome the psychological advantage of the opposition, but I'd hate to bet even money that the Trojans will win both games.

Now you tell one.

Sincerely,

[Signed] RUSS WHITE.

MASSEY UNPOPULAR WINNER OVER SHEA

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Lew Massey, Philadelphia featherweight, was awarded the decision over Eddie Shea, slugging little Chicago battler, in the ten-round main event inaugurating the arena's indoor season. The decision was unpopular with many of the fans.

Instead of cheering the winner, a home-town boy, who is popular, the fans appeared dazed at the verdict. Then they cheered Shea for five minutes.

Ed Carrey to Assist Pipal

Ed Carrey, star javelin tosser of the 1930 track team, has been appointed to assist Joe (Timberwolf) Pipal, coach of Oxy's track team, this year, according to the announcement just made by J. Phillip Ellsworth, graduate manager. It will be the first time since Pipal has been tutoring cinder artists at Occidental that he has had an assistant coach. Carrey was appointed at the request of the veteran mentor, himself, who felt the need of coaching aid this year in view of a vast amount of new and green material to be developed in order to partially replace the majority of last year's squad lost by graduation.

Oxy Players in Bad Shape After Clash

With the majority of the first eleven nursing colds, bruises and injuries, the Oxy Tigers looked more like inmates of a hospital than the victors of the Mexican fray of last Friday night when they reported to Coach Eddie Kienholz yesterday afternoon. The fiery mentor was under the weather himself, the victim of a bad cold. Howdy Marsh, Larry Green, Jimmy Meeks, Bob Snyder, Art Elliott and several second and third-stringers were ailing from the same cause. Meeks is in bed with the flu.

Oxy is lucky to draw a bye this week with the Whittier battle billed for Friday night of next week in the Rose Bowl. In their present condition, the Eagle Rockers would be lucky to beat Whittier High School this week. The Poet varsity, which has been rated to finish ahead of Oxy in the conference battle, ought to have an easy time trimming the Tigers' mane, unless Kienholz and Bill Anderson, assistant coach and trainer, are able to knock the "flu" out of their proteges and instill a little pep back into them before the last of next week.

Tuffy Reed, flashy Bengal back, is still on the injured list with a badly wrenched ankle which will keep him on the shelf the rest of this week at least. He was unable to play at all in the Mexican fracas on account of that injury. Meb Schroeder, second-string quarterback and understudy of Stoney Johnston, is the only other Tiger doomed to the injured list. Schroeder had his hip and side badly smothered under one of the Mexican eleven-man tackles.

Coach Kienholz ran his cripples through a short limbering-up practice yesterday and plans light work again this afternoon. He had formerly planned to drive his proteges hard all week in an effort to whip them into shape for the Whittier battle.

FAY ARRIVES FOR KENNEDY BATTLE

Al Fay, eastern heavyweight, arrived here yesterday and opened training at the Main-street gymnasium for a ten-round bout with Les Kennedy at the Olympic on October 7. Fay has never appeared on the Coast. Paulie Walker, New York welterweight, will box Sammy Aguirre ten rounds on the same card for a double wind-up.

GLOOMY GUS HENDERSON

MR. JAMES SMITH, JR., who once played a bit of football for his dear old mater, the University of Southern California, has kindly consented to be the guest-conductor of this column today.

Mr. Smith, who participated in the Berkeley catastrophe of 1921, when the Trojans were slaughtered by California, 38 to 7, takes for his subject his old-time coach, Gloomy Gus Henderson.

Pertinently and appropriately, Mr. Smith, who is the perpetual president of a popular local society known as the Bells, suggests that there are a lot of local folks who will be interested in the career of Gloomy Gus at Tulsa since he departed S.C. back in 1924.

There should be, for Gloomy Gus certainly brought the Trojans up from nowhere, starting in 1919, to a point where they were serious contenders for the Coast Conference championship.

NEW TULSA STADIUM

BUT let Mr. President Smith tell his own story:

"Knowing that you are very busily occupied, broadcasting and otherwise, to your public, I thought it would be of interest to you to know that I have just received a letter from Gloomy Gus Henderson of Tulsa, Okla. Whilst reading the letter this morning, none other walked into my office but Harold Huyck, all-American halfback on Syracuse, 1915, and halfback, University of Southern California, 1916, who has transferred his oil activities from Tulsa to Southern California.

"Gus's letter informs me that the $300,000 stadium is completed and will be dedicated October 4, when they play Arkansas. He informs me that Capt. Chet Benefiel, halfback from Coffeyville, Kan., outstanding star of 1928-29, when he ran on four different occasions for touchdowns against Detroit University, is again going to be the big shining star of Tulsa this year. He tells me that Ed Cochran, sports editor, Kansas City Star, and Leslie Edmonds of the same paper, and Gus Dorcis say that this boy Benefiel is an all-American if there ever was one; does everything perfectly and is very shifty. His running mate Ish Pinkington, 190 pounds, is almost Benefiel's equal. His line will weigh 195 pounds from end to end and his four backs will average 190 pounds.

"DOWNS, formerly of Pasadena is now married and holds a good position in Tulsa.

"The only California boy on the varsity team is a man named Green, formerly a star at Coronado High School, who plays fullback.

"The freshman rule goes into effect in 1931, when they have several tentative dates with the Big Ten Conference elevens and the Southwestern Conference. A definite game is already scheduled for 1931 with Southern Methodist to be played at the new stadium at Tulsa. Harold Huyck tells me that Gus has taken an obscure school and in six years' time has built it up to the leading varsity of the State in that section of the country. With fair luck this year he will win every game.

"He has the backing of the whole city of Tulsa and State of Oklahoma in his activities and is conducting his entrance requirements for athletes on the highest basis.

OIL MEN HELP

"THE oil men of the city of Tulsa, Huyck informs me, have established a Petroleum Engineering School, second to none, where deserving boys are employed by the big oil companies, part time, while acquiring a college education and are able to play football. Harold tells me that practically every man on the varsity works for these oil companies while going through school.

They played George Washington University at Washington, November 15. Gus is anxious to play some leading Coast teams in 1931 on the Coast.

"I think this will be of interest to many of his friends and few enemies to see old Gloomy operate out here. Huyck tells me that his offensive functions beautifully with perfect rhythm and timing.

"Like myself, I know many people will be interested to know how Gus is progressing."

VON ELM QUITS AMATEUR RANKS

required more than $50,000 of hard-earned money.

"I propose hereafter to play golf in such open events as I choose and on such occasions gamble my skill against the prize money. I want it understood at the same time that I have a business of greater value to me than I could ever hope to equal as a golf professional.

"It isn't nice to treat the subject of my amateur status in cold terms of dollars. The United State Golf Association's amateur championship is a highly organized commercial project. Fifty thousand dollars is paid in for the amateur show, while the thirty-two performers play their hearts out for honor and glory. Not a penny of that money is contributed by the U.S.G.A. to the expenses of the players. Tournament golf today is show business in a big way.

HITS ASSOCIATION

"The finger of suspicion points to many players of amateur golf today, but the show must go on and the U.S.G.A. is busy a good part of the time straining at gnats and swallowing camels.

"From this day henceforth I am no longer an amateur golfer as defined in the rules of the game. Neither am I a golf professional nor a professional golfer. I am not qualified by training of any kind to become a golf professional. I am simply a business-man golfer.

"If the money prizes in open tournament play are waiting when I post my scores, I shall treat the situation as I do any other situation in my business, where my income is involved. If the money doesn't meet the expense of competition, I shall thereafter give up tournament play altogether because I've reached the place in life where my business must come first."

Ducks, Seals Divide Bill

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 29. (AP)—Portland and San Francisco split a double-header here today, the Ducks taking the first, 8 to 2, but dropping the nightcap, 4 to 2. With Big Curt Fullerton pitching five-hit ball, the Beavers had no trouble taking the first, and they clouted McDougall, Perry and Heim for thirteen safeties. Portland went way out in front in the third inning to bunch six hits for a total of five runs.

Hank McDonald, the lanky kid pitcher of the Ducks, was the victim in the second game, but lasted the entire contest.

NO MORE AFTER-DARK ANGLING AT HERMOSA

HERMOSA BEACH, Sept. 29.—Announcement of the winter fishing schedule for the big Olympic barge was announced recently by Capt. J. M. Andersen. The big feature of the new program is that no more all-night hourly runs to the Olympic will be held until next spring. Other changes are: First boat on Sunday leaves the Hermosa pier at 6 o'clock, while festivities will start at 7 o'clock on week days.

Shade Loses London Scrap

LONDON, Sept. 29. (AP)—Dave Shade, former California middleweight, lost a fifteen-round decision tonight to Len Harvey, British champion, in Albert Hall. There was some booing when the verdict was announced, some of the spectators evidently believing Shade was entitled to no worse than a draw. The California veteran forced the pace throughout, and his peculiar crouching style puzzled Harvey. The Englishman, however, gave a good exhibition of clean, hard fighting, especially in the later rounds. After the bout the referee said Harvey had piled up enough points in the last round to win by a very narrow margin.

WELTERWEIGHTS COP SPOTLIGHT

of coaching by Larry Jackson, another black fighter, at Chicago.

Sammy's last start was at the Olympic, when he stopped Bucky Lawless in ten heats.

It was a better ring victory than it sounds. Lawless tried to hold his way through the ten rounds, and Jackson not only had to make the fight all the way but break down a bitter defense.

Benny Miller is the only boy who has lasted the ten rounds with the young black gladiator in his last half-dozen fights. Sammy won the decision over Benny.

Cool and collected, Sammy has never evinced any traits of rattledom, and therein lies his best opportunity of figuring out a system with which to beat Young Corbett.

Corbett is a southpaw with a style so puzzling that it completely baffled Jackie Fields when he was welterweight king, and still later Thompson, when he had uncrowned Fields.

Fields ducked the Corbett issue for months, and it was not until Promoter Ancil Hoffman of San Francisco had put up a $25,000 guarantee for an overweight match that Fields would climb into the ring.

Except for the money end, he must have regretted it later. Corbett gave him a man's-sized beating. That was last February, and in May Jackie lost the title to Young Jack Thompson, local black.

Right after this conquest Thompson came to the Coast to show off to the home folks.

He knocked over a set-up here—Joe Cardoza—but in San Francisco they fed him Young Corbett.

Corbett not only had Thompson on the floor, but handed him a much worse shellacking than he did Fields.

LOST TO FREEMAN

Then Thompson lost the title to Tommy Freeman, an aged warrior who has his best ring days behind him.

Now the uncrowned champion and his crowd—Larry White and Ralph Manfred—are offering Freeman the same bait they dished out to Fields and Thompson.

It's a $60,000 guarantee for Freeman to risk the title, but just as Fields and Thompson ducked the issue, so has Freeman crawled under cover.

Corbett has done all of his training for tonight's bout at the Main-street gym, while Jackson has been up at Soper's ranch, first made famous by Jack Dempsey when he started his comeback campaign three and one-half years ago.

Corbett has looked good in the gym, and has been shell-shocking his sparring partners with body punches.

Jackson still inclines to the pawing style, with which he replaced the stand-up sharpshooting boxing of his preliminary days, but he still hits hard and Corbett cannot afford to become careless with the young black boy.

Bobby Pacho, hard-hitting Mexican boy, tangles with Rito Punay in the semi-wind-up.

The preliminaries follow: Herman Ritterhouse vs. Johnny Romero, six rounds; Billy Papke, Jr., vs. Tony Cadena, six rounds; Judy Zuniga vs. Bobby Payne, four rounds.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

shipped back to Rochester, whence he came, in spite of mediocre stick work and fielding. This season Gabby Street, who succeeded Bill McKechnie as manager of the Cardinals, found a much improved player, for Gelbert is hitting 60 or 70 points higher than he did last year, and the experience of one year alongside the flashy Frank Frisch has evidently helped his fielding materially. Last year he made forty-six errors, more than any other infielder in the National League.

Now Charley Gelbert is one of the few college football stars to make good in the majors. As everybody knows, there are two or three grid heroes who fail to make good in big-time baseball to every one who succeeds. Of course, it's really too soon to judge whether or not Gelbert is going to be a major league success, like the Gehrigs, Frisches, Sewells and Stephensons (all of whom were college football players of note,) but the boy seems to be making good all right.

Charley's football career was interesting, especially as his father was a former player of note. He was captain of the 1927 Lebanon Valley team that upset Brown in a sensational game. He played pro baseball for Topeka the summer before, and was even assigned to Syracuse in June, 1926, according to my dope, but maybe Brown didn't care about a little thing like that, or else didn't know! At any rate, he's a big-league shortstop now, and is playing on a team that John McGraw said early in the season was a "dangerous pennant contender."

GLADIATORS END TRAINING

Sonnenberg Prepared to Risk Wrestling Crown Against Marshall at Olympic Tomorrow

Both Everett Marshall and Champion Gus Sonnenberg, who will clash in a finish title wrestling bout at the Olympic tomorrow night, completed training work yesterday.

Marshall, who went through a light grind at the Commercial Club, appeared to be on edge for a fast, rough battle. Sonnenberg went an hour at the Main-street gym with a pair of trainers, and he impressed the fans there as being faster, tougher and rougher than ever before.

Of the two, Sonnenberg, according to the experts, appeared to be the more impressive. He used a greater collection of wrestling holds than he had at any time since his first appearance on the Coast. He used the flying tackles with a viciousness that left no doubt in the minds of his watchers but that he intends to score a clean, decisive win over the challenger with this grip.

There will be practically no difference in the weights of the two powerful grapplers when they step into the ring. Marshall will scale in at 218, while Sonnenberg, who has never weighed more than 205 pounds for any big match, registered 217 pounds at the end of yesterday's workout.

The champion is carrying the extra weight on his shoulders, chest and legs. He has not slowed up because of the extra weight, but it seems to give him more of a punch in his tackles, according to the mat critics.

The mat king is confident of winning without much difficulty. He expects to give Marshall a lesson in wrestling and then finish him off with legitimate football tackles. Sonnenberg stated that after leaving the Coast following his first meeting with Marshall, he used the tackles very little in his bouts. But because Marshall declared he was certain that he could beat the champion if the butt was barred, the mat king hopes to show him tomorrow night how much more punishing are the tackles than the "butts."

The bout has all the appearances of a grudge meeting. Marshall still claims he was butted in the groin, purposely by the champion, while the latter is equally certain that he did not butt the challenger. Sonnenberg's contention is that he could not have hurt Marshall as the latter claims to have been hurt, if he had butted the young Colorado grappler with his head.

The match that may equal the title battle in so far as action is concerned will bring together Nick Lutze, popular Venice lifeguard, and Bob (Bibber) McCoy, former Holy Cross grid star. According to Sonnenberg, McCoy is the greatest young wrestler he has met in almost two years of wrestling. He rates the eastern mat star above Marshall.

Steve Strelich, the "Terrible Swede," will clash with Ad Herman, rough Dutchman, in the opener.

QUINN HAS CHANCE TO LEAD RACERS TOMORROW

Francis Quinn, veteran Los Angeles pilot, will have an opportunity to jump into the leadership of the year's race for the Southwestern auto-racing title tomorrow night when he goes to the pole at the wheel of the No. 3 Gebhart Special in the forty-lap sweepstakes at the Legion Ascot Speedway, it was announced yesterday. Quinn, who electrified the crowd with his spectacular driving last week, is running second in this year's championship battle with Jimmy Sharp 45 points ahead. However, Sharp will be on the sidelines tomorrow night as a result of his smash-up at Fresno a short time ago and Quinn can assume the lead by giving the fans another exhibition of driving like that of last week.

An unusual feature of the championship situation is that Quinn, in trying to pass Sharp, will be driving the car that Jimmy throttled to his recent string of victories. The No. 3 is owned by Russell Garnant of Glendale. When Sharp was injured, Garnant immediately signed Sharp's foremost rival. And inasmuch as Quinn was having trouble with his own Miller at the time he was glad to take over the driving duties on the fast chariot.

Standing of the leading ten drivers, as announced yesterday by A. C. Pillsbury of the American Automobile Association, follows:

	Points
Jimmy Sharp	475.63
Francis Quinn	430.21
Walt May	312.38
"Stubby" Stubblefield	298.06
Melvin McKee	179.42
"Swede" Smith	177.62
"Speed" Hinkley	116.42
Carl Ryder	99.07

Soccerites to Start Sunday

Soccer football teams of the Los Angeles City League wind up their practice schedules this week in readiness for the opening of the league season next Sunday. Games will be played as last year at Loyola Field, Los Angeles, and Tournament Park, Pasadena.

Two games open the season at Loyola Field Sunday. In the feature game at 3 o'clock the Hollywood eleven, managed by Andy Walker, meets the Scots. The Vikings play the first game at 1 o'clock against the Sons of St. George. At the Pasadena Tournament Park games will be played as follows: 1 o'clock, Magyars vs. Victoria; 3 o'clock, Pasadena A.C.C. vs. Richfield.

HOLLYROOD COLIN IN STAKE TRIUMPH

LEXINGTON (Ky.) Sept. 29. (AP)—The Arden Homestead stables' Hollyrood Colin won the Castleton Stake today from the favorite, Hollyrood Chief, by winning the first two heats. The favorite won the final one. The first heat, run in 2:03 3-4, was within a quarter of a second of the stake record made by Sir Peter Volo in 1915.

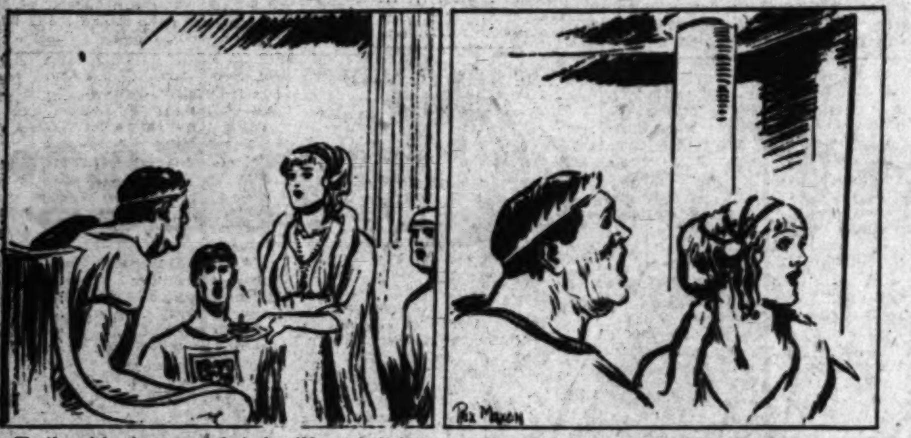
The wedding of Fastus and Dilecta was to take place upon the steps of Caesar's throne. The high priest of the temple stood facing the audience, and just below, at one side, Fastus waited, while slowly up the long chamber came the bride, followed by the vestal virgins.

Dilecta was pale, but she did not falter as she moved slowly forward to her doom. There were many who whispered that she looked an Empress already, so noble was her mien, so stately her carriage. They could not see the slim dagger clutched in her right hand beneath her bridal robes.



Up the aisle she moved, but she did not halt before the priest as Fastus had done—and as she should have done, according to custom—but passed him and stood directly in front of Sublatus. "I come to demand my rights as a citizen of Rome," the girl announced.

"What favor do you seek?" the Emperor asked. "No favor," said Dilecta. "Before I pledge my troth to Fastus, I demand to see Maximus Praeclarus, here, alive and free." "That cannot be," said Caesar. "It can," said a voice from the balcony. "Maximus Praeclarus is here behind me!"

He explains, "Heading the list of highways comes the proposed Cajon-Bakersfield cut-off, to put San Bernardino on a new and direct route into the north. Next in importance to us stands the inclusion of a new State highway from San Bernardino via Colton, Riverside, Santa Ana Canyon to the seacoast. Then the third vitally important new span will be the Valley Boulevard, to be elevated to State highway rank, linking this city and Colton with the west end, Los Angeles and the beaches."

STUDENTS HEAR DR. MILLIKAN

Unprecedented Opportunity for World Service Seen

Tribute Paid to Those Who Financed Institution

Caltech on Threshold of Realizing Its Ideals

PASADENA, Sept. 29. — Freshmen who attended their first classes at the California Institute of Technology today will have unprecedented opportunities for world service, according to Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who addressed the student body at the opening assembly of the year.

Paying tribute to the daring and breadth of vision of those who made the institution possible from a financial standpoint, Dr. Millikan asserted that the California Institute is now on the threshold of realizing the ideals of the trustees.

"Technical institutes in the past," he said, "have been victims of narrow-mindedness. They have been led by men of outstanding attainment in specialized lines, men who have not known enough of human history, of the literature and actions of man in the past to see things in true perspective.

"The man of science in the future must be equipped, not only with scientific fundamentals, but with a knowledge of the humanities. He must understand literature, human relations and history."

Mass education, he indicated, is an important problem, but not the primary problem of the California Institute which is seeking, rather, to add to the world's storehouse of knowledge.

The work of Dr. C. C. Lauritsen and his associates at the California Institute in perfecting a giant X-ray tube which promises much for healing certain diseases cannot be evaluated, but might roughly be said to be worth from $10,000,000 to $100,000,000, he declared.

In noting that one of the defects of technical education has been its failure to develop leadership, Dr. Millikan predicted that the $1,000,000 group of living houses on the campus, combined with increased opportunities to study the humanities, will train California Institute students to set the pace, not only in the nation's laboratories, but in its cultural life.

They ask the recall of Mayor Hopkins on the grounds of incompetency and failure to represent the will of the people and that of Shea on charges of unfitness by temperament to hold the office of Councilman and failure to represent the will of the people.

The petition directed against Shea bears his own signature.

Bids on County Buildings to Be Opened Today

VENTURA, Sept. 29.—Bids on the proposed new Courthouse annex and County Jail are to be opened tomorrow morning by the Board of Supervisors. Up to noon today only eight bids had been received at the County Clerk's office on the huge project, but the majority of them are expected to come in late today and at the board meeting tomorrow, according to Harold Burket, architect for the structure.

The bids are separated into eleven divisions, according to the type of work for which they call. Heading the list is the general contract, which covers erection and completion of reinforced concrete and structural steel. There will be at least fifteen bids on this, Burket estimated today.

The Supervisors have set aside $275,000 in this year's budget for the annex and jail, $160,000 of which was carried over from the same budget item of last year. As the building is to be erected in sections it will be possible to go ahead with it immediately, and budget finances for its completion at next year's budget time, Burket explained.

Burbank China Plant Expands

BURBANK, Sept. 30.—Work began today at the Empire China Company plant on San Fernando Boulevard and Empire avenue on an expansion program that is intended to double the capacity of the factory. It is estimated that the enlargement will increase the yearly output of the plant to about $1,800,000, according to V. L. Boeck, general manager. The plant manufactures various sorts of pottery. The new building will house what is designated as a tunnel kiln to be 330 feet long. In addition to this a new decorating kiln also is being erected. The factory is one of the outstanding industries here. The plant, very much behind in orders, is turning out more products than it has for the last two years or more.

FILM FOLK ASKING FOR RECEIVER

Court Intervention Urged in Affairs of La Jolla Shores Corporation

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—Appointment of a receiver for the La Jolla Shores Corporation was demanded today by seven prominent motion-picture stars and directors before Superior Judge C. N. Andrews. The complaint, which was filed the 11th inst. by Alarik Soderbury, Howard Grace, Trixie Friganza, H. V. Tischauser, J. E. McCormick, Mildred O'Brien and Frank Floyd charges the La Jolla Shores Company with violation of the State trustee appointment act and the State Corporate Securities Act. The complaint also names the Union Trust Company, Hugh Evans Company, Evans Lee Company, Block No. 14 Syndicate, and six other corporations whose names are being withheld, as codefendants with the La Jolla Shores Company. The plaintiffs assert that in February, 1926, they gave the Hugh Evans Development Company $140,000 for purchase of property now known as La Jolla Shores. The development company secured the property from George Rose for $300,000 and paid $50,000 down with five notes, the suit recites. According to the agreement the Evans company was to act as trustee for the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs also assert that the name of the development company was changed several times and that in June, 1930, they were notified that $42,000 in assessments was due and if not paid they would lose their interest in La Jolla Shores Company. They also declare that the Hugh Evans Company is in default on taxes over a period of years.

The movie colony group asks that the court name them owners in fee of the property, that the court appoint a receiver for the property, and require the development company to account for all expenditures and income since 1926. The complaint states that the Hugh Evans Company has made more than $1,000,000 profit from this subdivision and has not paid for street and other improvements on the property.

FINDING OF BROTHER STOPS SUICIDE PLAN

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 29.—Concepcion Martinez, residing near San Francisco, gave up the intention to end his life after meeting his brother, who came to the City Jail to take charge of the man Saturday night. Martinez came here Friday morning, informing Chief of Police Will Hultquist that some one intended to sell his property in the north and that officers were seeking his whereabouts to serve papers on him. The Chief told him to return to his home. However, he stayed in the vicinity of the City Hall for several hours and late in the afternoon threw himself in front of two automobiles, within less than a minute, but both machines were stopped before they struck the man. He was placed in jail for the night, and Saturday afternoon the police were driving to the Sheriff's substation on Florence avenue with Martinez as their passenger when he pointed out a house, stating his brother lived there. This proved to be correct. The man was then turned over to the brother, who stated that he would send the man on his way home Sunday morning, which he did.

NEW SCHOOL ANNEX NEARS COMPLETION

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29. The new $90,000 annex that is being constructed at the North Hollywood High School is nearing completion and will be occupied as soon as it is equipped with furniture and heating apparatus. The addition will contain twenty rooms. Notwithstanding the North Hollywood High School was erected only about two years ago and estimated to be sufficient for enrollment increase for five years, a year ago it was found necessary to build the annex, so fast has this section grown in population within recent months.

PERSISTENCE IN SUICIDE SUCCEEDS

Rifle's Broken Ejector Necessitates Prying Out Shells Between Shots

LONG BEACH, Sept. 29.—A man subsequently identified as John Fitzmorris, 24 years of age, of 240 Western avenue, this city, showed an unusual determination to end his life. The body was found pierced by four small-caliber bullets, according to local police. Identification was made tonight by his mother, Mrs. A. E. Fitzmorris of the same address.

Using a single-shot .22-caliber rifle with a broken ejector, the suicide victim removed three of the discharged shells with pliers found beside the body. Three of the bullets lodged in his chest and one in the throat.

The body was discovered in the flood-control channel in Los Cerritos this noon by Max Dyer of Los Angeles, an employee of Oil Operators, Inc.

No identification was found on the body. The victim was dressed in working clothes. He was about 30 years of age and 5 feet 8 inches in height. The body is at the Hudden & Bonwell mortuary.

Charges Made in Fight Over Light Standards

PASADENA, Sept. 29.—Charges that Marbelite ornamental lighting standards are being damaged maliciously by persons seeking to prejudice taxpayers against further installations, were made today by Howard C. Vose, local representative of the Marbelite Corporation.

The Marbelite concern recently indicated it would bring suit against the city to force the municipality to accept lighting standards installed on North Lake avenue which City Engineer George K. Hooper held did not meet specifications.

Detectives were ordered today to attempt to discover the identities of some one who has damaged several of the standards, apparently by striking them with a hammer.

Detective Lieutenants Henry Collins and William Cropsey reported this afternoon that several posts have been damaged, "maliciously or otherwise."

They also reported that several of the posts on the west side of Lake avenue have cracks in them near the base.

STOLEN WATCH LEFT ON OWNER'S DOOR

ANAHEIM, Sept. 29.—At least half of the conscience of an unknown local thief appears to be functioning.

Some time the night of the 20th inst. the residence of Mrs. Nellie Webster was robbed, a watch and coat being taken. The matter was reported to the police, but suspicion was not definite enough to warrant arrests being made. Last night Mrs. Webster returned to her home to find the stolen watch hanging on the front door of her home. The coat still is listed as missing.

HUNTER MUST TELL HIS STORY TO JUDGE

ONTARIO, Sept. 29.—D. B. Babbs, 1341 Bon View avenue, said he is a victim of circumstances. Arrested on charge of shooting a doe in a local canyon, he declared two other hunters were shooting at the animal while he pursued a buck deer he had wounded. When officers came upon the scene they found a dead doe and a dead fawn. Babbs was ordered to tell the story to a judge in Pomona Police Court during the week.

WOMEN OF RESEDA TO OPEN NEW CLUB YEAR

RESEDA, Sept. 29. — Mrs. Raymond W. Clarke, new president of the Reseda Woman's Club, will open the new club year at the local Woman's clubhouse on October 14, next, with a program in which almost all Reseda women will take part. Most of these will be members and guests. Between now and the new year an effort will be made, according to Mrs. Clarke, to double the present membership of the club.

PUPILS BUILD COURSE

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 29. Miniature golf is interesting a number of pupils at the Pacific school and the children now have under construction an eleven-hole golf course, which will be completed within the next few days. Each grade has charge of the construction of one hole, while the safety committee has arranged to install two holes of the course. Brick walks are to be placed along the course, which is at the northeast side of the school ground. If the youngsters take sufficient interest in miniature golf, an eighteen-hole course will finally be erected.

GOOD CHARGES SAID OUTLAWED

Legal Adviser of San Diego Supervisors in Ruling

Accusations Against Head of Board Up to Grand Jury

Statute of Limitations to Be Factor in Case

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 29.—There will be no public hearing to thresh out details of charges against Dr. Charles L. Good, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, the board decided today. Instead of granting an open hearing, as petitioned for by Dr. Good's accusers, the board referred the matter to the county grand jury "for consideration at the earliest possible moment." The step was taken at suggestion of the board's legal adviser, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Earl S. Lovett.

Rumor was current at the Courthouse that the grand jury had been given all information pertaining to the charges three months ago. The grand jury had taken no action, so far as known. It was persistently rumored that the charges were finally brought direct to the board last Friday, as the only means of forcing some action by making the matter public.

Lovett said the Supervisors have no authority to consider the charges. Besides, he said, the matters complained of, beginning in 1923, are "outlawed under the statute of limitations."

"A public official cannot be removed from office for offenses committed during the official's previous term or terms," Lovett stated.

Dr. Good has been Supervisor representing the Fourth County District for sixteen years. The charges against him were made by Robert M. Burton, former partner of the Supervisor on the Good ranch adjoining the county farm at Santee, and by John A. Miller of Encanto.

Photostatic copies of an account book's pages, purporting to show the record of transactions whereby the Supervisor allegedly bought and sold to the county in violation of State law, were introduced by Burton in support of his accusations. Burton declared Dr. Good sold a quantity of hay from his ranch to the county in 1923 and made Burton his agent for collecting the county warrant, $918.55, in payment for the hay.

Redlands Man Goes to Boston

REDLANDS, Sept. 29.—C. M. Brown, Jr., left today on a trade tour of the United States and incidentally to attend the great Boston Legion convention next month. Brown is leaving a week in advance of the special Legion train in order to call on the markets en route for the Gold Banner Association, of which C. M. Brown, Sr., is manager.

Beginning at New Orleans, he will stop over at most of the important points of the South and the Middle West. At Detroit opportunity will be taken to visit the great automobile factories as well as to extoll the virtues of the Gold Banner fruits from Redlands.

At the Legion convention in Boston Brown will be one of the prominent members of the California delegation, after which he probably will swing into Canada for trade visits in the principal cities.

C. R. PRINCE CHOSEN PRINCIPAL OF SCHOOL

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 29.—Claude R. Prince has been appointed principal of the Malabar school and began his duties this morning. He takes the place made vacant by the death of Mrs. Helene L. Hand, who had been principal of the school during the school year of 1929-30. Mrs. Hand had been re-engaged as principal for this school year but died a few days before the school year started. Prince had been superintendent of schools at Calipatria and had also been a principal at one of the schools in Anaheim.

ELKS AT BURBANK PLAN DEDICATION

BURBANK, Sept. 29.—Friday, October 10, next, formally has been chosen for the laying of the corner-stone of the Burbank Elks' Building now in course of construction on Palm avenue near San Fernando Boulevard, it was announced here today by Elks' officials. The event is to be made more than a usual affair, with Elk notables in the State and from San Fernando Valley, Los Angeles and Hollywood participating in the program that is being arranged.

VENTURA EXHIBITION READY

Featured by Gala Parade, Seventeenth Annual Fair to Open Wednesday for Five Days

VENTURA, Sept. 29.—Featured by a gala parade headed by James Rolph, Jr., San Francisco Mayor and Republican nominee for Governor, the seventeenth annual Ventura County Fair is slated to make its official bow here Wednesday morning. Five days packed with thrills, entertainment and rejoicing, are scheduled for the residents of the county and visitors as they throng to Seaside Park, the scene of the annual exposition.

Exhibitors already are hard at work moving their showings into booths, and at present the grounds are a center of activity which promises to produce the best fair in its seventeen years of existence.

Tents all are up and entries are pouring in almost faster than the clerks can take care of them, according to W. W. Bristol, general secretary for the fair.

Oiling machines have just finished laying the dust on the roads through the grounds at Seaside Park, so spectators this year will not be harassed by dust.

In addition to being opening day, Wednesday also is rotary day, and Rotarians throughout the county will be present and take part in the ceremonies.

Introducing Mayor Rolph will be Adolfo Camarillo, president of the fair association.

The community band, under the direction of George Wright, will appear each afternoon in a concert in the grand stand, while horse racing, fancy riding and all manner of stunts will keep spectators busy watching.

AGED ART LOVER PASSES

Last Rites Today for Joseph Edward Tilt Will Be Followed by Interment in Chicago

PASADENA, Sept. 29.—Funeral services for Joseph Edward Tilt, 87-year-old art patron, who died last night at his home, 455 Bradford street, will be held at 3:45 p.m. tomorrow in the Turner & Stevens Company chapel, Marengo avenue at Holly street. Burial will take place in Chicago.

Tilt built up a fortune in the shoe business and as the result of wise real-estate investments in Chicago.

He came to this city about fifteen years ago and immediately became a leader of the local art colony. He was one of the original donors of Carmelita Park, site of the Pasadena Art Institute.

Two years ago he opened the Tilt Art Galleries in a building which he erected at 940 East Green street.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Stella B. Tilt, he leaves two sons, Ned B. Tilt of this city, and Charles Arthur Tilt of Chicago; four daughters, Mrs. William McKay of Pasadena; Mrs. Ernest A. Bryant, Jr., of Los Angeles; Mrs. Joseph W. Moulding, and Mrs. Herman Borchardt, both of Chicago, and three brothers, David Tilt of Fontana, William Tilt of Santa Monica, and Frederick Tilt of Willamette, Ill.

Woodduck's Return

The woodduck, once to be found in almost every part of ths country where there was water, was nearly exterminated by ruthless hunting, but under Federal protection the bird is slowly staging a comeback. Members of the American Game Protective Association assisted. Eggs were secured from localities where the depleted flocks were known to frequent and these were distributed to persons who hatched them out artificially, but the ducklings refused to feed and many were lost in this manner until the difficulty was solved by one scientist who did it by approximating the natural conditions of the woodduck. The experimenter cut a piece of sod about a foot square and two inches thick. He hollowed out a small basin in it, soaked the entire sod and placed it in the coop. In the small basin he put an inch depth of water and sprinkled the same food that the baby woodducks had refused under all other conditions. The little fellows immediately "puddled" in the miniature basin and started to picking up the food in the water. The demands of instinct had been met.

Asleep at the Steering Wheel

In Connecticut alone several drivers were killed and more than fifty were in serious accidents last year because they fell asleep at the wheel while driving motor vehicles. Inspectors of the department also report that at this time of year many fences along the highway show marks of collision.

SEA FLYERS ON WING TODAY

Coste and Bellonte Slated to Start East After Round of Entertainment Here

After three days of entertainment and sightseeing Maj. Dieudonne Coste and Lieut. Maurice Bellonte, French air heroes, today will continue their good-will tour of the United States with a scheduled start from the Municipal Airport at 7 a.m. An hour earlier, two planes, one from the Army and the other carrying representatives of the Department of Commerce, will leave the airport as an escort.

The Frenchmen will first head for San Diego, where they will circle the city, but make no landing, and continue on to Phoenix, Ariz., where they will stop for lunch. After noon the flyers will take off for El Paso, where they expect to arrive at 5 p.m.

Accompanied by Henri Didot, French Consul, and a group of American aviation officers and their own staff, the flyers yesterday were guests at several motion-picture studios. At noon they were entertained at luncheon at the Universal studios, when an especial menu featuring items of "contact soup," "combustible principal au point d'interrogation" and "extrait de carbone Francais" was served.

Later the visitors were escorted through the several departments of the studio, visited several stages and posed for sound pictures.

In the afternoon they were the guests of the First National and Paramount studios. At the First National studio they saw a part of the filming of the French version of "The Bad Man," and at the Paramount studio Mrs. Ulysses Grant McQueen, president of the Women's Aeronautical Association, presented them with a silver-wing trophy on behalf of her organization.

PRIZE PRESENTATION TO FLYERS DEFERRED

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. (AP)—Col. W. E. Easterwood, Jr., Dallas (Tex.) banker, announced today the presentation of the $25,000 prize to Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte for their Paris-Dallas flight has been postponed to October 17.

He said the flyers telegraphed him from Los Angeles saying they will end their present good-will tour here October 10, but will be unavailable for the presentation until a later date.

It is believed in aviation circles that Coste and Bellonte are planning a flight of three or four days over Eastern Canada at the conclusion of their present tour.

Rites Conducted for G.M. Riddle, Veteran Officer

Funeral services were conducted yesterday at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, Forest Lawn Memorial Park, for George M. Riddle, veteran Pacific Coast police officer, who died early Saturday morning at his home, 4811 Kingswell avenue, following a long illness.

Mr. Riddle was a member of the San Francisco and Seattle police departments for many years. Coming to the Coast in 1883 from his native State, Indiana, he was a telegraph operator for the Northern Pacific in California, Oregon and Washington for several years before engaging in police work. He came to Los Angeles in 1920. Death occurred at 68 years of age.

Mr. Riddle was a member of the Masonic Order, the Odd Fellows and the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles. He leaves two sisters, Dr. Julia Riddle and Dr. Mary A. Riddle, both of Los Angeles, and one brother, Bloomfield W. Riddle of St. Paul, Minn.

CHEST APPEALS TO PROSPEROUS

Employed and Wealthy Men Must Bear Brunt

Relief of Less Fortunate Duty of Able Ones

Health, Welfare and Morale Demand Generosity

Unusual opportunity for display of peace-time patriotism is presented to possessors of wealth and to persons gainfully employed in making their contributions this year to the Community Chest, in the opinion of J. Herbert Case, president of the National Association of Community Chests and Councils and chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York City.

A communication from Mr Case was made public yesterday by J. A. H. Kerr, vice-president of the Security-First National Bank, campaign chairman of the Los Angeles Community Chest.

ONUS ON WEALTHY

"Possessors of wealth throughout the country are, during a time of unemployment such as now exists, confronted by an extraordinary obligation," the communication from Mr. Case reads. "It is an obligation which this fall and winter constitutes a test of their special vision and peace-time patriotism.

"It does not appear that a large number of great fortunes have been seriously disturbed during the recent depression, nor have the larger operators in various lines of business, industry and finance suffered to the point of personal discomfort. The desperate pinch has been felt by those in the intermediate realm and by the salaried and wage-earning groups. I do not mean in any sense that these latter groups should be entirely relieved of the responsibility to others.

COMMUNITY OBLIGATION

"The financing of our necessary welfare service is now, as always, a community obligation to be shared proportionately, but those who possess large means must recognize that a considerable portion of the burden this year is theirs.

"Under no circumstances should they consider reducing their usual contributions. They should not give merely in good fellowship or for purposes of public policy or to maintain a precedent.

"They should give for the preservation of public health, of public welfare and of public morale, and with the same thoughtfulness and acumen that an individual or company must exercise in making appropriations to meet a business emergency."

New Opinion Revives Julian Damage Suit

Reversing a decision which it handed down March 5, last, Division Two, District Court of Appeals, in an opinion just handed down opens the way for Garland P. Fallis and Nellie E. Hamilton to carry on their fight for $67,500 in damages against the Julian Petroleum Corporation and the Courtney Petroleum Company for asserted breach of an oil-lease contract.

Fallis and his coappellant, by a contract dated February 26, 1925, leased to the Courtney company for five years real property in the Athens oil field on which the latter agreed to drill to 5200 feet. It was set forth that the Courtney company drilled to 4158 feet, after which it delivered possession to the Julian company. The Julian concern drilled to 4162 feet.

Testimony of Plaintiff Ends in Stock Case

Mrs. Thomas E. Merrill, Beverly Hills matron who filed grand-theft charges against J. B. Fewkes, stock salesman, yesterday concluded her testimony in Superior Judge Fricke's court where Fewkes is on trial. After she left the witness stand Wilbert E. Finch, an attorney, was called to corroborate certain parts of her testimony concerning Fewkes's asserted failure to deliver stock purchased by the woman.

Mrs. Merrill charges that she gave Fewkes $6500 to invest in stock, but that she never received the stock and the money was not refunded.

VETERANS PLAN BANQUET

The battle at Balny Ridge in the Argonne will be commemorated by the Southern California Sector of the First Division Society, A.E.F., at a banquet and entertainment Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the new Mona Lisa Cafe, 3343 Wilshire Boulevard. Plans for a cross-country motor caravan to the national convention at Washington, October 23, next, will be discussed.

CITY URGED TO ASSIST COMPOSERS

Gamut Club Favors Use of New Greek Theater as Aid to American Music

A recommendation from the Gamut Club of 233 South Broadway that the Griffith Park Greek Theater be utilized for the development of American talent in music, plays and stage compositions, was referred by the park board yesterday to a special committee composed of Commissioners Socha, Griffith and Swanfeldt. This committee is receiving all suggestions in regard to the theater, and shortly is to make a decision on its management.

The Gamut Club letter, indorsed by the committee on American music, consisting of Dr. Charles C. Draa, and Charles F. Edson, follows:

"Realizing what a great asset the city has acquired in the magnificent gift of the Griffith Park Greek Theater, the Gamut Club respectfully suggests that it be dedicated to the development of the American choral works, American drama, America grand and light opera, American pageantry and that a municipal band be organized to play American compositions as an encouragement to the American composer who now is given little opportunity to have a hearing."

Leniency Shown Boy Accused of Threat to Lyon

Another dream of motion-picture fame collapsed in Superior Judge Blake's court yesterday when Vincent McEaney, 17-year-old Brooklyn youth, received a suspended sentence to the Preston School of Industry at Ione. The sentence was suspended on condition that his relatives in the East send him transportation to return home at once and keep him out of future trouble.

The youth leaped into notoriety in Hollywood two weeks ago when he was arrested at the gates of the Warner Brothers' studio after he had confided to a newsboy that he had come from New York City to "get Ben Lyon," motion-picture actor. He later said he hoped to get work in a studio by this unusual means.

When the youth was arrested the officers found a revolver in his possession. Lyon declined to file a complaint against McEaney but the arresting officers charged him with carrying a concealed weapon. The youth had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Cafe Burglary Laid to Waiter

Burglary of the Pacific Electric Cafe, 118 East Sixth street, from which $2600 was stolen Saturday night was confessed by Thomas Campbell, a waiter, yesterday, according to police, following his arrest on suspicion.

Campbell, 26 years of age, was taken into custody at his home, 768 South Coronado street, by Detective Lieutenants Burris and Beeson. They say Campbell signed a confession in which he admits entering the restaurant after closing hours and taking the money from a secret compartment in which it had been placed by John Rivar, proprietor. A satchel found in Campbell's room, according to the detectives, contained all but $75 of the stolen funds.

Argument Ends in Weyant Case

Closing arguments at the trial of Luther Weyant, Los Angeles police officer charged with the murder of William Teems, 17-year-old Negro youth, were heard in Superior Judge Aggeler's court just before adjournment last night. The case will be given to the jury this morning after the jury has received its instructions on points of law.

Weyant is charged with needlessly shooting down young Teems when he was fleeing from arrest on a misdemeanor charge on August 2, last. Officers assert they had just raided a dice game and when Teems fled Weyant fired at the ground to frighten the youth, but the bullet glanced from a rock, killing him instantly.

WARSHIPS WILL BE BOMBED

Navy Planes Will Hurl Explosives at Anchored Destroyers in Test of Efficiency

Amid detonations of aerial bombs and torpedoes the destroyers Sloat and Marcus will be consigned to deep-sea graves off Los Coronados Islands next week under a bombing schedule announced yesterday by Rear-Admiral Joseph Reeves, commanding the battle fleet aircraft squadrons.

The two decommissioned fighters, which a year ago were crack units of Destroyer Squadron Twelve, will be anchored in twenty-seven fathoms of water ten miles south of Point Loma. Squadrons of the Navy's latest heavy bombers and torpedo planes will launch attacks at the two hulks from varying heights and angles in an effort to determine efficiency of the air squadron's new developments in aerial projectiles and tactics employed. Examination will be made daily of the damage inflicted until both ships are sunk.

Plans are being completed for refitting the decommissioned destroyer Stoddert as a radio-controlled target for the broadside batteries of battle fleet dreadnaughts as well as the machine guns and small demolition bombs of the fleet air squadrons.

Officers and men of the battleship Maryland yesterday were gratified to learn that the ship's gunners again captured first place in short-range battle practice in the battleship class as a result of the ship's general excellence in the exercise fired last week. Second honors were taken by the U.S.S. West Virginia, with the U.S.S. Nevada third, the U.S.S Mississippi fourth and the U.S.S. Tennessee fifth. The coveted Spokane trophy, awarded annually for the highest merit attained with main batteries, was won by the 16-inch gun crews of the West Virginia.
